

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: WEDNESDAY, MARCH 6, 1890.

ISSUED EVERY MORNING. (Monday excepted.)

J. F. HALLORAN & COMPANY, Publishers and Proprietors.

ASTORIAN BUILDING, - - CASS STREET.

Terms of Subscription. Served by carrier, per week..... 15 cts

THE ASTORIAN guarantees to its advertisers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia river.

J. W. Bottom is building a $1,500 residence near Mrs. Pope's.

Salem speedily raised $20,000 subsidy for a woolen mill at that city.

The State arrived in from San Francisco yesterday; and the Oregon sailed.

This fine dry winter is rough on fresh water loggers; there is a painful absence of water near some of the camps.

The Portland Electric Light is the latest. It is printed on white paper; the Oregon Siftings was printed on red paper.

A salmon caught near Pacific Grove last week had an iron spike seven inches long, with a half-inch head in its stomach.

A Tacoma minister told his congregation last Sunday that "there are no corner lots in heaven." This is important if true.

H. C. Thompson has a fine lot graded on Court street and will shortly begin the erection of a handsome residence thereon.

In the police court yesterday S. Hughes was assessed $2 for drunkenness and four daniels forfeited $5 each for fast driving.

Arndt & Ferehen have made a neat job on the Frobit, putting in a single engine and placing her in excellent trim for the season's work.

Captain Paul Boyton left Seattle for Portland last Monday evening. Thence he comes here to charter a vessel to capture sea lions for Lincoln park.

Collections are being made of the several property owners for their share of the expense of putting in the sewer on Benton street, which cost about $2,000.

The tug Astoria seems to make her headquarters on the other side of the river altogether now-a-days, and the Essex No. 2 appears to have everything to herself in the way of deep sea vessels.

It is reported that a Chinaman was hanged to a limb, near Takoa, W. T., recently, for daring to seek work on the railroad in defiance of the edict recently given out by white laborers that "no Chinese need to apply."

A dispatch from Aberdeen, Chehalis county, reports a fire in that city on Saturday, which completely destroyed Rowe & Kopley's restaurant and William Pedlar's saloon adjacent. Loss, $3,000; insurance, about $1,600.

Easter comes on the first Sunday after the vernal equinox, March 21st. The full moon succeeding, this year, is on Monday, April 15th. That brings Easter on April 21. Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent, falls on to-day.

For nearly two months has been exhibited in this vicinity a regular summer land and sea breeze. In the early morning hours the wind is off shore, the flags flying toward the west, and afternoon the breeze changes to due west, the bunting slanting eastward.

The decision in the supreme court of the United State in the case of the Oregonian Railway company against the O. R. & N. Co. will be delivered next Monday. The decision was to have been delivered long since, but has been delayed on account of the illness of Justice Matthews, who has the matter in hand.

"The novelty of a large hotel built on piles away from the shore, and with the tide waters of the Gulf of Mexico rising and falling under it, is materializing in Tampa Bay, Florida. Later on, when the house is opened, the guests will be able to fish for tarpon and pompano from their bedroom windows."—Ez. We have four hotels similarly situated in this city.

Following are the salaries of the city officers of Spokane Falls: Chief of police, $150 per month; treasurer, $200 per year; clerk, $125 per month; attorney, $1,500 a year; superintendent water works, $1,500 a year; superintendent of streets, $100 a month; superintendent of sewers, $300 per year; engineer, $1,800 per year; health officer, $600 per year; police officers, $85 per month.

At 6:45 yesterday morning, H. M. Thatch, proprietor of the Astoria Grocery & Canned Goods Co., was roused from his peaceful slumbers by the crash of glass and woodwork, and going to the front found a blind horse with part of a wagon attached playing the part of a bull in a China shop. The horse had started down the Rue de Concomely street drawing a milk wagon, and the driver was unable to stay the speed of his sightless steed, hence these steers. The horse belongs to A. F. Farnado, who was around later in the day to settle the damages.

A BIG STRIKE.

Which Materially Affects Astoria. The O. R. and N. River Employes Quit, And the Boats are Accordingly Tied Up.

The Reed did not arrive yesterday morning and there was no mail, and every body wanted to know why. When the Oregon arrived from Portland on her way to San Francisco it was learned that there was a general strike among the O. R. & N. employes, and that the Reed as well as the other boats were not turning a wheel.

