"For two years I suffered from a severe pain in my right side, and had other troubles caused by a torpid liver and dyspepsia. After giving several medicines a fair trial without a cure, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was greatly benefited by the first bottle, and after taking five bottles I was completely cured."—John W. Benson, 70 Lawrence st., Lowell, Mass.

Last May a large carbane.

Last May a large carbunete broke out on my arm. The usual remedies had no effect and I was confined to my bed for eight weeks. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Less than three bottles healed the sore. In all my experience with medicine, I never saw more

"I had a dry scaly humor for years, and suffered terribly; and, as my brother and sister were similarly afflicted, I presume the malady is hereditary. Last winter, Dr. Tyron, (of Fernandina, Fla.,) recommended me to take Ayer's Fla.,) recommended me to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and continue it for a year. For five months I took it daily. I have not had a blemish upon my body for the last three months."—T. E. Wiley, 146 imbers st., New York City.

"Last fall and winter I was troubled with a dull, heavy pain in my side. I did not notice it much at first, but it gradually grew worse until it became almost unbearable. During the latter part of this time, disorders of the stom-ach and liver increased my troubles. I began taking Ayer's Sarssparilla, and, after faithfully continuing the use of this medicine for some months, the pain disappeared and I was completely cured."—Mrs. Augusta A. FISH FANCIES.

The Public Palate Tickled With Imaginary Delicacies.

After all there is a vast deal in a "Sardines in olive oil" sell readily as disguised Eastport herring in cottonseed oil, "Ocean trout" and "Alaska mackerel" are considered far superior to the common menhaden from which they spring. "Pickled whitefish" are much more satisfactory to the immagination than the weakfish which represent them in the market. "Cod steaks" sound promising, even when cut from the savage wolffish. "Kennebec salmon" are always in demand, whether from Maine or in the guise of redfish and steelhead from Oregon. It is, therefore, with little surprise we hear just at this time of the wonderful dinners provided by a celebrated res-taurateur in Washington, with "young halibut" as the chief attraction, transformed and idealized from the homely and humble winter whiteish, which has approached our shores, not to thrill epicures, but to deposit its eggs peacefully.

We are reminded of a circumstance in a noted coffee-house in Melbourne a few years ago which created a good deal of excitement. The proprie-tor introduced a fish of surpassing sweetness and delicacy of flavor, under the name of "Sweet William." His patrons eagerly devoured "Sweet William," and the fish had a tremendous run. It was tender, jucy and entirely free from bones. went swimmingly for a time. Inquiries failed to reveal the name of the new favorite until one day somebody saw a barrelful of young sharks go into the establishment, to be translated into "Sweet William." Then the wolume of business suddenly shrunk and the air was black with threats of suits of damages by enraged cus-tomers. And so that's what's in a name.—American Analyst.

A Hound's Fight With a Lynx.

A man working on Joseph Paul's farm on Dry Creek, was awakened early Thursday morning by hearing sounds of a struggle in the yard be tween animals. Getting up and looking from the window he saw the hound and some strange animal fighting. Grabbing a gun, he rushed out. The animal on seeing him broke away from the dog and endeavored to escape, but being overtaken by the dog and driven back, he enleavored to get under the bouse When half way under the dog seized him and pulled him back. The animal broke away and again essayed to get under the house, when the man struck him, breaking the stock off the gun. The animal got under the house, where the dog was unable to follow. On inspection later in the morning the brute was found to be dead. When dragged from under the house it proved to be a large lynx, weighing about 100 pounds, and capable of giving a man a hard tussle.—Walla Walla Union.

HOW DOCTORS CONQUER DEATH. Doctor Walter K. Many mothers have permitted their chidren to die before their eyes when they might have been saved. THE "GEORGE H. CHANCE."

Serious Accident to a Fishing Schooner.

ALBANY, March 29 .- Information is received from Yaquina of a seriot a accident to-day, which happened to the new schooner George H. Chance, recently built at that place, resulting in the probable drowning of the captain, two sailors and a Chinese cook. She sailed for San Francisco Monday, to receive her machinery. Yesterday evening she was sighted off Yaquina harbor, flying signals of dis-tress. Tugs were unable to get out that night owing to a heavy sea.

Late in the night a small boat from the Chance, containing Dan Hastings, Henry Hardesty and a sailor named Barnes, landed at Cape Foulweather. Their boat was crushed in the breakers in landing, but they es caped unhurt except Barnes, who received a severe gash in the head by being thrown upon the rocks. They stated that the Chance, after leaving Yaquina, had broken her rudder, and become almost helpless They managed to beat their way back to a point opposite Yaquina, and cast anchor. The vessel dragged her anchor, and was drifting upon the rocks.

Early in the morning two tugs and the schooner Mischief put to sea to aid the disabled vessel. They at length found her, but she had been abandoned, and there was not a soul on board. She was towed safely to Yaquina dock.

There are three men missing-Captain James Robinson, George Robertson, a sailor, another sailor, named Singer, and the Chinese cook Boats have been searching for them, but at last accounts had been able to find no trace of the missing

Captain Robinson has a family at Yaquina. The other men are sup-posed to be single.
