

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:

THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1890.

THAT sincere and amiable end-of-the-world crank, the Rev. Mr. Baxter, of England, has revised the date for the great smash up. He now declares that it will occur on the 11th of April, 1891.

EVEN to-day there are forests in Maine of which it has been said that the whole state of Massachusetts might be set down in the middle of them.

A MAN need not go to the wilds of Africa to get irretrievably lost. All he has to do is to go to the wilds of Chicago and murder somebody, and the thing is effectively done.

THE largest body of fresh water on the globe is Lake Superior. It is 400 miles long, 160 miles wide at its greatest breadth, and has an area of 32,000 square miles. Its mean depth is said to be 200 feet, and its greatest about 900 fathoms. Its surface is 635 feet above the sea.

A NEAR-SIGHTED amateur photographer, of Lima, Ohio, took what he thought was a very affectionate picture of a young lady kissing a young man in a shaded dell near the town. When he developed the picture it affected him a great deal more than he bargained for, as the young lady proved to be his wife.

SIR JULIAN PAUNCEFOTE, the new British minister, is making many friends in Washington. No minister sent to the United States by Great Britain has ever been so untrammelled by the dignity and power of his place as Sir Julian. He is easy to approach and has a friendly, cordial manner that is very inviting. He takes life easily and seems to want everybody to do likewise.

AN UGLY DISCOVERY.

A RECENT analysis in Philadelphia by a celebrated chemist of ten popular brands of sarsaparilla discloses the astonishing fact that these ten samples of blood purifiers contained in the aggregate sixteen different poisons, eleven of which were active poisons. Iodide of potash was discovered in every sample, mercury was found in all but two, while arsenic existed in six of the ten brands. Not one brand was the pure article.

A reporter took the above clipping to E. W. Joy, the manufacturer of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Mr. Joy exhibited no surprise. He said druggists knew it. He said he long ago saw the crying need for a safe and absolutely pure vegetable preparation of Sarsaparilla, hence his name Joy's vegetable sarsaparilla, because it contained nothing but pure sarsaparilla, combined with the pure juices of California vegetable alternatives. Unlike potash sarsaparilla, it does not force impurities through the kidneys, but eliminates various secretions, thereby correcting functional derangements and eliminating all impurities through the natural channels.

An Eastern Oregon Official Missing.

The sudden and strange disappearance of Geo. Nutting, sheep inspector of Crook county, a few weeks ago has aroused considerable attention throughout the state. The Prineville News says that Judge Sumner and Bob Harrington returned from the Trout creek country Friday, where they had been searching for George Nutting since Friday. They learned nothing definite regarding the mysterious disappearance of the man, but they are of the opinion now that he is dead and that he was murdered.

MR. PERKINS' SEVERE CENSURE. WASHINGTON, D. C., July 24.—Congressman B. W. Perkins, of Kansas, who is in the city, expresses the opinion that congress will meet in October. He bases his opinion upon an interview which he had with the president last Tuesday. He does not think that the Republicans will have any difficulty in organizing the house, or that the organization will consume unusual time. Mr. Perkins believes that while the tariff will occupy much attention at the hands of congress, the civil service will be a subject of legislation. When asked if he thought a change would be made in the law, he said: "Yes, congress will have to deal with some recommendations on that subject. As at present enforced it ought to be abolished. The day I called at the White House I was forced to wait half an hour for the civil service commission to get through with the president. It strikes me that the object of the present commissioners is to travel about the country to protect Democratic office holders and to assure Democrats on the outside that they will be given the preference in the matter of examination and appointment. I never heard of the commissioners encouraging Republicans to apply. The present board is composed of six good Democrats as I want to see. Thompson is a biased partisan, Lyman is a good Democrat and Roosevelt is a What Is It? The entire system of competitive examination is a farce, and discriminates against the bone and sinew of the west in favor of the college bred chap of the east. The farm boy of the west, who fills the soil and who is the coming statesman, stands no show with the boy from the east, who spends his young life at college, comes to Washington and passes a competitive examination and secures an appointment, and thus an unjust discrimination is made against the west."

THE VERDICT UNANIMOUS. W. D. Salt, Druggist, Bijuets, Ind. testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 19 years' standing. Abraham Hart, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 29 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at J. W. Conn's Drug Store.

ALL the patent medicines advertised in this paper, together with the choicest perfumery, toilet articles, etc., can be bought at the lowest prices, at J. W. Conn's drug store, opposite Occident Hotel, Astoria.

THE Paris Tailor Has just received the most elegant stock of Springs and Summer Suitings. Don't miss going to see him. He turns out elegant fits, and sells very cheap.

Flight and Arrest of a Murderer.

Betrayed by His Clothes and Speech.