Later dispatches began to arrive, and it was evident that we were not going to have any mail. The Lurline left at one P. M., yesterday and brought down forty passengers, arriving here at eight o'clock yesterday evening. She brought no mail. It was reported that Jacob Kamm had asked the O. R. & N. Co., $2,000 to bring down the mail on the Lurline yesterday and they refused to pay him. It is very doubtful if the Telephone brings down any mail this afternoon. Right on this mail proposition is where the engineers and other striking employes have the company. If they see a mail sack go aboard they don't work.

There is a deadlock between employes and the O. R. & N. company. If the engineers hold together they can make the company accede to their terms: if they break, they are gone. The most of the engineers in the O. R. & N. employ have papers only for the Columbia river: the company knows this the company is under heavy forfeit to carry the mail: the engineers know that, and that is about how the matter stands.

In the mean time it puts us to considerable disadvantage. The second city in the state, with large business interests has no mail either arriving or departing and much inconvenience, annoyance and loss must result.

The O. R. & N. should take immediate measures to lift the embargo and bring our citizens their mail, and carry away what is accumulating in the postoffice here.

The Lurline leaves up at seven this morning: she will carry no mail. The Telephone will make her usual trips, so Mr. Dougherty states, according to advertised time. The Lurline will return leaving Portland at 5 o'clock this evening.

Following is what yesterday's Oregonian, has to say about the matter: Yesterday morning the O. R. & N. Co. issued an order reducing the pay of all the employes of the river division whose wages are $60 or upwards, per month, 10 per cent.

The captains of passenger boats have been receiving $125, captains of tow boats $100, pilots or extra captains employed on boats running day and night $75, and mates $60. Engineers on the Columbia river boats have been receiving $100 and on the Willamette $90, and assistant engineers $60. All those affected by the reduction, who learned of it, refused to stand it, and refused to take out their boats. The Occident and Orient had gone up the river and the Telephone had started for Astoria before the order was learned of by their officers, and the E. N. Cook was got off to Oregon City, the officers and engineers going under protest.

Last evening the S. G. Reed, Bonita, Multnomah, Oklahama and Dixie Thompson were tied up at the Ash street wharf, and it is supposed that the other boats of the company will be tied up as soon as they arrive. Just what action the officers of the Telephone will take is not known.

The Masters' and Pilots' association, of which all affected by the reduction are members, held a meeting last evening to consider what was best to be done under the circumstances.

Post captain James W. Troup was anxious to get the Reed started for Astoria at 5 o'clock, as there were a number of passengers on board, but about that time a delegation arrived from the meeting and stated that the association had resolved that the men would not go to work until the wages of the tow boat captains had been raised to an equality with the passenger boat captains, $125 per month, pilots to $100 per month, and mates $75. Engineers on the Columbia and Willamette must be put on an equality at $100 per month.

Captain Troup said he would confer with the officers of the company, but it was found that assistant manager Cookingham and superintendent Johnson were both out of the city, and it was impossible to get any decisive answer to the demands of the men. He endeavored to make some temporary arrangement so as to get the Reed started, but the men refused to go to work at all until their demands were acceded to.

This is the situation at present and just when Messrs. Cookingham and Johnson can be heard from and what their decision will be is not known. The prospect is that there will be but little steam-boating done on the river to-day.

THE NEW POSTMASTER GENERAL.

His Kitchens In His Philadelphia Store. John Wanamaker could give general Harrison some good advice about the management of the White house kitchen. Mr. Wanamaker has one of the biggest kitchens in the world. It is in the basement of his Philadelphia store, where no rats are tolerated and no dampness is permitted to penetrate.

Wanamaker takes great pride in this kitchen, as he does in everything connected with his store. Often he goes down to the big steam cooking pans, lifts the lid, tastes the soup, peeps at the boiling potatoes, or inspects the little porcelain pan in which the Charlotte rousse is served. Wanamaker is noted for his rich Charlotte rousse, and the delicacy is made from a recipe furnished the chief cook by Wanamaker himself. Wanamaker likes to take visitors through his kitchen and ask them to sample the food in all its stages of preparation. His is one of the few great kitchens in the world which a man may go through and come out with a good appetite. Wanamaker's kitchen is actually an appetizer.

