Reserved seats for the Chas. Gardner performance at the New York Novelty store this morning.

The Columbia arrived from San Francisco yesterday with 120 tons freight for Astoria.

A new post office has been established at Bay City, Tillamook county, with O. Young as postmaster.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hillback, of Union town died Sunday evening and was buried yesterday.

From present appearances it looks as though the expectations of a good many Alaska salmon canners will not be realized.

Chas. S. Wright is having his residence and surrounding buildings raised in accordance with the established grade.

What would make three or four towns in Oklahoma is being taken over to Clatsop and North Beach for summer use.

On account of the Gen. Canby having to clean out her boilers yesterday, the Winona took her place. She will run as usual to-day.

Bob's McFarron, No. 156, was the lucky winner of lot 2, block 43, Shively's Astoria, at the raffle at Herman Wise's last evening.

Capt. O. R. Staples has purchased the steamer Improvement, and in a few days will take her to Tillamook to run on the bay. The purchase price was $800.

Weather permitting, the M. E. Sunday school will have a picnic at Alderbrook to-day. If the morning is favorable the children and others going are requested to meet at the M. E. church at 10 o'clock.

Canned shad is the latest. No josh about this. Columbia canners take fat shad, rip out that part that has the most bones, steam and can the shad, and when the pie is opened the shad begins to sing. It is immense.

The salmon run yesterday was reported a little better than usual. Monday's salmon catch always is better than any day of the previous week, but the water would have to be stiff with salmon for the next two weeks to have anything like even last year's figures.

A dispute in the justice court about the ownership of a fish net said to have been stolen at Brookfield, gave rise, yesterday, to a personal altercation between the attorneys, that fortunately went no further than hard words, which break no bones. One of them, was, however, fined $5 for contempt of court.

A silly statement is going the rounds of the press that Rev. W. J. Franklin was shanghaied on board a vessel here and carried to China. Such statements do much to injure this city and have no foundation except in malice, stupidity or ignorance. Mrs. W. J. Franklin desires it stated that no word has ever been received by her since the sad disappearance of her husband that would justify the assumption.

Little Danny Ross, the eleven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ross, was seriously injured by the accidental discharge of a gun last Sunday evening. He was out hunting near Knappa when it occurred, the contents of the gun striking him in the forehead, inflicting a ghastly but not necessarily dangerous wound. The little sufferer was brought to town yesterday morning and is receiving the best of care.

Congressman Binger Hermann and family came down on the Telephone yesterday and went to Clatsop to visit Mr. and Mrs. C. Ward.

Several Surveying Parties.

The woods are full of surveying parties, private, government and railroad.

Surveyor Todd and a party of five have gone to T. G. - and will survey in the neighborhood of Mistawaka; timber surveyors and cruisers are also in that direction.

Last Sunday two parties of railroad surveyors came down and pitched their tents in the court house square.

Yesterday they started, one party in charge of Mr. Habersham, going to the mouth of the Necanicum, the other, in charge of Mr. Cooper, striking out for Olney.

The motto of the State university is "Mens agit molem." Here is an opportunity for the state Agricultural college to compete with its sister institution. There was once a merchant who hired a college professor to write him a motto for his sign, and the professor wrote, "Mens conscia recti." The merchant's rival across the street determined not to be outdone, and had painted on his sign, "Men's and women's conscia recti." So the Agricultural college might, in generous rivalry of the State university, have its motto, "Men's and women's agit molem."

A GOLDEN WEDDING.

One of the prettiest of Longfellow's poems is that entitled "The Hanging of the Crane," where in happy rhyme the poet tells of a young couple beginning life together in a plain farm house, amid the congratulations of a number of friends who had gathered to bid them God speed in their start on Life's journey.

And with youth at the prow and pleasure at the helm, the freshness of hope, and the enthusiasm of the life that lay in the future, the young couple began life.

A companion picture to that was seen at the hospitable residence of Col. Jas. Taylor yesterday evening, where, surrounded by his children and grandchildren and friends, the venerable gentleman and his honored wife stood to receive the hearty congratulations of thronging friends on the celebration of their Golden Wedding, the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage.

Half a century from July 15th, 1839, to July 15th, 1889, have they journeyed through life side by side, and the occasion was as unusual as it was interesting, appealing to the deeper feelings of many present.

The guests were received by the daughters of the house and ushered into the reception room, where beneath a magnificent floral bell of lilies and roses, Col. Taylor and his wife received the cordial greetings of the callers, a list of whom would comprise hundreds of Astorians and others resident close by, many of whom brought up memories of "the days of auld lang syne."

In the dining rooms a sumptuous supper was served, and from four till eight full justice was done it.

It was an unusual reunion, several having come from other parts of the state and from California to be present, the occasion being a pleasant one while in progress, and a pleasant remembrance to hang upon the walls of Memory's picture gallery.

Diving for Salmon.

Incredible as it may seem, a man has been for four days profitably engaged in diving for salmon in Seattle harbor. The successful fisherman is Henry Wright, clad in the clumsy mask and rubber armor of the submarine mechanic. The fish is in cans, was put up by the Columbia Packing company in this city, was on Coleman's wharf, foot of Columbia street, on the day of the fire, and fell into the water.

About 1,000 cans a day are being recovered. Before beginning the work of rescue it was necessary to remove a considerable quantity of sheet iron and buggy springs that covered the salmon. A sack containing thirty or forty cans is filled by the diver on the muddy floor of the bay under the new wharf and pulled to the surface and emptied into a scow. The burned and burst cans are thrown away, but the others are washed and laid aside to be relabeled. Mr. Wright's assistant says his employer has the coolest job in town. - Seattle Post-Intelligencer, 7/12.

Difficult to Believe in the East.

Recently two Oregon gentlemen who were conversing on a railway train spoke of the way the country had grown up to timber since the whites are settled and the Indians had quit burning it over annually. This conversation was overheard by a passenger who said he was interested in lumber manufacture at the east. He asked if it were possible that within forty years forests had grown on these prairies and in the Willamette valley that furnished trees that made saw timber that would square ten inches or a foot. He was shown such a growth, visible from the train, and told that it had grown since one of the Oregonians present had been born. He said people back east would not believe him if he told the story, and he would not believe it if he had not seen it. - Oregonian.

THE LADIES DELIGHTED.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Salem People Should Take Courage.

The Astoria and South Coast railroad seems to be on sound footing, and Astoria will no doubt be connected by rail with the great Willamette valley within a couple of years. The people of Salem should take courage from the success of the Astorians in this enterprise. Plenty of work in the right direction will make Salem a railroad center. - Salem Statesman, 7/4.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use.