PORTLAND, July 24.—Lattine, the murderer of C. C. Grant at Tacoma, last Friday, was captured by conductor Granger and train hands. Last night at 10 o'clock as the Northern Pacific passenger train pulled out of Media, a small station a short distance this side of Tacoma, a strange young man got aboard and very quietly took a seat. His manner of dress was so peculiar that the brakemen, J. P. Hagin and Geo. Hallowell, who had been notified to keep a look out for suspicious characters, suspected that something was wrong. When the train reached Tenino the brakemen turned the strange man's seat back over so that they could see him at all times. Then they watched him. Mr. Hallowell sat down beside him and struck up a conversation.

Instinctively the stranger turned the talk to the Tacoma murder; said it was a very sad thing, yet he could not help but think there was some show for the murderer. "If they don't find any money on him when he is caught they can't prove anything on him," said he.

Conductor Granger of the train was then notified concerning the strange action and talk of the man. While the train men were considering what they should do the train pulled up at Winlock, and the conductor found the following dispatch from the chief of police of Tacoma.

"A. M. Chesney, search your train for a young man, twenty-two or twenty-three years old. His face is smooth, he wears a linen coat, and vest of like material, his pants are brown, and he has on slippers. If he is on the train arrest him, and wire me." The strange passenger answered the description exactly, he had given his age to the brakemen as twenty-three, wore slippers and clothes such as the chief had described in his dispatch.

The sheriff at Kalama was notified by wire to be on hand to take the man, and then the train proceeded. All this while, Lattine as he proved to be, kept talking about the murder. At Kalama the sheriff came aboard and arrested him. The prisoner said, "I am willing to go, sir, I wish you would take me up at once." He offered no resistance at all, and was taken off the train and held to await the arrival of an officer from Tacoma.

Conductor Granger says there is not the slightest doubt but that they have caught the right man. He had in his pockets some money, and also a Tacoma evening paper of yesterday's issue, which shows that he has been in hiding there ever since the crime was committed.

A STAGE ROUTE. It is understood on good authority that it will not be very long until there is a comfortable stage route established between this city and the foot of Mt. Hood. A Portland gentleman has a contract for building a road from that point to Powell's valley road where it crosses the Sandy to the terminus. Coaches for the route are now in the city, having been shipped up from California some months ago. There are two of them and they are of the regular old frontier style. The stages were brought up by Mr. Wm. M. Ladd. A large hotel will be built there, and the place is destined to become a favored locality for recreation.

GOOD SIZED TIMBERS. Yesterday evening E. N. Cooke came over from Vancouver with a raft of piling for the big elevator now being built at Albina. The raft contained 465 timbers all of which were over 65 feet in length. The work at the elevator is being crowded along as rapidly as possible. All men available are employed and put into service, and the trouble is to get enough of them.

THE KODIAK PACKING CO.

Take Fifty Negroes to Work in Alaska.

The steamer Haytian Republic, which achieved notoriety by having been seized in Hayti several months ago, and which was subsequently supposed to have been lost on her voyage to this port, cleared yesterday for Kodiak island, Alaska, says the San Francisco Chronicle of the 21st, and was to have sailed in the afternoon, but the evil star which hovered over the vessel in Haytian waters soon to have pursued her to this port. Soon after the steamer arrived here she was purchased by the Kodiak Packing company and fitted out for a trip to the north. Captain Brown, who was her master, continued in command, and several days ago he ordered a crew from Curtin's boarding-house, on Steuart street, and Curtin agreed to furnish five men, the necessary crew of the steamer, for $45 a month each. The men were equipped by the boarding-house man, and they went on the vessel yesterday morning. Shortly afterwards a delegation from the Steamship Seamen's union went on board the vessel and ordered the men off, stating that they were not following out the constitution of the Coast Seamen's union, to which they belonged. The delegates stated that no man not a member of the Steamship Seamen's union could slip on the vessel. The men had signed properly and were not aware that they were not acting rightly by their union by slipping, so one of them went to the office of the Coast Seamen's union and asked for information. They were told by the secretary that they were acting wrongly, and were ordered to leave the vessel. The steamer was left without a crew all the afternoon, owing to the delay, and as there were no sailors belonging to the Steamship Seamen's union to be obtained, the captain found it impossible to sail. The wages to Alaska, according to the latter union's scale of wages, are $40 a month, and it is likely that there will be a mass between the two unions, especially as the Coast Seamen's crew were engaged at $5 more a month for the round trip than the other union's standard wages. Another phase of the store comes in on a statement by the owners that they will go about the water front and endeavor to hire a crew for $25 or $30 a month, which they claim to be able to do. Such an action will put a quietus on the fight between the two unions, so far as the Haytian Republic is concerned. The steamer will not sail before tomorrow, owing to the disturbance. She will take up about fifty negroes, who are to be employed in various ways about the canneries of the Kodiak Packing company.

The confidence of people who have tried Hood's Sarsaparilla, in this preparation, is remarkable. It has cured many who have failed to derive any good whatever from other articles. For diseases caused by impure blood or low state of the system it is unsurpassed.
