The United States government is contesting twelve timber-land claims of Alger & Hawley, in Skagit county, Wash., on the ground that the land is fit for cultivation. The senior partner is ex-governor Alger of Michigan.

A little item floating around says "Astoria's city expenses for '89, are $17,000." About twice that, brethren. The $17,000 will be raised by taxation on a forty per cent basis; the remainder by the sale and regulation of sundry privileges, known as "licenses."

Jno. Gill, first mate of the Tillie E. Starbuck, was arrested yesterday, charged with assault and battery. He obtained a charge of venue from the justice court to the police court, where he had a trial, resulting in his dismissal, the evidence not warranting other action.

The Barkentine C. C. Funk arrived in San Francisco last Wednesday, fifteen and one half days from Ozernoy, Alaska, with 1,900 cases of salmon for the Alaska Packing company. Captain Glaeser reports a great scarcity of salmon in Alaskan waters this year. The fish did not appear until three weeks after their time of coming last year, and are less than one-half the number.

The signal service officer at the top of Pike's Peak, was interviewed last week. He was melting snow for his water supply, the only one he gets. The officer said: "Sometimes I stand at the window with my telescope. The wind whirring is keen and cutting as a knife. I can see the houses of Colorado Springs, twenty miles away, the visitors sitting in their shirt-sleeves sipping iced drinks to keep cool, and ladies walking about in white summer robes. I lower the glass, the summer scene is gone. Green trees, animal life, men and women, fade away like creatures in a dream, and I am the only living thing in the world of eternal ice and snow and silence."

About three hundred Chinamen have engaged passage for their native land, per ship Coloma, which sails again in October, says the Welcome. Of those who depart not five per cent will ever again return to the United States. At the rate Mongolians are leaving the country there won't be 10,000 Chinese on the Pacific coast in ten years. The limited number now here have become extremely independent and demand outrageous wages for their labor. Chinamen who six years ago readily accepted $15 per month for their work, now demand $30 and $40, and would be impatient should their former wage be employer even hint at a sum less large.

Special Notice. This day only. Sweet Pickles at 25 cents a crock, fresh and nice at Astoria Grocery and Canned Fruit company, regular price, 35 cents. Opposite Parker House.

THE OREGON PILOTS.

They Turn the Pilot Schooner "Governor Moody" Over to the State.

The following communication was yesterday handed to president Montgomery, of the Oregon Board of Pilot Commissioners:

To the Hon. Board of Pilot Commissioners for Oregon.

We beg most respectfully to state that under the present circumstances we find ourselves unable to defray the running expenses of the pilot schooner Gov. Moody, much less making a living for ourselves, and especially for those having families to maintain.

The circulars issued by the O. R. & N. Co. to ship owners all over the world, warning them to avoid being spoken by the schooner pilots, render it almost impossible for them to get employment.

We are, therefore, compelled to respectfully turn the schooner Gov. Moody over in your charge, we finding ourselves unable to maintain it any longer.

Yours very respectfully, C. HARRIMAN, THOS. F. NELL, J. E. CAMPBELL.

Astoria, Aug. 2nd, 1890.

So, thus ends that chapter in the history of towage and pilotage on the Columbia river bar.

The Gov. Moody was built here and launched in October, 1855, at a cost of $10,000, that amount having been appropriated by the state. After launching she was used by the schooner pilots, and turned over to the Oregon bar pilots.

After the towage on the bar passed entirely out of the hands of Capt. Flavel, some of the Washington territory pilots of the territory expense had the schooner G. C. White built in San Francisco, at a cost of about $12,000.

The bill passed by the Oregon legislature last winter boycotted the Washington territory pilots so effectively that they had to let go, and offer their schooner for sale.

Now the state of Oregon is broke out, and the schooner built by state money is also lying idly at anchor at Astoria.

There was some talk in the lobby at Portland last winter, and some implied pledges made relative to aid in maintaining the state pilot schooner, but promises like pie crust are made to be broken.

Comment is needless: the facts speak for themselves. The state has had to back down, and retire from the business that it set up four years ago.

The pilot-commissioners will have a meeting next Monday, when the above letter and the ultimate fate of the schooner will come up for discussion.

THE NEW HOSPITAL.

A site having been secured for the new hospital, it is now the intention of the projectors of the scheme to at once raise funds for the building of a suitable structure.

With this idea, the following list of subscribers to the fund. The preamble is concisely worded and gives the practical aims and purposes of the projectors in brief form:

ASTORIA, Or., Aug. 2, 1890.

Believing it to be for the relief of the afflicted, and an advantage to our city, we the citizens of Astoria agree to take the number of shares herein attached to our names in the "Astoria Protestant Hospital association," at twenty-five dollars per share.

