Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

Cured
My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until with a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

By Taking
three bottles of this medicine I have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

ACROSS THE RIVER.

Grading on the Ilwaco & Shoalwater Bay railroad is progressing rapidly. The right-of-way is cleared of timber to within a half mile of the bay and the graders are only a quarter of a mile behind. There are about twenty-six Chinamen employed and eight whitemen, besides the engineers. By the first of December work at this end will be completed, and operations will then be suspended until February, when track-laying will commence and grading from Long Beach to Ocean Park resumed.

An amusing circumstance occurred to the writer while up on the Nasel recently, rather too good to keep. A visit was made to one of the logging camps, and one of the hands at work seeing the writer approach, took him for a detective in search of the festive criminal, and made a precipitous retreat into the recesses of the forest. He was induced to return on being reformed that it was a case of mistaken identity.

The terminus for the railroad has been selected at last. It is about three miles of this place, and half a mile or three-quarters of a mile this side of J. P. Paul's place. The road is being graded out on a line with the fence which creates Paul's north line. Deep water at that place is reached at a distance of about 1,400 feet from the bank.

Seldom, if ever, in the history of the oyster industry on Shoalwater bay has it looked brighter than at present. A great many are now engaged at work at this place and Bay Center. One attraction for the business over former times is that coin is paid for oysters the same as the farmer would get paid for his wheat.

The Astoria people are going to build a railroad to Clatsop and have it in operation by the first of July, 1889. They have $60,000 subscribed toward a capital of $200,000, and work will begin October 1st. But, gentlemen over there, you have got to agitate, and then talk about it and publish an article about it every day, and get out an extra during the day, and then hoop it up some more all the time. It takes a heap of this kind of work to build railroads in this country, we have discovered.

The railroad company have served notice upon John Briscoe that suit will at once be commenced against him on the bond for $10,000, on the ground that his part of the agreement wherein he agreed to appoint a disinterested and unprejudiced person as arbitrator, has been violated. They have also begun suit before Judge Allyn for a right of way, which will be heard at chambers, and the judge will be called upon to appoint three disinterested persons to look over the land and award damages.—Journal.

The naturalization clerks at Philadelphia had a curious applicant before them the other day in the person of a man born and raised in this country and who had been for years an American citizen. He had gone to Canada where he had remained a number of years and had there been elected a church warden. The law of Great Britain requires such an officer to be a subject of the queen, and accordingly he was naturalized there. He afterward returned to Philadelphia and desiring to resume American citizenship he was obliged to take out papers the same as a foreign born subject.

A FIVE MASTED SOHOONER.

At the present time, there is, as far as known, only one five-masted schooner afloat in the world, and that is the schooner Louis, which arrived in port yesterday from Tacoma and now lies at anchor in the harbor. As she passed up the bay and came to anchor off the Mission flats she was the cynosure of all eyes on the city front, and old seafaring men opened their eyes with astonishment as they beheld the novel rigging vessel gracefully sailing up to her anchorage. Soon after the Louis dropped her anchor she was boarded by the Call's marine reporter, who obtained from her master, captain A. J. Hatch, the following details in regard to the only five-masted schooner afloat on the coast, or elsewhere.

The Louis was built at Coos bay, Oregon, by A. M. Simpson, under the supervision of John Kruse. Her managers are the Simpson Lumber company of this city. Her dimensions are: Length, 210 feet over all; beam, 38 feet, and depth of hold, 18 feet. She is 819 tons register and her carrying capacity is 250,000 feet of lumber. She left Tacoma twelve days ago under command of captain Hatch, with a cargo of 1,500 tons of coal and 160,000 feet of lumber, having on board a crew of ten all told. The captain says she sailed well on the way down and was easily handled, but light winds and weather were encountered and she did not have an opportunity of showing what she could do.

The five masts of this novelty in marine architecture are named as follows, commencing from the bow: Foremast, mizzen mast, mainmast, spanker mast, jigger mast. The mizzenmast, the middle one of the five, is 113 feet in height, the main and spanker masts are 110 feet high, and the fore and jigger masts each 106 feet high. She also carries a bowsprit 14 feet long. She carries no topmasts, all the lower masts having square heads. She is a fine looking vessel, and a credit to the Pacific coast, which can claim the honor of building and owning the first five-masted schooner afloat.

The Louis is strongly built of Oregon pine. The interior fittings are not yet completed, but will be finished down here. It is intended to make a steamer of her, probably not while she is here on this trip, but in the near future she will receive her engines and machinery here.—S. F. Call.

PEAR'S is the purest and best Soap ever made.

In some of the counties of Dakota they pay five cents a tail for prairie dogs, and in one place they pass as currency. A man goes in to a saloon and for his drinks throws on the counter gopher tails. When the drawer is full they are taken to the county office and redeemed or paid out. It looks a little novel in church to see prairie dogs tails going into the contribution box, but so it is.

Salmon Pursued by a Seal.

Passengers on the ferry from Vancouver were treated to a novel and rather exciting spectacle yesterday morning. Just as the boat was approaching the Oregon shore a salmon was seen pursued by a seal. The fish swam near the surface and although evidently putting forth its best endeavors, the seal kept close behind it. The fish in its terror frequently leaped from the water, but all its doublings and turnings were in vain. The seal followed in its track like a blood hound.

The passengers became quite excited watching the race and every one wished to see the salmon escape its pursuer. At length the boat drew near, but the seal was too intent on its prey, which was almost within its grasp, to pay any attention to the boat or the passengers, but just as it was about to seize the salmon, the latter made a leap and landed on the apron of the boat.

A cruel, hard-hearted member of the boat's crew captured the exhausted, fish, and instead of restoring it to the water when at a safe distance from the seal, sold it to a farmer. It is well known that seals and sea lions prey on salmon, but it is seldom that such a scene as that above described is witnessed.—Oregonian, 29.