The great merchant is never so happy as when running a knife into the Lancaster county butter and passing it around for visitors to taste. In Wanamaker's restaurant from 4,000 to 5,000 persons are fed every day, and Wanamaker is not too proud to lunch in his own shop. Every summer he makes and sells there 3,000 quarts of ice cream daily, and during the oyster season fries 30,000 oysters. Wanamaker knows his trade and caters to it as carefully as an apple-woman on the street corner. That is the way he became rich. An instance of this is to be found in the orders he once gave his restaurant manager about mince pies. "Have only the best mince pies that money will buy," he said, "even if you have to sell at a loss. I can afford to sink $10,000 a year in mince pies rather than have people say I do not give them good pies. The people of Philadelphia can't be fooled on mince pies." Neither can Wanamaker, with his usual carefulness in seeing that all orders are carried out to the letter. It was for a long time his custom to slip down stairs and sample the pie every day. Wanamaker is now as famous for his mince pies as he is for his cabinet position.

When Wanamaker first started up his restaurant, then a much smaller place than it now is, his manager ordered 200 dozen assorted pies in anticipation of a big run by the Philadelphians on their favorite pastry. But the customers were scarce the next day and when the store closed 197 dozen pies were still on hand.

The restaurant manager was in consternation. He at once sought Wanamaker, whom he found in his office after all the employes had gone home. "Are the pies still good?" asked the great merchant, after listening to the manager's story. "Yes, they will be good all day to-morrow but not after that." "Well, then," said Wanamaker, "put an advertisement in every morning paper to-morrow announcing that for this day only we will sell choice fresh pies at a cent a cut. See what that will do." Next morning the Philadelphians read Wanamaker's pie advertisements, and by nightfall there was not a piece of pie left in the house. In telling this story, Manager Gillam added: "That is the way with Wanamaker. He will have only the best that is to be had, and when the goods won't move he makes them move."

Who is Your Best Friend? Your stomach of course. Why? Because if it is out of order you are one of the most miserable creatures living. Give it a fair, honorable chance and see if it is not the best friend you have in the end. Don't smoke in the morning. Don't drink in the morning. If you must smoke and drink wait until your stomach is through with breakfast. You can drink more and smoke more in the evening and it will tell on you less. If your food ferments and does not digest right, if you are troubled with heartburn, dizziness of the head, coming up of the food after eating, biliousness, indigestion, or any other trouble of the stomach, you had best use Green's August Flower, as no person can use it without immediate relief.

In a few days says the S. F. Daily Commercial News of the 1st, the assignees of the firm of William T. Coleman & Co. expect to pay a dividend of $63,000 to the creditors. This will be about 5 per cent of the indebtedness of the firm on the figures as compromised in December last. It will be distributed between the secured and the unsecured creditors in the proportion of 60 per cent to the first and 40 to the latter. By a previous payment about $125,000 was made over to the creditors. This second payment is not actually due until next September, and although the dividend has been agreed upon the money is not yet upon hand to meet it. A contemporary says "A gentleman connected with the matter expressed surprise that the press had obtained the information. He stated that the first dividend had been 25 per cent of the compromised debt, which he thought was $1,000,000, but he could not give an exact statement of the amount or the total percentages to date."

The New Discovery. You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, that when once given trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or any Throat, Lung or Chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded. Trial Bottles Free at J. W. Conn's Drugstore.

SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 9.

At the annual school meeting in the school house in district No. 9, at upper Astoria last Monday evening, Hon. C. Leinenweber was unanimously re-elected school director for the ensuing three years; Wm. B. Adair was unanimously re-elected school clerk; the resignation of Wm. H. Barker, as school director was received and accepted.

From the school clerk's report it was learned that the financial condition of the district is very satisfactory, there being $4,000 worth of property free of all encumbrances.

For the past year a good school has been maintained with an efficient corps of three teachers. A four mill tax was levied as being sufficient to continue the school the current year; 189 children were shown to be in the district by census report to date—average number enrolled for past year, 135.

A new addition to the school house was built the past year at a cost of $662, and repairs, etc., $166.25. The total receipts were $3,615.98, and total disbursements, $3,606.50, leaving a balance of $9.48 to date.

If you have a discharge from the nose, offensive or otherwise, partial loss of the sense of smell, taste or hearing, eyes watering or weak, feel dull or debilitated, pain or pressure in the head, take cold easily, you may rest assured that you have the Catarrh. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, terminate in consumption and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive, less understood or more unsuccessfully treated by physicians. The manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy have for many years, offered a standing reward of $500 for a case of Nasal Catarrh, no matter how bad or of how long standing, which they cannot cure. Remedy sold by all druggists, at 50 cents.

PERSONAL MENTION. Miss May Hobson has returned from Portland.
