People who wonder where house flies come from may be interested in knowing that they are to be met with on the plains 200 miles from any house, and that they buzz around the highest peaks of the Andes as elsewhere. They have been known since the days of Adam and Eve and they propose to stick right by and see the show out.

About a thousand people gathered on Chenamus street yesterday afternoon to see a man perform on a tight rope stretched from Flavel's building to Hawes building. He walked the rope with ease, carried his "brother" stood on his head, and worked the crowd for coin at intervals. He did all he promised to do and gave a good entertainment.

A brand new invention for gathering the nickels is on exhibition in Boston. You drop a 5-cent piece into the slot and the machine bets $500 that you will live twenty-four hours longer, and a smaller sum that you will not be injured by accident during that time. In other words, the machine presents you with an accident policy of $500 good for twenty-four hours. It ought to prove a boon for base-ball umpires.

This afternoon Miss Kate A. Gibbs of Portland, will open her studio in this city in the parlors of the M. E. church. She will have on exhibition a large number of oil paintings, in landscape and flowers; also decorative work. While the crowd was waiting yesterday afternoon to see "the world renowned Davison brothers" perform upon the slack wire, tight rope, some one on the north side of the street raised a yell, and in a minute 655 men and boys had bolted in the gate and the word went round that two boys had fallen from the roof and were drowned. After a good deal of regret had been expressed, it was found that the rumpus was occasioned by a dog which had caught sight of a rat and nabbed it, to the great delight of the small boy.

estimated value of the assets, of $1,310,586.34. The firm state that it will be some time yet, in the complicated condition of affairs, before they can offer a proposition in view of settlement to their creditors.

During the month of June the highest temperature was 75° on the 9th; the lowest 50°, on the same date. The mean temperature of the month was 58.9°. During the month 2,843 miles of wind blew by. The prevailing direction was southwest. The highest velocity attained was 34 miles. During the month the rainfall was 7.23 inches. This was very unusual. The rainfall for June '87, was .63 of an inch; for June '86, 2.05 inches; '85, 2.78; '84, 2.04. The month was the wettest of any June in the history of the state.

A statement has been prepared by the commissioner of the general land office which shows the compensation offered at each of the different land offices throughout the country, by the registers and receivers thereof during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1887. By this statement it is shown that the total compensation paid to land registers and receivers in Oregon aggregate $29,480.10. At the following offices, La Grande, Las Cruces, Oregon City and The Dalles, compensation was in excess $6,000. At Roseburg it was $5,886.10. At four offices in Washington territory, namely, North Yakima, Olympia, Spokane Falls and Walla Walla, the compensation was just $6,000 in each case, and at Vancouver it was $5,037.33, aggregating in the whole territory $27,037.36.

Few people are aware, says an exchange, that the proud boast that the sun never sets on the British empire is equally applicable to the United States. Instead of being the western limit of the Union, San Francisco is only about midway between the farthest Aleutian Isle, acquired by our purchase of Alaska, and Eastport, Me. Our territory extends through 197° of longitude, or 17 more than half way round the globe. When the sun is giving its final gleam to our westernmost isle, on the confines of Behring's sea, it is already flooding the fields and forests of Maine with its morning light, and in the eastern part of the state is more than an hour high. At the very moment when the Aleutian fisherman, warned by the approaching shades of night, is pulling his canoe towards the shore, the wood-chopper of Maine is beginning to make the forest echo with the sound of his ax.

Some ingenious persons have given a meaning to the location of postage stamps on a letter. For example, they say that when a stamp is inverted on the right-hand upper corner it means that the person written to is to write no more. If the stamp be placed on the left-hand upper corner and inverted, then the writer declares his affection for the receiver of the letter. When the stamp is in the center of the top it signifies an affirmative answer to a question, or the question, as the case may be; and when it is at the bottom, or opposite this, it is a negative. Should the stamp be on the right-hand corner, at a right angle, it asks the question if the receiver of the letter loves the sender, while in the left-hand corner it means that the writer hates the other. There is a shade of difference between desiring one's acquaintance and friendship, for example: the stamp at the upper corner on the right expresses the former, and on the lower left-hand corner means the latter. The learned in this language request their correspondents to accept their love by placing the stamp on a line with the surname, and the response is made, if the party addressed be engaged, by placing the stamp in the same place, but reversing it. The writer may wish to say farewell to his sweetheart, or vice versa, and does so by placing the stamp straight up and down in the left-hand corner. And so on to the end of the chapter.

