chinery of the steamer City of Gate last August by collision with RESULT will disappear. the Oceanic. On the first day the diver did nothing but locate the stranded vessel, which he found in fifty fathoms. Friday the man went down again, and while looking into the steerage of the vessel the first thing which met his gaze was the form of a man, standing, with distorted countenance and tongue hanging from his mouth. The body was swollen to twice its natural size. Going a little further aft, he saw another victim of the wreck on his knees, grasping a third man around the waist. The diver returned to the surface, and reported his discovery, but nothing could induce him to return to the stranded vessel. Hinston says that on his first dive to the bottom the discovery of cross currents was such that it took all his nerve to make another trip. The tide ran strong, and and the undercurrents were so strong that without his armor he could never have reached the bottom, On his second trip he doubled the weights used to carry him down, yet they barely brought him to the bottom, so strong were the cross-currents even at that depth. On reaching his detination the diver found the vessel lying across the channel cut in two as with an immense saw. Water was rushing through the cut like a mill race. What changed his cool professional inspection to a vision of horror was when he advanced to the port side of the vessel and looked through the dead light and in the steerage deckports.

HOW DOCTORS CONQUER DEATH. Doctor Walter K. Hammond says: "Af-ter a long experience I have come to the conclusion that two-thirds of all deaths from coughs, pneumonia and consumption, might be avoided if Ack-er's English Cough Remedy were only carefully used in time."
