The fire bell rang at 1:30 yesterday afternoon, an alarm having been turned in from box 6. The cause was the burning of a box in which had been coal oil cases, between the Parker house and the premises formerly occupied by Max Wagner. Ones got there in excellent time, and had water been necessary, would have been on deck for continued action. Fwos, who don't seem to have very good luck in getting to fires lately, had trouble with the dancing dappled greys, a singletree breaking as the horses went out the door. Finally the boys took hold and brought the Silsby down in the good old fashioned way. The fire was put out with very little damage.

A Long and Stormy Voyage.

Yesterday the British bark Balaklana entered port after a voyage of 439 days from London, England. As Valparaiso, the last port at which she touched, has been declared infected, she will remain in quarantine for the time being.

The schooner left Port Townsend last Thursday, reached Cape Flattery Saturday, and the crew fished until Monday noon, a day and a half. In this short time they had made a catch of twenty tons. It was the intention of Capt. Jacobs, the owner of the schooner, to have her proceed to Alaska to capture seals, but this brilliant achievement has changed his mind, and the schooner will remain in the fishing business, with Seattle as her shipping center, as long as it is profitable.

Remarkable Catch of Halibut. Captain Calder, commanding the fishing schooner Mollie Adams, arrived in Seattle Wednesday evening from Flattery banks, with 40,000 pounds of halibut. Some of these halibut weighed 150 pounds.

Latest Caper in Limb Gear. Pretty hosiery and dainty shoes are now of prime importance. Low shoes, for the street, are frequently supplemented with cloth gaiters, corresponding with the costume; and for home wear, the low-cut slipper in black or bronze, has never yet found a rival.

On Tuesday evening, Old Eliza, relief of the old Indian chief Quinaby, returned to this city, the home of her fathers, after a two years' absence at the reservation at Grand Ronde.

Mrs. Quinaby is now upwards of 80 years of age, it is said, and she tells a pitiful tale of her condition. She says she arrived late Tuesday night, "clatawa camp, halo fire, halo muckmuck, nika bias tickle muckmuck, halo; chako sleep; next day sun, halo muckmuck chaco, nika elatawa nangee Boston tillium, potlach hiya yaqda sun muckmuck," pointing to the east. Copa reservation, halo flour, halo muckmuck, chako Salem, nangee Boston tillium, sponse maybe potlach muckmuck copa nika." All of which means that old Eliza has a hard time of it.

Reducing the Surplus. The disposition of the Surplus in the U. S. Treasury engages the attention of our Statesmen, but a more vital question has our attention, and that is the reduction of the Surplus Consumptives. Since the discovery and introduction of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, there has been a marked decrease in the mortality from this dreaded disease, and it is possible to still further reduce the number of Consumptives.

Found. A boat was found near Sand Island yesterday morning. Length 11 feet and 3 feet wide. The owner can have the same by enquiring at Leinenweber's cannery.

WILL PROBABLY REST THIS YEAR.

It is not probable that Astoria will send any team to the tournament of the northwestern firemen's association this year. The Astoria fire department will send six delegates to the convention, which will be held on July 2 and 3, but there will be no competing teams from Astoria in the tournament of '88.

For this, there are several reasons. First and foremost, the Astoria department is surfeited with success. It has carried off the honors again and again, and if it went this year it would only be an attempt to beat its own record.

Second, a good many of the team whose names are inscribed on the rolls of firemen's fame, are scattered; they will be here next fall and winter, but their present postoffice addresses will mostly be found in Alaska. To make up a team now would require more effort than circumstances seem to demand.

Third, the matter seems to be no longer so much of an active pleasure, as a perfunctory duty. The boys have made six splendid consecutive annual records and while they are not exactly tired, the whole business isn't so much of a novelty as it was in '83, '84, '85 and '86.

Fourth, for the last two years it hasn't been so much a matter of superiority as of strategy. The Astoria boys have had to play twice for the same money; have had to win the races by most extraordinary training, by superior skill, wind, endurance and staying qualities and then work hard to keep from being jockeyed out of the honors—as for the money they've never cared much, as they've always spent more on the tournament twice over, than they've got out of it.

So, that this year, the Astoria boys will go as friendly observers and not competitors for prizes that will doubtless be worthily won by visiting teams.

An Explanation.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown,—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Billiousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Billious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Fulton start east to-morrow night, and will visit the Chicago convention while the Republican national convention is in session.

City Life and Mystery.

New York has recently had an unusual outburst of social horrors, including the Nat Hatch casualty and the Marsden suicide, with other revelations of less fearful character. Great cities, however like the ocean conceal their perils beneath an attractive surface. No one knows what is going on here, even in their closest circles of acquaintance. Mystery, indeed, is the great feature of the metropolis, and the intense desire to penetrate these mysteries has led to another monstrosity of city life—the detective system. What man can say he is not watched? Only that class, indeed which is protected by its poverty.

Rich men of dissolute habits, when discovered in a compromising situation will generally bleed rather than be exposed. Even clerks holding responsible situations are watched occasionally, and also blackmailed—though, of course, in a more limited degree. One of my friends, who holds a cashiership in a great house, made the following statement: "A man came one day and said to me: 'You were seen last night coming out of—' I replied, 'That's false, and I dare you to prove it.'" Here the colloquy ended. Perhaps the detective saw some one that resembled my friend, and perhaps he only intended to scare him, but in either case he failed, being cowed by the bravery of self-conscious innocence.—New York Corr. Troy Times.

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show comparatively that more persons die from diseases of the Throat and Lungs than any other. It is probable that every one, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing Consumption and to the head, causing Catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness, allowing a cold to go without your attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your Throat, Lungs or Nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

A Left-Handed Fable, After Esop, but Not Warranted to Catch Up.

Two cats, having stolen a piece of cheese, asked a monkey to divide it for them. The latter broke it in two parts, and under pretense of equalizing them, gnawed at them alternately until nothing was left but the rind, which, with gravity, he returned. The cats, who had been for sometime stifling their glee, now departed, wishing the monkey a good digestion to wait upon his appetite, inasmuch as the cheese had been intended for rats, and was plentifully supplied with arsenic. On hearing this, the monkey expired in great agony. This teaches the folly of indulging in cheese, without first ascertaining whether or not it is loaded.