This troupe gave a good performance at Ross' opera house last evening; good all through, every act and feature being well done. The voices are sweet and musical, there are no broad gags, the dancing is graceful and the fun is genuine. The one feature of the acrobats is alone worth the price of admission. No better tumblers ever appeared in Astoria. There will be another performance with change of programme this evening. The company's uniform which went by mistake from Tacoma to Portland will arrive to-day, and the entire company, in full uniform will give a parade, concert and drill in front of No. 2's at 5 sharp this evening. To-night a farewell performance at the opera house.

The Fourth at Mishawaka.

MISHAWAKA, July 5th. I will tell you how we celebrated the Fourth. There were about sixty-five gathered at the school house, and as our entertainments are scarce out here and the Fourth of July only comes once a year, every one went with the intention of enjoying themselves and trying to have fun enough to last through any harvest, and I think they succeeded.

About eleven o'clock the school children, under the teacher, Miss Sophia Gronnell, formed outside and marched into the school house, where their songs, declamations and dialogues were rendered. Some of the others read essays. The Declaration of Independence was read, a few remarks were made by W. A. Wherry (some of the babies cried with a good share of patriotism when the declaration was being read).

We all went out to a grove where a table had been prepared, and it seemed that the ladies were vieing with each other to see who could furnish the most victuals and who made the best pies and cake, and who would succeed in getting their supply diminished first. You may bet some of us done good service when it came to that; and if every one did not get enough to eat it was because they were afraid of a shower of rain.

After dinner we all amused ourselves with swinging and croquet and other games, and drinking lemonade. We did not have anything stronger visible. After a pleasant dancing party and some fireworks in the evening, we all went home wishing the Fourth come oftener.

Election Wagers.

Betting has begun. It is never too early or too late to wager on politics. It will be seven months before the electoral count by congress next February will finally decide the result of the pending presidential contest. But for all that a great deal of money has been put up to be idle during that period. Of course there is no argument in a wager, but there is excitement in it. It is a good way to express one's confidence and there is the chance for gain, hence a resort to it in every conceivable form, from church fair to horse race and from strawberry festival to pooling booth. However, I hear that representative Woodburn of Nevada is on the rampage and offers to bet a thousand dollars on each state that California, Nevada and Oregon will go Republican next November. I also hear that senator Bowen has an opinion that he is ready to back up with $10,000. I understand he will select ten northern states including Connecticut, New Jersey and New York, and place a thousand dollars on each one of them with an additional one thousand on the general result. As a matter of course he is a Harrison man and on the other hand Dockery is ready to make large sums of money talk for the Democracy, and so it goes.—Washington Special.

At Ross' Opera House To-night.

The Hicks-Sawyer Colored Minstrels made a very attractive display on the streets yesterday and from the pleased expression of those who witnessed the performance, they must have made a good display there also. They give a very nice entertainment, their singing being especially good, while their dancing, fancy military drills and funny business are equal to anything of the kind ever seen here. For some reason there seems to be a special charm about their work which is not possessed by white minstrels. Already there is a large advance sale for the week. Last night the house was packed.—Pittsburg Dispatch, Sept. 13.

An Explanation.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown,—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word is not only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous.

Lost. On Monday, July 2d, a ten dollar gold piece. Finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving the same at this office.

When You Go to Portland Frank Fabre, Occidental hotel restaurant, will be glad to see his Astoria friends. A good dinner at a moderate price and everything in season.

Every Night I Scratched

Until the Skin was Raw. Body Covered with Scales like Spots of Mortar. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary cure your Cuticura Remedies performed on me. About the 1st of April last I noticed some red pimples like coming out all over my body, but thought of nothing of it until some time later, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers, accompanied with itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales, being formed meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your CUTICURA Remedies, and purchased them from my druggist, and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared, one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the CUTICURA Remedies, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eczema and psoriasis. I recommended the CUTICURA Remedies to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babies with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I want to express in words the thanks to you for what the CUTICURA Remedies have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and was a real awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

Geo. Cotey, Merrill, Wis. Sept. 21, 1887.

Feb. 7, 1888.—Not a trace whatsoever of the disease from which I suffered has shown itself since my cure. Geo. Cotey.

Catarrhal Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of subvention while lying down: to breathe fresh, deep, sound and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immediately from such a safe should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians' prescriptions of doubtful cure.
