

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: THURSDAY, JUNE 6, 1889.

It is regarded as a certainty at Washington, that Attorney-General Miller will be appointed to succeed Justice Matthews.

It is now generally believed that Cleveland will be the Democratic candidate for president in 1892. But three years is a long way off.

The Charleston News and Courier suggests that the original thirteen states contribute stones to New York's centennial memorial arch.

The Masons of New York state will shortly erect a home for the aged members similar to those owned by the order in other countries.

The Bourne Mills company of Fall River has offered to share a portion of its profits with its employees during the six months ending January 1, 1890.

A piece of property, 80x110, on the corner of Broadway and Fourth streets, New York, has just been sold for $650,000. This is only about $74 a square foot.

The Philadelphia Inquirer, after a careful canvass, estimates that the majority against prohibition in Pennsylvania will be about 35,000 outside of Philadelphia.

SOME of the supersensitive young ladies in the land office at Washington threaten to resign because a colored man from Indiana has been appointed chief of the division.

THE Apache Indians, of Geronimo's band have been taken from prison in Kansas and conveyed to San Carlos agency, N. M., where they will have a new trial for murder.

THE editor of the S. F. Alta is a genius in his way. He will falsify a century of history to make a partisan point, vide the Blaine-McSweeney skit in the Alta of the 2nd.

Immigrants are not only pouring into this country, but they are coming in such numbers that some of the boats bringing them are crowded far beyond the danger point.

WIGGINS, the weatherwise, predicts that there will be a big earthquake in the middle states, August 17, 1904. Readers are earnestly requested to keep their eye on the date.

It is reported at Ottawa, Ont., that there is every probability of negotiations being entered into shortly for a settlement of the fisheries question and Behringsea difficulty.

OUR English cousins, having gotten possession of many American breweries, are, according to late London dispatches, turning their attention to the flouring mills of the northwest.

A SOLDIER belonging to a detachment of the Austrian army in Transylvania was recently killed by a bullet from a Manlicher rifle discharged during target practice at a distance of more than two and a half miles.

SECRETARY TRACY is not going to send our four modern war ships round the world to impress the foreigner. A modern American war ship is too much of a curiosity at home to permit its exhibition abroad at present.

THE Chicago Times (once a sensational paper) asserts that the day of mere sensationalism in American journalism is passing away, and that accuracy and reliability are now high considerations in the presentation of news.

A JOB which few will desire particularly as there is no money in it, is that assigned to representatives of the New York city government—to divide the election districts of the city so that none shall contain more than 250 voters.

ENGLAND gets most of its ice now from Norway, Scandinavian competition having almost entirely destroyed the business of shipping ice from Boston to England, which was once very profitable. Ice is sold in London for from 58 to 81 cents per hundred weight.

PROGRESS is again to be reported in the matter of powerful war ships. The Italian ironclad Ruggiero di Lauro, which has just been tried for speed, reaching 17.6 knots, carries four of the largest guns yet brought into practice, 110 tons. Her sister ship, Andrea Doria, will soon be ready.

AT some of the theatres in New York when there is a certainty of a crowd at a matinee performance, they refuse to sell any seats to a man unaccompanied by a lady. The theory is that matinees are for ladies especially, and that a man who wants to go alone deserves to stand. He can go in the evening alone and the women can't.

THE Dubuque Times says of ex-governor Carpenter's appointment as postmaster at Fort Dodge: "If a man serves his city well as postmaster he is entitled to as much respect as though he were governor. A man lowers himself and loses the rightful claim to honor and respect when he purposely fails to do his duty in any position as an honest man."

THE following shows how time on the ocean has been conquered: David Dudley Field first crossed the Atlantic in 1836 in a sailing vessel, taking twenty-five days. He crossed again in 1850 in one of the best steamers of the time, taking twelve days. Lately he came across in the City of Paris in less than six days.

