 THE ASTORIAN guarantees to its advertisers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia river.

Good picnic weather.
 If you don't see what you want ask for it.

One hundred and sixteen in the shade—in Omaha, Nebraska.

"Big run of salmon" is what the up river canneries reported yesterday evening.

Well, for the land's sake! What next! Counterfeit nickels are in circulation!

Last Sunday's News was a big one—twenty pages, full of pictures and short articles on Portland.

Geo. T. Myers is building a salmon cannery at Seattle, which, when completed, will be largest on the sound.

Griffin & Reed have an organ that they claim can't be beat for quality, tone and value, for the price—$100.

The traditional July run of salmon showed up in great shape yesterday, the salmon coming in in great numbers.

The Clatsop road and construction company call for bids for building 1,100 feet roadway near Smith's Point.

The Clatsop ferry is running again. The boat has been about rebuilt, and will make regular trips across Young's bay.

Messrs. Jordan and Lacey appeared before justice yesterday for till tapping, and were each given ten days in the county jail.

P. J. McGowan's sons have bought Sam'l Benn's cannery at Aberdeen, paying him $5,000 therefor. They will run it next fall.

This size and style six times a week; fifteen cents; at your door; if you ask the carrier he will come in and read it for you before you get up.

The Gen. Miles leaves for Gray's harbor at 8 o'clock this morning. She goes to Shoalwater bay on Thursday and to Tillamook next Sunday.

The office of the Astoria Building and Loan Association has been removed to Robb & Parker's new office formerly occupied by J. O. Bozorth.

A burning tar barrel in the second ward caused an alarm that sent the entire department whirling out Squemoqua street, yesterday at 10:14 A. M.

Two's grays were out of the door like a flash on the fourth stroke of the alarm yesterday morning. Nothing like knowing about these things. The new driver is a rustler.

A party of Astorians comprising eight in number have chartered Curran & Nelson's launch, the Occident, and will take a trip to Fort Stevens, the jetty, etc., to-morrow morning.

A Gray's river correspondent wants to know what city it is of over 200,000 inhabitants in which not a single vote will be cast for Cleveland or Harrison next November. Washington, D. C.

The Portland World will be run by the sheriff of Multnomah county after next Saturday. The good die Young, but they whose hearts are dry as summer's dust, burn to the socket. See et tu nm.

A series of personal experiments conducted in the interests of science, proves that the Astoria fly doesn't care for tobacco smoke. He will dash through a cloud of it and bite regardless of nicotine.

The Daily Enterprise of Seattle, a new morning newspaper, comes for an exchange; an eight column folio, neatly gotten up, newsy but not noisy, straight Democratic, talking Seattle and capable of further growth.

No. 1 Vol. I of the Stars and Bars, published at Lewiston, Idaho, is received. The Stars and Bars used to be heard from away down south in Dixie, till the Stars and Stripes sneaked them several years ago.

Steamboat competition on the Columbia river has got down pretty fine, when a brand new and finely appointed boat like the favorite Telephone can be secured for a picnic excursion all day, for the insignificant sum of $25.

The American ship Jas. Drummond has 37,342 bns. wheat and 2,810 bbls. of flour aboard, and will take about 24,000 cases of salmon to Liverpool. This will probably be the only salmon shipped, foreign direct, from Astoria this summer.

The Dolphin brings 150 tons of Black Diamond coal from Seattle for the L. S. N. Co., or the L. R. N. Co., as it will be called after the 6th of next month. Jacob Kamm talks of putting the Dolphin on between Seattle and Alaska ports.

There was a large crowd down from Portland and the interior Sunday and yesterday. This kind of weather makes 'em long for the cool healing of the sea, the sight of the surf, and the sound of the tramping of the waves upon the sand.

From Sunday, the 15th, grouse, quail, pheasants and partridges may be killed in this state. Male deer can be killed, but does are protected till August 1st, also elk and moose. Swan and wild ducks are protected till September 1st.

The latest in steamboat circles is that the O. R. & N. Co. is about to dispense with the services of the pilots on the San Francisco steamers, and hereafter the captains of the several vessels will be assigned the duties hitherto performed by the pilots.

A writer in the Illustrated Pacific States says California is the only state on this coast that can raise prunes. This is a mistake. Good prunes are raised in Clatsop county, and the finest kind of prunes are raised in the Willamette valley.

The Bancroft company has sent THE ASTORIAN a handsome guide book of San Francisco. With this map in one pocket and about $315 in another pocket, there is no reason why one enjoying average health shouldn't have a good time for a week or so.

Cleveland and Harrison hats have made their appearance, and are being worn numerously. White elects and black rejects; be careful how you vote. Have all the brethren voted? Look out for the band on the hat. 'Tis wise man that knows the politics of his hat.

And now the Salem doctors have got into a fight, and are saying all sorts of mean things about each other, in and out of the newspapers. To those who know how doctors usually stand up for each other, and neverwhatever say or impute the least unworthiness each of the other, this will be surprising.

