The

are flying north.

Last Friday night Mrs. Goodey of Seattle, was preparing supper, and took a hot coffee pot from the stove to the table. In order to pour the coffee, she went to an adjoining room lifted the coffee pot and dropped it into the cradle, where lay an infant girl aged 18 months. The result was that the child was literally bathed in the boiling fluid, scalded from head to feet, and died in a few hours.

A young lady desirous of a corsage bouquet for the Terpsichorean ball last Friday night sent to the florist for one of these embellishments to beauty. But the assistant in charge mistook the requirements of the occasion and surprised the lady by sending her four magnificent calla lilies and an equal number of gigantic poppies. A lady making her entry with a corsage bouquet of such colossal dimensions would be somewhat embarrassed by the exuberance of the floral display.

THE RECENT COLLISION.

Condition of the "Alliance" And Her Cargo.

Yesterday forenoon says yesterday's Oregonian, captain Bailey, of the steamer Alliance. Mr. F. Strong, president of the Portland and Coast Steamship company, Mr. F. S. Bosworth, marine surveyor, and number of interested insurance agents, went down on the Undine to visit the beached steamer. They found that she had settled slightly during the night, and that the hold was completely filled with water. The hold stove in the side of the Alliance is larger than was thought, being as one of the visitors to the craft said big enough to drive a horse and wagon through.

The hole in the Danube's bow captain Bailey says was made by one of the deck beams of the Alliance. The deck load of the Alliance was not damaged, and was removed to the Undine, which returned to this city about 3 P. M. and transferred it to the Gen. Miles. It consisted of a considerable quantity of coal oil in cases, boxes of vegetables, coops of chickens, a lot of coal in sacks and a lot of pig iron.

Several merchants who had shipped goods on the Alliance were around inquiring what was to be done with the cargo, and some talked of duplicating their orders, but in the absence of any certainty as to how much the goods would be damaged, or any instructions form their customers, this was put off. Some classes of goods will of course, be utterly ruined, while others will only be injured as far as being salable is concerned.

The loss will fall upon the merchants to whom the goods were shipped, as the responsibility of the merchant shipping is at an end when they receive a receipt for the goods delivered in good order. The steamer is not liable for damages caused by "temper, fire, accident" etc.

The goods will be taken out of the Alliance and brought back here as soon as possible. The local inspectors summoned the captains to appear and make their reports of the affair yesterday, but as the inspectors have arranged to go to The Dalles Sunday, the investigation will not be held till next Wednesday.

The Danube was discharging her cargo of rice and Chinese merchandise yesterday, and outside of the small hole in her port bow showed scarcely a trace of the accident, although Captain Baily says her cutwater passed six feet into his boat.

A Fortunate Druggist.

Mr. Edwin W. Joy a prosperous druggist on the corner of Stockton and Market streets, in San Francisco, probably never dreamed of rivalling in wealth the medicine king of the country. But various rumors having been floating around the effect that he had struck it big, an Examiner reporter was detailed to unearth the cause.

It seems that about seven years ago an English physician, a great student of Botany, located in this city. His practice was not extensive, and yet the few cases that came to him attracted no little attention. His greatest success seemed to be in the treatment of liver and kidney disorders and vitiated blood. He seemed almost infallible, and his well-kept secret was as much a mystery as himself. After his departure Mr. Joy determined to fathom the secret, and copying all the prescriptions he had filled for the erratic doctor, he began a systematic analysis. He discovered running all through the prescriptions for liver and kidney troubles, vitiated blood and stomach disorders a couple of vegetable extracts indigenous to California so simple and so well known under home- every day names to every school boy as to entirely dissipate the suspicion that they were the active principles involved. So certain, however, was Mr. Joy that he had discovered the secret that he embodied the new elements in a preparation of Sarsaparilla to disguise the taste, and put it before his customers under the modest name of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Immediately the same stories came back of its astonishing effects, and the mystery was solved, and the talk it has created has already caused it to step into prominence, and orders pour in daily from all over the coast. And thus another California industry leaps into existence.—S. F. Examiner.

A Woman's Discovery.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutch upon her and for seven years she witnessed its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed near. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Herrick & Co. of Shelbyville, N. C.—Get a free trial bottle at J. W. Conn's Drug Store.

the effect that good sized salmon are plentiful as far up as Fox Valley since the rise of the river. One day this week L. W. Gardiner, who lives above Mehama, speared a big fellow that measured over three feet long. They are not the regular Chinook, but are said to be a fine fish just the same.—

A Sensational Scene in a Court Room.

PORTLAND, April 27.—This afternoon at 2:35 Mr. R. S. Strobel died at the good Samaritan hospital of Bright's disease. Mr. Strobel was well known as the purser of the steamer Orient; deceased was brother-in-law of Mr. Frank Habershon and has a family now visiting in the east. No time has yet been appointed for the funeral.

It is estimated that no less than $5,000 changed hands on the Jackson Cardiff fight in this city. Most of the bets ranging from $20 to $50. Yesterday afternoon, a bet of $400 to $150 was made on Jackson.

There is a scheme on foot to build a
