SEVEN-FOOT ED PLATZ.

On the bank of the Octoraro creek at White Rock, Lancaster county, stands a large hollow tree. Ed Platz, trackman on the Peach Bottom Narrow Gauge railroad, is only 19 years old, but he is seven feet high. He loves to fish, and does whenever he gets the chance. The other day he got into a canoe which was chained to the big hollow tree, and was soon absorbed in his favorite sport. He had fished a short time when he heard a loud but musical sound behind him. Looking around, he saw a large black ball emerging from the hollow in the tree. The ball moved swiftly forward, and, without ado, settled on the Octoraro giant's head. He knew then that he had been selected by a swarm of bees to live on, and he slid out of the canoe into the water. The creek was not deep enough for a dive, so the giant had to hold himself beneath the water by the bottom. The bees did not go down with him, but when he was finally forced to raise his head to the surface to get wind he found a snug bunch of bees waiting for him and he had to go down again.

He crawled along the bottom until he had to have more wind, and he stuck his head out again. The bunch of bees were sauntering by, and seeing the head, dipped at it again. Down to the bottom went the giant again, and dragged himself along the bottom until he had to have breath or die, and he lifted his head once more. The bunch of bees was gone, and the Octoraro giant came out on shore.

After he had breathed enough he went to the hollow tree and found a store of honey there, so large that two patent pails were required to carry it home.

Southern Antidote For Malaria.
It is generally known that Simmons' Liver Regulator is relied upon to secure immunity from all malarial disorders. This is proven by its popularity, and anyone who has lived in the south has seen its curative effects and the protection it gives against this weakening and dangerous malady. It acts more promptly than calomel or quinine, without any of their injurious consequences.

Wasn't so Fat After All.

Now another question is imported into this canvass, and that is, whether the Democratic party is in favor of free trade or "ag in it." Their attitude on this question before and since the Oregon election reminds one of the story of the man who went to a tanner to sell a dog's skin and by way of enhancing its value told the tanner that the dog whose skin he offered was the d—dest fatted dog that ever was killed; "but," said the tanner, "we don't buy the skins of fat dogs, they don't make good leather." "Well," said the seller, ruminating for a moment upon his blunder, "he was not so d—d fat after all." So the Democratic party came out before our state election with drums beating and banners flying in favor of free trade, but after the election they were not so very much for free trade after all.—From Hon. Geo. H. Williams' speech at the Portland Republican Demonstration, Oct. 12.

Liberated from Their Fetters
By the helpful, genial action of that most beneficent of aperients, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the bowels soon throw off the burden that paralyzed and weakened them, and resume their normal freedom of action. The action of the Bitters, unlike that of average purgatives, involves no gripping or drenching. If it did it would, like them, be valueless for ordinary use. There is nothing ungentle or unnatural attending its operation. Upon the liver, no less than the bowels, its action is most benign, promoting a healthful bilious secretion, and directing out of the wrong and into the right channel. Conjointly with constiveness, other bilious symptoms disappear when it is systematically used, and the stomach is strengthened as well as regulated by it. Malarial complaints, rheumatism, debility, nervousness and kidney troubles are completely relieved by it. Sleep and appetite are invariably promoted by it.

Arthur Quill, in Denver News, says: Cowboy wages are not now nearly as good as they were in early days. Formerly a good hand would get $50 a month and board, while a new hand would get $35 to $40. Now top wages are from $30 to $35, and new hands from $20 to $25. The days for raising cattle on the same extensive scale as formerly are drawing to a close, consequent on the settling up of the country. The bulk of the cattle in northwestern Texas to-day is held in large pastures, and the same will be the case all over the range country before long.

Subornation of Perjury.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—Charles E. Beach was this afternoon found guilty of subornation of perjury in the United States district court. Beach is a heavy land owner of Humboldt county, and for a number of years previous to March, 1888, he is alleged to have paid men in that county $50 each for swearing on government timber land, under pretense that they were going to live on said land, but really for the purpose of surrendering their right to him, by which means, it is claimed, he has come into possession of large amount of valuable timber land. Judge Hoffman ordered Beach to appear for sentence November 12th.

