THE ASTORIAN guarantees to its advertisers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia river.

Services at Grace church to-day, as usual. Bishop Morris is expected to be present.

The Oregon pioneers will hold their reunion in Portland on the 15th of June, 1889.

Plate glass and pressed brick on 2nd and Cass give that corner a metropolitan appearance.

There will be no service in the Congregational church to-day. Rev. G. C. Hall is in Forest Grove.

Reserved seats for Nelly Boyd troupe for sale at the New York Novelty Store at 10 o'clock this morning.

The Portland press speaks favorably of the Boyd-Manbury troupe which appears at Ross' opera house next week.

The salmon on Gray's harbor are reported to be running so plenty that the canneries have to limit the catch of traps and boats.

The Pillar Rock Packing company shut down yesterday. It is not probable that another salmon will be canned this year on the Columbia.

Her many friends will be pleased to hear that Mrs. J. F. Nowlen, who has been seriously ill, is improving and will shortly recover her usual health.

The government last August loaned the First National bank of Portland, $534,088.80, without interest, and the Astoria National bank, of Portland, $85,722.50, without interest.

Beginning to-morrow evening there will be a closing out auction sale by E. C. Holden of the remaining stock at D. L. Beck and Sons, everything to be sold without reserve to the highest bidder.

C. L. Parker has removed the stock of the Empire Store from its former location to his building corner 2nd and Benton streets, which has been handsomely fitted up and arranged for the display of goods, etc.

According to the Victoria Colonist the Indians of British Columbia are forming a joint stock company to establish a cannery next year. They also want to start a factory for making dog-fish oil.

There are some Chinese at Tacoma on the Alton that are detained on a quibble. Chinamen should be kept out, but these particular Chinamen left here, went to Alaska, and technically have never left this country. They should be allowed to land.

Services at the Methodist Church to-day as follows: Class meeting 10 A. M.; Sermon 11 A. M.; Sunday school 12:15 P. M.; Song service 7 P. M.; Lecture 7:30 P. M.; Subject "The Young man". This will be the regular program of service each Sunday. All are invited.

The salmon of each river always return to the same stream, and do not enter new waters. As an example, the fish of Smith's river in northern California are greatly inferior in size and quality to the Chetco fish, a stream of southern Oregon, and yet the two streams empty into the ocean within seven miles of each other.

The members of Temple Lodge No. 7, A. E. and A. M., have presented the widow of the late General John Adair with a copy of the resolutions of respect passed by that body upon the death of her husband. The document is beautifully engrossed and framed in oak, and is a handsome tribute to the high character and worth of the deceased gentleman.

A Chicago man has devised a pair of boots whose wooden soles hold a small automatic press, with which the user's name and local habitation can be printed all over the sidewalk. He's going to try to sell them as an improvement to the "merchants" who buy rubber stamps and dab their names on bill heads and letter heads and think they save money.

THE ASTORIAN again directs attention to the proposed job of eastern book agents to have the state school book series changed next January. It is just an effort to cinch parents to the extent of $100,000 and the newspapers of the state should see that the change is not made. If the school books now in use were just what was needed when recently adopted, why the necessity of a change now?

There were four clearances yesterday with wheat for Europe, two American and two British ships. The American ship T. P. Ozark cleared for Queenstown with 109,775 bushels wheat, valued at $38,738; the British bark Doreby for Queenstown, 46,478 bus. wheat, $39,000; the British ship Oberon, Queenstown, 58,852 bus. wheat, $49,400, and the American ship Olive S. Southard, and Admiral Walker, for Havre, France, with 59,293 bus. wheat, valued at $50,156.

At the Republican meeting last night Joggles leaned forward and nudged a man in front of him, "I see," says he, "that THE ASTORIAN, this morning, gave away that bet about winning $400 and losing $100. Now, that's a pretty good bet, if you work it, but if you are after a real sure thing on election bets and only want to win a little money, I'll put you onto a racket that one in one hundred won't see. You offer to bet $95 on Harrison to $100 on Cleveland. You'll get lots of takers. Now, for every bet that you make of $95 on Harrison to $100 on Cleveland, see that you make another bet of $100 on Harrison to $95 on Cleveland, which you can also get. No matter then, you, which way the election goes, you'll win $5 on every brace of such bets you make." Joggles seems to have this betting business down pretty fine.

The San Francisco Steamers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—The steamer Oregon, which left for Portland and Astoria, yesterday, will lay up for repairs on her return here. She is to have her stern bearing renewed. Instead of going on the dry dock, as is customary with steamers of the Pacific Coast Steamship company, she will be repaired at the Broadway wharf, the old-time cofferdam being again pressed into service. The apparatus is so constructed as to sit snugly under the stern of the vessel, and sufficient ballast is placed within to sink it, so that it can be placed in position. When this is accomplished the water is removed by means of a pump, and the ballast is then taken out. The vessel then being water tight, men can be placed inside the work on the bottom of the ship without trouble.

