

RETRIBUTION!

RETRIBUTION is sometimes slow, but it generally overtakes its object. It lacks a month of being just thirty years since David S. Terry shot and killed David S. Broderick in a "duel" in which it was settled that Broderick was to be killed.

Yesterday Terry was himself shot and killed. Of him it may be said that "he died as the fool dieth." Some years ago one of San Francisco's most salacious scandals was the Sharon suit, in which a notorious strumpet named Sarah Althea Hill tried by reason of illicit intercourse with senator Sharon to make that old rake recognize her as his wife and give her some of the swag he had sriped from his Nevada dupes.

The scheme failed, though a San Francisco judge named Sullivan stood in, his decision being subsequently set aside by Justice Field, of the United States supreme court. The Hill female and Judge Terry, who had married her, grossly insulted the eminent jurist, who promptly sent the pair to jail for such contempt. So soon as released Terry, like the bully that he was, announced his intention of assaulting the venerable justice Field.

Stephen J. Field, though a very old man, is abundantly able to take care of himself, but as it would be beneath the dignity of the senior justice of the supreme court of the United States to scuffle with an assassin, he very properly secured an escort. Yesterday, as related in our dispatches, Terry assaulted Judge Field while that gentleman was dining at Lathrop, an eating station near Stockton, Cal., at the junction of the California Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads. Nagle, Judge Field's escort, shot and killed Terry, and removed a brute who had polluted California's air for a generation.

"THERE is not," said Gov. Biggs, of Delaware, the other day, "in the state of Delaware to-day a single penitentiary. If a man beats his wife, or sets fire to a neighbor's barn, or breaks into a house, he isn't shut up with a lot of other criminals, with full time and opportunity to learn all their tricks of deviltry that he did not know before. As a preventive of crime the whipping post has a much greater terror than a term in the penitentiary, and I have never known of a man that came back for a second dose. He simply leaves the state. Maybe he goes to New York; I don't know. At any rate he seeks another home, and you may rest assured that if he stays in Delaware he lives a very quiet life. To be sure it is a relic of barbarism, but it is our way."

ix The Dalles Daily Times-Mountaineer of the 12th inst., is an emphatic denial of a statement originating in an eastern Oregon paper alleging the finding of the bodies of sundry infants in the reservoir of The Dalles water works. Our Dalles contemporary is justly indignant over the publication of the statement which turns out to be a complete fabrication, and asks a denial of the story, which under the circumstances is no more than should be done. The ASTORIAN aids in the work of denial to its utmost extent, and is surprised that any paper should have given origin to so malicious a falsehood as that against which the Times-Mountaineer so justly protests.

The price of gas in St. Paul is $1.70 per thousand feet on an average. In other cities it varies from $1.25 in Cincinnati, Cleveland and Indianapolis, to $2 in Omaha. The average for ninety-six companies in Pennsylvania is $1.74, and of one hundred and fifteen companies in New York $2.20. A new company in Chicago promises to furnish gas for 75 cents, while the old company not to be outdone promises to pipe natural gas from Indiana at even a better figure.

AUNTIE PERPLEXED. "Please, Auntie, she gives us Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla and its awful good." T. S. Milton, of 511 Post street, San Francisco, writes: "I had been ailing for weeks with a disorder of the liver and kidneys. Finally my wife, becoming frightened, procured a bottle of 'The California Remedy'—Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. It cured me right up. In fact it did so much for me that I sent for a half-dozen and gave it to my children, with the most satisfactory results."

Dave Broderick's Murderer Shot Dead At Lathrop, Cal., Yesterday Morning While Attempting to Assassinate Justice Field, of the United States Supreme Court.

PORTLAND, Aug. 14.—This morning at ten o'clock a press dispatch was received here announcing that United States deputy marshal Nagle had shot and killed Judge David S. Terry, the husband of the notorious Sarah Althea Hill Terry, for assaulting United States Supreme Justice Field while eating his breakfast at Lathrop, California. Judge Field was on his way east. Expecting to be assaulted by Terry, he asked for an escort of an officer.

A few days since a San Francisco paper stated that Terry had threatened to kill Judge M. P. Deady in the event that he came to San Francisco to try the cases against himself and wife. Terry had no special love for Judge Deady, or any one opposing him, because the Judge decided the Hill-Sharon case against him in 1885.

Soon after the news of the killing of Terry reached this city a reporter called at Judge Deady's chambers and asked him whether he had heard of the threats made by Terry. "No, I have not," answered that gentleman, "but that would not deter me from performing my duty. There were five indictments hanging over Terry's head, and three against his wife, arising from the disturbance in the United States court room in San Francisco some months ago. I was directed by Judge Lorenzo Sawyer to try Terry and his wife on those indictments and had Terry not been killed I should have gone to San Francisco very soon, but now I shall await further instructions."

When Judge Deady was informed of Terry's threats he slightly smiled and looked as if he would face any danger in the performance of his duty. DOING RIVER WORK. The Willamette Chief went down the Columbia this morning to make soundings and put in new bar buoys at various points. The work properly belongs to the government steamers but as the O. R. & N. Co. has so many boats on the rivers there is constant danger in waiting for the government to unwind its reel tape. The United States engineers furnish the buoys to the company this time at government expense. They will be put in at Elliott's bay, St. Helens, Walker's island, Martin's island, and Postoffice bar, old buoys have to be replaced every year owing to the carelessness of rafting people who in bringing up logs go right ahead without regard for the buoys. Many of them are torn up wantonly, others unavoidably. Such should not be the case.

A DELICATE OPERATION. Yesterday Dr. D. W. Rand assisted by Dr. O. J. West, house surgeon at the Portland hospital probed for the pistol ball which was shot through Miller's eye by Ernest Cross a week ago last Sunday morning in a bar room row at the St. Paul house. The operation was very delicate and was a successful one which might have cost the patient's life had he not been skilfully handled. Contrary to expectation the ball was found to be lodged over the right ear and not near the brain. Miller is now on a fair way to recovery with the loss of his right eye.

Tormented with Salt Rheum—Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Only those who have suffered from salt rheum in its worst form know the agonies caused by this disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla has had great success in curing salt rheum, and all affections of the blood.

"I owe the gratitude to Hood's Sarsaparilla that one would to his rescuer from a Burning Building. I was tormented with salt rheum, and had to leave off work altogether. My face, about the eyes, would be swollen and scabbed, my hands and a part of my body would be raw sores for weeks at a time, my flesh would seem so rotted that I could roll pieces from between my fingers as large as a pea. One physician called it type Poison and gave me medicine accordingly; but salt rheum cannot be cured in that way. Finally I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It helped me so much that I took two more bottles, and was cured. I will recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla not only for salt rheum, but for humors, and all other ailments of the blood, and that 'all-gone' feeling so often experienced." A. D. ROBINSON, Jamaica Plain, Mass.
