

The Daily Astorian. ASTORIA, OREGON: SUNDAY, APRIL 7, 1889. A HEAVY SNOW FALL.

President Harrison's Vigorous Policy. Ida Lewis Again Adds To Her Laurels.

PITTSBURG, April 6.—The heaviest snow storm of the season is prevailing in this section. It began at 10 o'clock last night. It has been snowing ever since. The fall is eight inches up to ten o'clock this morning, but in the mountains the railroad men report from eighteen inches to two feet. The railroad trains are all behind time, no accidents are reported. The storm seems to be confined to the western part of the state.

IN WEST VIRGINIA. CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. April 6.—A heavy snow storm is prevailing here, accompanied by thunder and lightning, promises to be the deepest snow fall of the winter.

IN SOUTH CAROLINA, TOO. CHARLESTON, S. C., April 6.—A severe snow storm prevailed here last night and to-day, and heavy snows reported from the mountains.

ADMINISTRATIVE POLICY. CHICAGO, April 6.—A reliable Washington correspondent sends his paper a long story of what is believed to be a nearly official statement of the future policy of Harrison's administration.

He declares that the internal policy will not be materially changed, but a vigorous foreign policy will be pursued. The first thing will be to make a strong navy. To this end appropriations for the navy will be doubled. Ocean commerce will be encouraged, Cuba and Samoa will be absorbed as they are of more vital interest to the United States than to any one else. The Nicaragua canal will be taken under American protection, and the general external interests of the nation will be looked after, as the most necessary thing now to be considered for our future welfare.

THE IOWA SETTLERS. FORT DOUGLASS, April 6.—Every day adds to the seriousness of the strained situation of the Des Moines river settlers. Numbers of parties connected with the prosecution of the settlers have received threats and found notices and letters to-day warning them to desist.

Chanucey Rignman, prosecuting witness in the conspiracy cases against the settlers, and whose farm has been seized by them, received the following letter:

"Chanucey Rignman: DEAR SIR:—For the course you have been pursuing, and meddling, if you continue you had better make peace with God, as you will never reach Him where you are. This is sufficient notice to you. Beware, or hell will be your fate." (Signed) SETTLERS.

This man was formerly a member of the Settlers' union and they are evidently afraid he will make public some of their secrets. The settlers announce their readiness to die in defense of their homes, but say they will sell their lives as dearly as possible.

STANLEY'S EXPERIENCES. LONDON, April 6.—Stanley, in a letter to his Edinburgh friend, Bruce, who is Livingston's son-in-law, gives a general idea of his journey without entering into the fullest details. He gives a picturesque description of the scenes traversed by him and his forces. The aborigines are wild, utterly savage and incorrigibly vindictive. Deaths, called Wamutai, are far more than animal life. They are so wild and shy that no sport can be enjoyed in the gloom of the forest. He describes how he came across an outcast leper hag, who was ugly and vicious and refused absolutely to give him any information. He placed a young, handsome native beside her, when she smiled and became voluble to beauty and youth. Stanley says he had named the beast in her hair. The letter is full of curious experiences.

LAWLESSNESS IN CHIEF. PANAMA, April 6.—A Santiago correspondent of the Valparaiso Mercurio says: "In less than a week the bodies of seven murdered people have been found in the streets of Santiago. Of these seven bodies at least five bear marks proving murder to have been the cause of death. To-day two more sudden deaths have occurred, and one of these bodies bears several wounds, while the cause of death in the other case is not so openly apparent. In addition to the murders and assassinations assaults and robberies are being daily committed."

STROLLING MUSICIANS. NEW YORK, April 6.—Over four hundred strolling musicians, imported under the contract labor system, who arrived in the steamship Westerland, are detained. They are mostly young men and were hired to invade the principal cities and play instrumental music on the sidewalks.

THE PUBLIC PRINTER. WASHINGTON, April 6.—Development now indicates that the office of public printer will be bestowed upon one of the gentlemen who have so far been named in connection with it.

HALSTEAD TO BE AGAIN NOMINATED. WASHINGTON, April 6.—It is understood that the president will appoint Murat Halstead to be minister to Germany, giving the senate another chance to vote on his name when they meet again.

A BRAVE WOMAN. NEWPORT, April 6.—Mrs. Wilson, widely known by her maiden name of Ida Lewis, added another, yesterday to the long list of lives saved by her. Her uncle, Henry Lewis, 70 years of age, while returning from fishing in a small skiff fell overboard in the harbor near Lime Rock light house of which she is keeper. She saw the accident put out in a boat and rescued him in an exhausted condition.

PROFFERS OF WRECKAGE. WASHINGTON, April 6.—Since the disaster at Samoa, secretary Tracy has received a proposition from several wrecking companies offering to go to Samoa and undertake the work of recovering the guns and other property of value lost in the destruction of the Trenton and Vandalia. No action will be taken until Admiral Kimberly's reports have been received by the navy department.