The steamer Michigan, which arrived from the Columbia river this morning, attempted to dock at the Folsom street wharf. The flood tide swung the bow around, and the steamer went crashing into the wharf, knocking down three fender piles and doing extensive damage.

Learning to Read Writing.

Judge Deady being invited to visit the little school some time ago at Seaside, by the young lady teacher, (a bright young Irish girl from Astoria, who wished to show the Portland her method of teaching the children to read (chirography,) he was placed in a seat of honor, and upon the blackboard the nervous little pedagogue wrote the word "cat." "Now, Eberman," she said to a boy about twelve years of age, "what does that spell?" "I dunno." Then, as if to lead him up to the solution of the great problem she inquisitively inquired, "What do you do when you're hungry?" "Tackle the pantry," was the reply. Hardly satisfied with this exhibition the teacher in a flowing hand and with confidence in her eye, wrote "cow" upon the blackboard. "You surely can read that, Eberman,—your old favorite?" "No, I can't." "What! not read that little word? Why, when we have no milk and butter supply on hand what source do we turn to for them?" "We send to Astoria." The teacher wiped out the cow with a sigh, as if she wished she had been kicked by it, but rallied sufficiently to smilingly say: "It must be the fault of my hand writing, Judge, for my system I'm sure is correct. At all events you must admit that Eberman is an exceedingly practical boy."—Welcome.

An Explanation.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown,—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous.

Spiritualism.

This Sunday evening, October 21st, at the Ross opera house, Miss Kate Eddy, assisted by Alex. Hume, the celebrated medium of England, will give one of those seances in Spiritualism that have made them so famous through the English speaking world. The following are among the many manifestations that will be produced in broad light on the open stage: Materializations of spirit forms and faces, Dr. Hume's London open light seance, blood writing on the arm, spirit slate writing, supernatural vision, a large dining table is made to float in mid air without human agency, etc.

County Court Proceedings.

John Williams, Jos. Giardina, Wm. McKenna, Andrew Manula and Herman Hedman admitted to citizenship. Bid for county printing awarded to Pioneer. Ordered that clerk be authorized to sign for county for a sewer on Benton street. Sundry bills were ordered paid and court adjourned to November 15th at 10 A. M.

Yaquina Salmon.

About 6,000 cases of salmon have been canned at Yaquina bay this season, of which Williams has canned 3,000 cases and Parker and Baker and Hayes about the same amount together.—Albany Democrat, 19.

THE REPUBLICAN PARADE.

Speech at Liberty Hall by Ex-Gov. Woods.

The clerk of the weather telegraphed a special invoice of that commodity to northwestern Oregon yesterday. The sun shone out all the afternoon, drying the streets and giving promise of a fine evening, which was fully verified.

At eight o'clock the Blaine club and Garfield club from upper Astoria, came marching down with torches, preceded by the Western Amateur band and cheered along the route. At the armory they met the main body of the procession, and ranks being formed the band struck up a lively tune and headed by the Blaine club, with drums beating and banners flying, the first parade of the campaign began.

Crowds lined the sidewalks, but the middle of the street was kept clear and as the long procession filed by cheer after cheer went up, and the mottoes, floats, transparencies, etc., came in for their share of the applause.

Carried on high over the heads of those who carried a torch and a vote could be read in the bright glare of the many lights, 7,407 in June, 10,000 in November.

"Harris ON to Victory." "Mort" "My address after Nov. 6, 1888 will be plain G. Cleveland, Buffalo, N. Y." "We want a decent mail service." "Where is that surplus gone?" "It is not maxims, but markets," Ben Harrison. "The Republican senate made Cleveland sign the Chinese exclusion bill." "A solid north, Oregon leads the van." "Harrison risked his life for his country; Cleveland hired a substitute." "Down with pauper labor, English wages and free trade."

"Free trade makes low wages." "Cleveland took away our protection at Ft. Canby and Stevens." "Upper Astoria will give Harrison 100 majority." "The Republican party has always been the friend of the laboring man," and many others.

The procession paraded the principal streets and coming to a halt in front of the Occident, three rousing cheers were given for Harrison and Morton, after which ex-Governor Geo. L. Woods, the speaker of the evening, was escorted to Liberty hall, which was crowded to its utmost capacity.

The speaker was introduced briefly and eloquently by F. D. Winton, who said that the silver tongued orator of the west would give the audience some reasons for the return to power of the Republican party, that majestic standard till every man in every section had the unchallenged right to cast one vote and have it counted.

Ex-governor Woods who is a man, of fine presence, rose and gracefully begged the indulgence of the audience, the arduous duties of the campaign being wearing. He said we meet not as partisans, but as patriots as intelligent American citizens to decide how our ballots shall be cast in the great national contest. Eloquent and powerfully he drew a true picture of the past and present of the two great parties and asked that they be judged by their record; he dwelt at length on protection, tariff for revenue only and free trade, and citing the effect that each had on the nation's prosperity argued that as the protective tariff had best developed the nation's wealth and placed money in the hands of American workers, the Republican party, the champion of protection to American workers should receive the votes of American freemen. For nearly an hour he held the audience and moved them at his will; sarcasm, humor, eloquence, facts, logic, added to the charm of his voice and the earnestness of his manner made up an address that has seldom equaled in Astoria, and one of the most convincing of political speeches.