An exchange avers that home without a newspaper is a place where old hats are stuffed in window panes, his wife goes in a shabby dress to church, while her husband comes out of a saloon with a red nose. He can afford to pay for grog and for tobacco, but a newspaper, which costs him fifteen cents a week, would break him up.

While playing base ball at Skipanon last Sunday afternoon A. V. R. Snyder, of the Transcript, sustained a painful accident. While rushing homeward from the third base he slipped and slid under the falling form of the guardian of that plate, doubling up and sustaining a weight of 189 pounds on the back of his neck.

The Portland board of school directors have fired out the principal of the high school and the city school superintendent, and hired a woman—Miss Ella Sabine—to attempt the impossible task of properly filling both positions at the tempting salary of $3,000. Of course she has accepted it. She is competent to fill either position but can't tend to both.

An exchange well says that it will pay for the trouble it costs you to file your home paper. No volume in your library will afford you more pleasure, more profit, more lasting benefit for investment. It gives dates of local events, which you cannot obtain elsewhere, marriages, obituaries, legal notices, etc. In short, your paper is a history of the world you and your friends occupy.

Thirty-six years ago says the Wellcome, Hon. P. A. Marquam, then a practicing attorney and poor, loaned general S. Coffin $500, and in order to secure the payment took a mortgage on block No. 173, lying opposite the public school block, now Willard hotel ruins. When the mortgage became due Coffin could not pay it and Judge Marquam was forced to take the block in payment. The property is now worth $100,000.

State fish commissioner R. C. Campbell, who has just returned from the Dalles, tells the Oregonian that many of the fish which on the Columbia closed down on account of low water, while those which are running are catching but few fish. Mr. Campbell says that within three weeks the salmon hatchery on the Clackamas will begin receiving eggs. It is expected to hatch 10,000,000 fish between August and January.

There is considerable discussion about who shall be employed as principal of the Court street school, and several distinguished and extinguished educators are spoken of. The directors still have the matter in abeyance. Two things are plain as to this and all other schools. As the teacher is, so is the school, and to neglect the primary demands for the frills is to neglect the main purpose for which people pay taxes to maintain a school.

The person who furnishes items to a newspaper is always appreciated. Many persons hesitate about sending personal notes to a newspaper regarding themselves and friends, lest the newspaper man should think them too anxious to see their names in print. He will think nothing of the kind; but on the contrary is glad of such notes. Many seemingly unimportant items are, when printed, news to a large number of readers.

The Northwest thinks it is a little strange, though perhaps in the general order of things that lieutenant Young, who is in charge of the government works at the Cascades superintending the locks, is accumulating a nice little fortune from a lieutenant's salary. His property down in Couch is estimated to be worth $25,000, and he has lately been purchasing real estate for $14,000 more. It is wonderful how far some people can make a small salary go.

The new Agricultural college building at Corvallis has been turned over to the state, and the following faculty has been chosen for the institution: Prof. Arnold, president, with a salary of $2,000; Prof. E. Grimm, professor of agriculture and the experimental station, with a salary of $1,600; Prof. J. D. Letcher, mathematics and engineering, with a salary of $1,600; Prof. Dorsch, languages, salary $1,600. The chairs of chemistry and of geology and natural science are yet to be selected.

The idiot who "thought it was a deer" is having great fun shooting companions and brothers and relatives generally. The latest of this too numerous tribe of idiots is heard from at Port Townsend, where he killed two women—sisters—who were walking through a grain field. He pulled his gun, "thought it was a deer," and blazed away. As usual he is "sorry." Probably the best thing to do with a creature like that is to make a cunuch of him. Then he'll quit thinking.

The most of the Portland press is singularly silent about the recent sudden death of a young girl in Portland on whom an abortion had been performed. This form of murder, (for murder it is,) is becoming so prevalent as to be considered common. Three girls from this city in the last three months have gone to Portland and had abortions performed by a notorious woman "physician" of that city. However shocking this plain, blunt statement may be, it is the exact truth.

Taking one consideration with another, the life of a country editor is not altogether one of unalloyed happiness. The ups and downs of such an existence are pathetically set forth in the following paragraph from the Covington (Ga.) Star: "Our editor will take in the press convention at Canton this week, and probably run down to Brunswick before his return. He left in fine trim, having an extra handkerchief and a little over $1.25 in hard cash. F. S. Since the above was put in type the Rev. Jacob Carr (colored) has managed to collect a 75-cent plowing bill from the editor and he will hardly have as big a time as he expected."

An East Portland woman has found a way to dispose of money with holes punched in it. She recently offered one to a merchant there, not with the shame-faced or hurried manner in which such coins are often offered, but reluctantly, asserting that it was a keepsake, and she would not part with it for any money, but would leave it providing the merchant would promise to keep it until she should call for it, which she promised to within a week. The merchant took the keepsake, delivered her goods, and gave back the necessary change for $5, and the customer departed and has not been seen since. The merchant is about fifty cents out.

