WHEN MEN CROSS THEIR LEGS.
Some Curious Facts Regarding The Most Familiar Masculine Habit.

Men generally cross their legs when there is least pressure on their minds. You will never find a man actually engaged in business with his legs crossed. The limbs at those times are straighter than at any other, because the mind and body work together. A man engaged in auditing accounts will never cross his legs, neither will a man who is writing an article, or who is employed in any manner where his brain is actually engaged. When at work in a sitting posture the limbs naturally extend to the floor in a perfectly straight line. A man may cross his legs if he is sitting in an office chair discussing some proposition with another man, but the instant he becomes really in earnest and perceives something to be gained his limbs uncross quick as a flash, he bends forward towards his neighbor and begins to use his hands. This is a phase that I believe you will always observe.

Men often cross their legs at public meetings, because they go there to listen or to be entertained; they are not the factors in the performance, and they naturally place themselves in the most comfortable position known to them—namely, leaning well back in their chairs and crossing their legs. A man always crosses his legs when he reads a newspaper, but is more apt to lie down when he reads a book. He reads a paper, of course, to inform himself, but at the same time the perusal of its contents is recreation to him, and his body again seeks its position of relaxation. When a man is reading a newspaper and waiting for his breakfast his legs are always crossed, but as soon as the breakfast is brought to him he puts the paper aside, straightens out his legs and goes to work—that is, begins to eat, his mind now turning on the duties of the day before him.—Liverpool Courier.

The pauper figures in London are interesting. The last week in September showed 92,528 paupers receiving indoor and outdoor relief. This, out of an enumerated population in 1881 of 3,815,000, shows an increase of 2,395 over the corresponding week in 1887, of 4,924 more than in 1886 and 6,609 more than in 1885.

Going Down Hill.
There are more ways than one of going down hill. Besides rolling over a precipice, rushing down a toboggan slide and other methods, you may, if you need to rectify an erratic digestion, discipline a rebellious liver, and restore a regular habit of the bowels, rapidly descend an incline whose bottom is the grave. A failure in vigor, impairment of appetite, troubled sleep, loss of flesh and mental energy—these are the infallible indications that show away, and ought to suggest repair. The finest, surest, pleasantest means of repairing physical energy is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Where the mineral poison and weak appetizers fail, this potent botanic invigorant succeeds. Whether feebleness is the attendant of disease, inherent to the system, or the consequence of convalescence, often very slow after wasting maladies, the Bitters has ever proved a reliable means of remedying it, through the medium of improved digestion. The Bitters cure malapical complaints, rheumatism, constipation and kidney troubles.

The two large 10,000-ton steamships now being built for the Hamburg-American line are to be known as the Columbia and Normania. They will be ready for the water late in 1889 or early in 1890.

PARENTS CRIMINALLY LIABLE.
More than half of all deaths occur before six years of age. An army of innocent, lovely children are swept needlessly away each year. Parents are criminally responsible for this. The death rate of children in England is less than half that of the English Baby Sothern has done more to bring this about than all other causes combined. You cannot afford to be without it.
J. W. Conn, Druggist.

The average number of dog bitten patients at Pasteur's establishment in Paris is 100.

TERRIBLE FOREWARNINGS
Cough in the morning, hurried or difficult breathing, raising phlegm, tightness in the chest, quickened pulse, chilliness in the evening or sweats at night, all or any of these things are the stages of consumption. Acker's English Cough Remedy will cure these fearful symptoms, and is sold under a positive guarantee by J. W. Conn, Druggist.

Russia is adopting repressive measures in Finland.

THE FIRST SYMPTOMS OF DEATH.
Knowing that a cough can be checked in a day, and the first stages of consumption broken in a week, we hereby guarantee Acker's English Cough Remedy, and will refund the money to all who buy, take it as per directions, and do not find our statement correct.
J. W. Conn, Druggist.

How to Develop the Lungs.
The exercise which I have found of most value in developing the lungs may be described as follows: Standing erect as possible, with shoulders thrown back and chest forward, the arms hanging close to the body; the head up with lips firmly closed, inhalation is to be taken as slowly as may be; at the same time the extended arms are to be gradually raised, the back of the hands upward, until they closely approach each other above the head. The movement should be so regulated that the arms will be extended directly over the head at the moment the lungs are completely filled. The position should be maintained from five to thirty seconds before the reverse process is begun. As the arms are gradually lowered the breath is exhaled slowly, so the lungs shall be as nearly freed from breath as possible at the time the arms again reach the first position at the side. By these movements the greatest expansion possible is reached, for upon inspiration the weight of the shoulders and pectoral muscles is lifted, allowing the thorax to expand fully, while upon exhalation in lowering the arms we utilize the additional force of this pressure upon the upper thorax to render expiration as complete as possible. These deep respirations should be repeated five or six times, and the exercise gone through with several times a day. It is hardly necessary to remark that the clothing must in no way interfere with the exercise. In some cases this exercise is more advantageous when lying flat on the back instead of standing. In this position the inspiratory muscles become rapidly strengthened by opposing the additional pressure exerted by the abdominal organs against the expanding lungs. And, on the other hand, expiration is more perfect and full on account of the pressure of these organs. This is an exercise now advocated by several leading vocal teachers of Europe.—John L. Davis, A. B., M. D.

W. O. Tuggle, LaGrange, Ga., writing about Darby's Prophylactic Fluid, says: "It is a priceless jewel as a disinfectant and deodorizer. My wife states for the benefit of young mothers that it is a valuable adjunct to the nursery. It is equally so to parents traveling with children. Not only is the fluid invaluable as a deodorizer, but a few drops added to the water in bathing will remove all eruptions from the skin, chafing, etc., and greatly refresh and soothe."

Among the permanent residents of Paris, it is said, the exiles of Russian nobility are the most noted for extravagance and profligacy of life.

Rapid Beating of the Heart.
Whenever you feel an uneasiness in the region of the heart, a slight pain in the shoulder, arm, or under the shoulder-blade, or when you find yourself short of breath when exercising, or your heart has periods of beating fast, you have the evidence of poisoned blood. No matter how it became poisoned it must be purified to avoid death. Acker's English Blood Elixir has never failed to remove scrofulous or syphilitic poisons. Sold under positive guarantee by J. W. Conn, Druggist.

It is feared there will be riots in London this winter in consequence of the enormous number of the vicious unemployed.

DO NOT SUFFER ANY LONGER.
Tired feeling, dull headache, pains in various parts of the body, sinking at the pit of the stomach, loss of appetite, feverishness, pimples or sores, are all positive evidence of poisoned blood. No matter how it became poisoned it must be purified to avoid death. Acker's English Blood Elixir has never failed to remove scrofulous or syphilitic poisons. Sold under positive guarantee by J. W. Conn, Druggist.

No less than eight steamships for the trans-Atlantic trade are now in process of building on the Clyde.

BETTER THAN SUICIDE.
Professor Arnold says: "An incurable dyspeptic is justified in committing suicide." We will guarantee to cure any dyspeptic within three months by Acker's English Dyspeptic Tablets.