He was loudly applauded throughout, and at the close the audience gave three cheers for Harrison and Morton, and three more for Hon. Geo. L. Woods.

An Unusual Scene.

While out on the plateau west of town a few days ago the writer remarked the unusual appearance of the peaks in the Cascade range several of which were plainly seen from the point of observation. Their appearance is more than an unusual feature, as it is doubtful if any one living here ever saw them so nearly stripped of their perpetual snow. Especially is this fact noticeable on the north Sister, whose eastern and northern sides are free of snow all the way up, excepting two or three small patches, which have the appearance of small glaciers as viewed at this distance.—Prineville News.

THE SENATE AND HOUSE

At Last Adjourn After 321 Days' Work.

Dispatches From Europe and the East.

ROME, Oct. 20.—A land slide occurred at the Datena railway to-day; a train was buried in the debris, and a number of persons killed. Six bodies have been recovered and ten wounded rescued.

A SPANISH RIOT.

MADRID, Oct. 20.—The republican rioters mobbed Senor Canovas del Castillo, at Saragosa, last night and stoned his house. Rioting continued for hours. The government army is powerless to quell the disturbance.

THE AUTHORITIES APOLOGIZED.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—The escutcheon on the German consulate at Havre was torn from its position last night and thrown into the streets. The prefect at Havre tendered a profuse apology to the consul, and M. Goblet, minister of foreign affairs likewise apologized to the German ambassador here for the outrage. There is no clue to the persons who committed the act.

THE CLOSING SCENES.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—When the house met this morning at 11 o'clock on the last day of the most protracted session in the annals of congress, in addition to the speaker there were fifteen members in attendance. In the galleries there were not more than a hundred persons to witness the closing scenes. The speaker appointed McMillan, of Tennessee, Clements, of Georgia, and Ryan, of Kansas, a committee on the part of the house to wait upon the president and inform him that congress was ready to adjourn, if he had no further communication to make. A recess was then taken until 12:30 P. M. After the recess representative McMillan, chairman of the committee appointed to wait upon the president, reported that the president had stated that he had no further communication to make to the house.

A recess was then taken till seven minutes before one. After the second recess Ryan, of Kansas, offered and the house unanimously adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That the thanks of this house be hereby tendered Hon. John G. Carlisle, the speaker, for the courtesy, ability and fairness with which he presided over the deliberations of the first session of the fiftieth congress.

As the hands of the clock pointed to the hour of one, the speaker said: "The hour of the clock having arrived, I now declare the house adjourned sine die." The announcement was received with applause and the correspondents in the press gallery evinced their thankfulness by chanting the doxology.

IN THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Only seven senators had the benefit of the final prayer of this session by the chaplain, namely: presiding officer Ingalls of Kansas, Allison of Iowa, Cookrell of Missouri, Mitchell of Oregon, Padlock of Nebraska, Saulsbury of Delaware and Teller of Colorado. During and immediately after the reading of the journal, the senate was reinforced by the presence of Blackburn of Kentucky, Reagan of Texas, and Sawyer of Wisconsin.

A committee of two, Allison and Saulsbury, was appointed to go with a like committee on the part of the house and wait upon the president and inform him that congress having finished its business was ready to close the present session by an adjournment at 11 o'clock to-day. Blackburn presented a minority report on the selection of the committee on operations of the civil service law. It was ordered printed with the majority report.

The last bill of the session to be introduced was one by Mitchell proposing an amendment to the constitution providing for election of United States senators by the people. Business was then informally suspended awaiting a message from the president or from the house. The first message was from the house announcing the appointment of a committee to wait upon the president; five minutes afterwards Allison of the committee that duty had been informed by the president that he had no further communication to offer. A resolution tendering the thanks of the senate to presiding pro tem. Ingalls for the uniformly able, courteous and impartial manner in which he presided, was offered by Saulsbury and adopted unanimously.

At five minutes before one a message from the president announced his approval of sundry senate bills and joint resolutions. Senator Ingalls then spoke, briefly acknowledging with thanks the complimentary vote tendered him as presiding officer, and thanking the senators for the courtesy and consideration shown him. He then declared the senate adjourned without day.

THE ATCHISON BONDS.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—The Journal says: We learn from excellent authority that the full measure of the Atchison's financial necessities is ten millions. This sum will take in the floating debt and also meet the indebtedness for the new equipment now in course of construction. To meet this new burden a private canvass of the larger stockholders is going in order to ascertain the amounts these stockholders will take of the second mortgage bonds it is proposed to issue. The new mortgage bonds will probably draw 7 per cent interest.