RIOT IN ROCHESTER. ROCHESTER, April 6.—The street car strike resulted in a riot.

While the factory employees were enjoying their noon hour they met and attacked some cars and smashed windows and one or two shots were fired. The police finally dispersed the mob and arrested twenty-five of the participants.

OUR PORTLAND LETTER.

The Will of the Late Mrs. Holladay. News Specials From Oregon's Metropolis.

PORTLAND, April 6.—William Herbert, an insane man was shut up in jail among the other prisoners last night. During the night he broke the iron chain with which he was handcuffed, seized James McClelland by the throat and began to shut off his wind at the same time severely cutting him in the neck. Some of the others in the room went to McClelland's assistance. It took eight men to subdue the infuriated maniac. He is a native of Missouri and has a wife in Albion. He was taken to Salem this afternoon.

Jno. C. Hayes who was arrested last Wednesday on a charge of obtaining money on a post office money order not his own, pleaded guilty to-day and was sentenced to three months in the county jail.

This afternoon the last will of Mrs. Esther Holladay, late widow of the late Ben Holladay, was filed in the probate court. The document was signed by deceased on the 20th of October, 1887, and witnessed by John H. Mitchell and James O'Meara. The text of the will is substantially as follows: "I direct that my body shall receive decent Christian burial and my last resting place shall be marked by a stone suited to my station in life. I bequeath all my estate and effects unto my personal friend General Rufus Ingalls, upon trust for the sole use of my two beloved children, Linda Holladay and Ben Campbell Holladay, to share alike. All monies realized from the sale of my estate shall be paid over to him as guardian of my children. I hereby nominate my personal friend General Rufus Ingalls sole executor of this my last will. I also appoint General Rufus Ingalls guardian of the persons and estates of my two children with full power to manage and culture their persons and estates, until they attain to the age of 21 years, respectively. In the event of General Ingalls's death, refusal or inability to act as such guardian, then it is my will that James Steele, Esq., assume such responsibility."

The nomination of General Ingalls as executor of the estate will most likely act on Joe Holladay as a red shawl shaken into a bull's face. The two men have been at sword's point for a long time, and the litigation over the Holladay estate is almost certain to continue.

Mrs. Jennie Snyder, who is serving a term in the county jail for contempt of court, having two children, one of whom is a boy six years of age, who has been sick with consumption for the past year. This morning while a reporter was in the jail she was notified that this child is liable to die at any moment. Her grief was intense, and a copious flow of tears resulted. Judge Tanner was apprised of the fact and expressed himself as being willing to allow Mrs. Snyder the jail limits, so that she may be able to take care of her dying child.

This morning S. A. Nelson, formerly a prosperous business man of this city, recently convicted of burglary, committed in the saloon of the St. George hotel, was taken before Judge Stearns and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

Mrs. Ben Holladay will be buried from her late residence on Third, near Stark street, on Monday.

THE FOLLOWING PROVISIONS OF THE laws of the United States are hereby published for the information of all concerned: Section 1526, Revised Statutes, chapter 3, title 23, enacts that "No person shall kill any other, mink, marten, sable, or fur seal, or other fur-bearing animal, within the limits of Alaska Territory, or in the waters thereof; and every person guilty thereof shall be fined not more than one thousand dollars, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both, and all vessels, tackle, apparel, furniture, and cargo, found engaged in violation of this Section shall be forfeited, but the Secretary of the Treasury shall have power to authorize the killing of any such mink, marten, sable, or other fur-bearing animal, except fur seals, under such regulations as he may prescribe, and it shall be the duty of the Secretary to prevent the killing of any fur seal, and to provide for the execution of the provisions of this Section until it is otherwise provided by law, nor shall he grant any special privileges under this Section."

Section 2 of the act entitled "An act to provide for the protection of the salmon fisheries of Alaska," approved March 2, 1882, provides that: "Section 3. That Section 1526 of the Revised Statutes of the United States is hereby declared to include and apply to all the United States in the waters of the Behring Sea, and it shall be the duty of the President at a timely season in each year, to issue his proclamation, and cause the same to be published for one month at least in one newspaper (if any such there be) published at each United States port of entry on the Pacific coast, warning all persons against entering such waters for the purpose of violating the laws of said section, and he shall also cause one or more vessels of the United States to diligently cruise said waters and arrest all persons and seize all vessels found to be or to have been engaged in any violation of the laws of the United States thereto."

Now therefore, I, Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States, pursuant to the above recited Statute, hereby warn all persons against entering the waters of Behring Sea, within the dominion of the United States, to violate the provisions of said section 1526, Revised Statutes; and I hereby proclaim, that all persons who do so, or to have been engaged in any violation of the provisions of said section, shall be arrested and punished as provided, and that all vessels so employed, their tackle, apparel, furniture and cargoes will be seized and forfeited.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.