CARELESS MOTHERS.

Many mothers have permitted their children to die before their eyes when they might have been saved. Any mother who keeps house without a bottle of Acker's English Baby Sooter at hand, runs a risk which she may sometime regret. It has saved the lives of thousands of children, and is doing so every year.
J. W. Conn, Druggist.

British Schooner Seized.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—Capt. Greenberg, of the Russian steamer Alexander II, which arrived today from Petropaulovski, Siberia, reports the seizure of the British schooner Aurora for illegal sealing by a Russian war vessel. The captured schooner and her cargo were taken to Vladivostok, where the case will be investigated.

FLAMING FIRE IN THE VEINS.

We hold positive proof that Acker's English Blood Elixir cures all blood poisons where cheap sarsaparillas and so-called purifiers fail. Knowing this, we will sell it to all who call at our store on a positive guarantee.
J. W. Conn, Druggist.

Rumor Officially Demed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—Colonel J. M. Donahue, who has just returned from the east, denies that the San Francisco & North Pacific Coast railroad has been sold to the Union Pacific, as has been frequently rumored since his departure. He says bonds have been floated to aid in the completion of the road into Mendocino county.

DYSPEPSIA, DESPAIR, DEATH.

These are the actual steps which follow indigestion. Acker's English Dyspepsia Tablets will both check and cure this most fearful of diseases. Guaranteed by J. W. Conn, Druggist.

General Schofield will remove to Washington in a few weeks, and he will probably take up his quarters at the Ebbitt house. He gets no increase whatever of pay or allowances, and the actual salary of $7,500 hardly allows the head of the army to live as he would be obliged to do if he kept house and entertained.

HOW DOCTORS CONQUER DEATH.

Doctor Walter K. Hammond says: "After a long experience I have come to the conclusion that two-thirds of all deaths from coughs, pneumonia and consumption, might be avoided if Acker's English Cough Remedy were only carefully used in time." This wonderful Remedy is sold under a positive guarantee by J. W. Conn, Druggist.

The reports of the Hydrographic bureau at Washington declare that the sailing tonnage of the world is nearly double that of steam, and that this relative proportion is likely to be maintained.

BETTER THAN BLOODY BATTLES.

General Wheatcroft Nelson, says: "My experience in the English army as well as in America, convinces me that nothing so thoroughly purifies the blood or adds to health, vigor and life as Acker's English Blood Elixir." This great Remedy is sold under a positive guarantee by J. W. Conn, Druggist.

The British empire continues to increase. Its latest acquisition is a slice of New Guinea, a slice nearly twice as big as the state of New York.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

A married man at Winfield, Kan., wrote a love letter to a young girl, who turned it over to the local paper in which it was printed verbatim.

Tough on The Farmer.

A farmer at Hood river shipped sixty sacks of potatoes weighing about 100 pounds each to this city a few days ago. The potatoes sold here for forty cents per hundred pounds, the top price. The freight was thirty cents per hundred, the drayage two cents and commission two cents, which with six cents for the sacks, consumed the entire proceeds of the sale, leaving the farmer not a cent for his seed, the labor of planting, cultivating, harvesting and shipping which, as any one knows who has hoed, dug and picked up potatoes is no trifling matter. This is not right, and whether the wrong is in the railway company charging $18 per ton for freight, or in the potatoes bringing such a low price is what is puzzling the poor farmer. It is pretty tough to work all summer and after sending one's crop to market not get a cent for it and have no potatoes either.—Oregonian.

Sweet Oil in Scarlet Fever.

A physician tells of a simple and effectual treatment for scarlet fever. It is the application to the whole body of warm sweet oil, well rubbed in. He says: "There is something curious in its immediate good effect. Almost twenty years ago I had five patients in one family sick with the angiose or throat variety of scarlet fever, and had them all brought into one room for convenience sake and seclusion. Five little heads returned my greeting every time a visit was made, and all clamored loudly for the oil bath. It was plentifully used, then a woolen nightgown put on, and nothing else done. No medicine was given, and but little food was needed to supplement absorbed oil. And in recovery there was an absence of usual complications, so that in my western town oil baths came to be used with excellent result."
