State Improvement.

One of the good "wagon road bills" passed by the last legislature was that making an appropriation of $15,000 for a wagon road through Clatsop county, connecting with the Columbia and Washington county roads. The survey of this road was completed last week, the viewers report a good route and the work will be begun at once. The appropriation by the state has stimulated the counties in which it will be expended counties in which it will be expended to improve the old which will be connected by the new one; the Columbia county commissioners are building new bridges across the Nehalem, the Clatsop county board are repairing the road from Astoria to Olney, Washington county is putting some needed improvements on the road to Greenville, and the result of this lit-tle sum expended by the state on internal improvements will be a good road for travel all the way from the Willamette valley to Astoria, over easy grades.