The American street car or the ticket window of a railroad station or steamboat office frequently offers this unpleasant spectacle: A well dressed, and to all appearances, a well-bred woman, opens her pocket-book, picks out a piece of money, and deliberately puts it in her mouth and holds it there while she closes her purse, readjusts her glove and arranges her many packages. If some modern Smollet would lay before her eyes "The Adventures of a Dime," if she could dimly conceive of the unutterable foulness through which the coin she holds between her dainty lips has probably passed, a loathing horror would overwhelm her. But in blissful unconsciousness she caresses that which is the embodiment of all filthiness. Aside from the view of cleanliness is the question of contagion. That this nasty habit is often responsible for the spread of infectious diseases cannot be doubted.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Scothelher of San Francisco, is in the city.

Reem Kanaga left on the morning boat for Portland.

Mr. Allen B. Slauson, of the Oregonian, was in the city yesterday.

C. B. Watson says that from his residence with the aid of a good glass he can clearly see Mount Ta-Rainier.

Miss Mary Irvine, daughter of Hon. Robt. Irvine, state senator from Linn county, who has been the guest of Mrs. Mattie Freeman at Fort Stevens for the past few weeks returned home last evening.

At the Congregational Church.

A praise service of more than ordinary merit was held at the congregational church last Sunday evening, the occasion being the reopening of the church. A fine choir led by Mrs. F. C. Wheeler, rendered some beautiful selections, and Rev. G. C. Hall delivered an eloquent address. Not the least among the exercises was an exquisite recitation, "What shall we be," by the gifted Miss Edith Conn, beginning with the lines: What shall we be and whether shall we go.

When the last conflict of our life is o'er, And we return from wandering to and fro, To our dear home through heaven's eternal door.

Lost.

A child's gold chain bracelet with flat plain clasp. Suitable reward given for its return to Mrs. S. Kinmore, corner Court and Benton streets.

We have three fine organs in stock and two more will arrive in a few days. Parties contemplating purchasing either for cash or on the installment plan will find it to their advantage to call on GRIFFIN & REED.

PORTLAND SPECIALS.
 Specials To The Astorian.

PORTLAND, July 16.—The cases of Lee Toy, Lee Sing Lung and Lee Shung, charged with attempting to assassinate Chung Foo on Friday night last was called in the police court today for hearing. The bail of Lee Sing Lung was fixed at $2500, and Lee Chung at $1500. The case will be called for examination to-morrow.

AN UNFORTUNATE MAN.
 PETALUMA, July 16.—Jno. Cameron was brought home from a hunting trip last night having become sick and developed symptoms of hydrophobia. He was tied and guarded to prevent violence as his spasms were fearful at times. He stated that he was bitten by a terrier five years ago; his friends and physician pronounce the case one of hydrophobia.

WANTS DUELLING ABOLISHED.
 PARIS, July 16.—Bishop Frieppe introduced a bill into the Chamber of Deputies to-day abolishing duelling and demanding urgency for the measure. In the course of his remarks introducing the bill the Bishop referred particularly to the recent encounter between Floquet and Gen. Boulanger. The demand for urgency was regretted by the chamber.

THE VOTE ON WOOL.
 WASHINGTON, July 16.—In the house to-day at the suggestion of Mills of Texas, it was urged that a vote should be taken on the free wool clause of the tariff bill at one o'clock to-day.

WON'T STRIKE IT OFF.
 WASHINGTON, July 16.—The committee of the whole refused by a vote of 102 to 120 to strike wool from the free list.

BADLY HURT.
 PORTLAND, July 16.—This morning Andrew Cavanaugh for many years a truckman, and his wife were driving out to their ranch on Johnsons creek. In the vicinity of the school house No. 2 Powell's valley, the horse took fright and precipitated the buggy containing Mr. and Mrs. Cavanaugh over a high embankment. Mr. Cavanaugh had his collar bone, shoulder blade and four ribs broken, and it is supposed that he has also sustained internal injury. Mrs. Cavanaugh had her face, breast and shoulders badly hurt.

SERVED HIM RIGHT.
 PORTLAND, July 16.—Judge Stearns to-day sentenced Frank Hoyt a most notorious hoodlum and young tough, to the penitentiary for six months, for assault with a dangerous weapon.

An Explanation.
 What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown,—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Billiousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Billious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous.

Arrival of Immigrants.
 The train from Tacoma at 2:30 yesterday, brought 171 passengers, among whom were quite a number of immigrants. A number of them were Scandinavians, and they felt, as they gathered in the depot, like strangers in a strange land till they ran across policeman Holmberg, who addressed them in their native tongue, and to their great joy soon had them safely started to their final destination, Astoria. Some of the immigrants were going no further and were met by their friends, and there was hugging and kissing and great rejoicing.—Oregonian, 16.

Their Business Booming.
 Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade as Jno. C. De-mont's Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.