ENGLISH ship-builders are overdoing the business and freights are falling. There has been such a harvest for vessels the last two or three years that building has been stimulated beyond the bounds of prudence. Last year the enormous figure of 900,000 tons of new ships was reached, and this year promises to be 1,200,000.

A PROMINENT citizen of Parsons, Kan., determined to sup with a party of friends against the will of his wife. He was resolved that he would, and she that he should not go. He did not go. His friends missed him and just for fun invaded his residence, where they found him and his wife sitting in their chairs fast asleep. He had given her an opiate that he might slip away, and she had given him one that he might not.

A CONTEMPORARY makes the following statement of wages and their purchasing power in 1794: Of wages it is enough to say that masons a century ago earned 67 cents per day in Massachusetts, carpenters 52 cents, blacksmiths 70 cents and ordinary labor 30 cents. Food near the farms was cheap, but pork is quoted in Massachusetts at 16 cents per pound, flour at $8.16 per barrel, corn at 76 cents per bushel and ham at 20 cents per pound. Calico cost 58 cents per yard, broadcloth $2.70, buckram 22 cents, cotton cloth 88 cents and tow cloth 30 cents; hose cost $1.35 per pair, and "corded Nankeen breeches" $5.50; buttons from 1 to 5 shillings per dozen, shoes of last year 85 cents per pair, and sugar from 15 to 22 cents per pound.

Eli Perkins, the great American prevaricator, is in Portland, and was interviewed concerning his views on the Pacific coast railroads. "Wall street," said Mr. Perkins, "keeps clearly posted about western railroads. Wall street furnishes the money and knows where it is being used. New York has just furnished money for the Seattle, Lake Shore & Eastern, which is to run from Seattle up through the Skagit and Nooksack valleys on Puget sound to the Canadian Pacific. This makes a line from Seattle to St. Paul seventy miles shorter than the Northern Pacific. The Northern Pacific will discount this by building west from Missoula straight through the Palouse country to Pasco Junction. It is conceded now in New York that Willard has the Oregon and transcontinental and Northern Pacific in his pocket, and that the O. R. & N. will be in the same system within a year. The Union Pacific will then build through from Parma, near Boise City, to the Oregon Pacific and come into Portland over the Southern Pacific. The Chicago & Northwestern is building from Fort Fetterman, west of the Black Hills, to Chico, in California, and will go to San Francisco down the Sacramento valley. I tell you," said Eli, "this Pacific coast is to be terribly shaken up within the next five years." Mr. Perkins is considered somewhat of a liar himself and may be a trifle mixed in this case.—Albany Herald.

Mr. Edwin W. Joy a prosperous druggist on the corner of Stockton and Market streets, in San Francisco, probably never dreamed of rivaling in wealth the medicine kings of the country. But various rumors having been floating around to the effect that he has struck it big, an Examiner reporter was detailed to unearth the cause. It seems that about seven years ago an English physician, a great student of Botany, located in this city. His practice was not extensive, and yet the few cases that came to him attracted no little attention. His great success seemed to be in the treatment of liver and kidney disorders and vitiated blood. He seemed almost infallible, and his well-kept secret was as much a mystery as himself. After his departure Mr. Joy determined to fathom the secret, and copying all the prescriptions he had filled for the erratic doctor, he began a systematic analysis. He discovered running all through the prescriptions for liver and kidney troubles, vitiated blood and stomach disorders a couple of vegetable extracts indigenous to California so simple and so well known under homely every day names to every school boy as to entirely dissipate the suspicion that they were the active principles involved. So certain, however, was Mr. Joy that he had discovered the secret that he embodied the new elements in a preparation of Sarsaparilla to disguise the taste, and put it before his customers under the modest name of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Immediately the same stories came back of its astonishing effects, and the mystery was solved; and the talk it has created has already caused it to step into prominence, and orders pour in daily from all over the coast. And thus another California industry leaps into existence.—S. F. Examiner.