The object of said association when duly incorporated according to the laws of the state of Oregon, shall be, to build and operate a hospital, equipped with all modern improvements, for the treatment of all classes of diseases, without reference to creed or connection with religious denomination. As soon as sufficient stock is taken a building to accommodate at least fifty patients will be erected upon the site donated by Mrs. W. W. Parker.

Estimated cost of building about ten thousand dollars ($10,000). This enterprise will be under the control and management of trustees elected by the stockholders. Capital stock thirty thousand dollars ($30,000). No part of the shares now taken will be collectable until the trustees are elected.

Canvassing for subscriptions will begin next Monday.

Those Nebraska Visitors.

There is an item going the rounds of the state press that the Nebraska editors recently here, weren't newspaper men at all, but real estate agents. They said they were newspaper men when they were here, but since then are reported to have lost three or four diamonds - gems of great value. That does look a little suspicious, for no newspaper-man carries or wears or owns a diamond ring. A dime and pin is the nearest he comes to that luxury.

However, whatever, or whoever they were they had big mouths made to talk, and kept their eyes open and can do some talking when they get back to the land of the blizzard and the cyclone.

An Outlet to the Sea.

Mrs. T. O'Brien, of Astoria, bought in the Harrington property that was sold at sheriff's sale on Saturday for $1,200. The costs, taxes, etc., will amount to $400. - Cathlamet Gazette.

Good Way to Buy Sponges. "Say, how much is this sponge?" called a man in a drug store yesterday to the clerk, at the same time holding up a good-sized sponge which he had picked out of a basketful. The clerk was behind the counter busying himself with something, and he served the sponge critically from a distance and then answered: "Seventy-five cents."

"The man dove into the basket again and pretty soon held up a smaller sponge for the clerk to see. "How much is this one?" he asked. "Oh, 60 cents," said the clerk. Again the man fished around in the basket. In a few moments he held up a sponge smaller than either of the other ones.

"How much for this one?" he inquired. "You can have that one for 45 cents," said the clerk, as he sized it up.

"Then there was a roar of laughter from the would-be sponge purchaser and two men who had been watching him. The clerk looked mystified for a moment. Then he discovered what they were laughing at. The man had been holding up the same sponge each time. By some means it had diminished in size. If he had had enough strength in his hand and could have kept his face straight he would have seen the price of that same sponge down to 15 cents.

"After Swinburne." "Mine eyes to my eyelids cling thickly. My tongue feels a mouthful and more. My senses are sluggish and sickly. To live and to breathe is a bore. My head weighs a ton and a quarter. By pains and by pains ever split. Which manifold washings with water. Relieve not a bit."

After Swinburne these lines may be a long way after for that matter, but what a description of the man whose bowels are constive. Liver disordered blood out of sorts. Such an individual needs Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pills. They are pleasant to take and powerful to cure.

Transit of the Chinese. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.-The eighteen Chinese about whose transit from New Orleans to San Francisco so much discussion has appeared in the newspapers, and who by order of the secretary of the treasury were permitted to pass through the country, arrived here last night. Upon their arrival here the Cuban collector at once went to Chinatown where they were soon distributed among the merchants and restaurant keepers. It is stated that the Chinese are old men who are returning to China. Twenty-five years ago they left their native land with about 8,000 others for Peru and Cuba, being shipped as coolies under false pretense and misrepresentation. Each one of the party is under bonds $1,000 to pass directly through this country. Their tickets were purchased in Havana and are through tickets to Hong Kong. They will leave on the next steamer, the City of Peking, for China. A waybill accompanies the party, which is sent to the collector of the port of New Orleans. Upon this waybill appears the name, age, occupation and description of each man. Since the passage of the Scott exclusion act last October, 229 Chinese have arrived in this port from Hong Kong, and during the same time 5,100 Chinese have sailed from San Francisco for Hong Kong. Since last October 5,400 Chinese or Chinese have arrived in this city by rail. It will be thus seen that the Chinese population of San Francisco has not decreased since the passage of the Scott exclusion act.

A Very Likely Story. It is stated that a gentleman in this city has received a letter from an Indiana congressman, who was urging the appointment of a friend as a collector of internal revenue, and who writes that Harrison said: "I would gladly appoint your friend, but he would not hold the place very long."

"Why not?" asked the congressman. "There will be no internal revenue collectors after a few months. Their duties will be so lessened that it will be no longer necessary to maintain the office. Hereafter the United States marshals will do all the collecting there is to be done."

"From the conversation with the president I inferred that he will recommend the removal of the internal revenue tax on whisky and tobacco, the collection of which is the principal duty of revenue collectors. Both branches of congress being Republican the president's recommendation will be speedily acted upon."

This will possibly explain why a successor has been appointed to Mr. E. W. Whittaker, whose resignation has been in Harrison's hands for several months. - Portland World.
