THE ASTORIAN guarantees to its advertisers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia river.

City taxes delinquent to-morrow.

Eggs are five cents a dozen and butter is five cents a pound - in Missouri.

The steamship Elder sailed for Loring Alaska yesterday taking 3,000 bbls shooks.

Messrs. Feeney and Crouch will issue the Western World, at Willapa, W. T., next week.

The Oregon arriving from San Francisco yesterday bringing 50 tons of freight for Astoria.

The Gen. Canby goes on an excursion to the forts, Ilwaco and Nahcotta at seven o'clock this morning.

The steamer Idaho sailed for Port Townsend, Seattle and Tacoma yesterday. She carried twenty passengers.

The schooner Jno. G. North arrived from San Francisco last evening. She will load lumber at Portland.

The schooner Melancthon arrived from San Francisco yesterday to load lumber at the Knappston mills and return.

There were a good many real estate transfers last week; the deeds filed for record out number the mortgages, two to one.

The population of Pacific county as the census lately taken shows, and as reported to the Journal by the assessor, is 3,024.

The police force of Portland consists of 34 Americans, 6 Irishmen, 3 Germans, 1 Frenchman, 1 Englishman and 1 Swede.

There is said to be considerable difference between graded streets and graded schools. We should hope so for the sake of the schools.

A. A. Cleveland of the Oregon bakery is building a new oven; in the meantime he is baking bread at the Astoria bakery on Second street.

The Republicans held primaries throughout Pacific county yesterday, and will nominate candidates and delegates next Tuesday, at Oysterville.

F. H. Surprenant is agent for a modern, jointless, air tight, indestructible casement and miniature vault combined. It commends itself to public attention.

The Columbia sailed for San Francisco yesterday with the following freight from this port: 1,245 bbls shooks, 502 cans salmon, 90 sks oysters and 4 tons assorted truck.

The Astoria Street Railway Co., have raised their track to the east side of Main; the street ordinance says the "improvement" begins on the west side of Main, and so it stands.

Sixty thousand shares of the O. R. & N. stock have been turned over to the Union Pacific. These shares were owned by the Oregon and Transcontinental, and are part of the recent deal.

"No beer, ale, wine or whisky, by order of the court," is written on the mirrors of all the Portland restaurants and eating houses, the result of united effort on the part of the Portland saloon keepers.

The worst mixed man that the writer has seen for a month of Sundays was in county clerk Trenchard's office yesterday morning. He had forgotten his native language, and had never learned any other, and was in a fix for words to express his thoughts.

"Is the purser aboard?" asked a young lady who had gone down to the Reel yesterday morning to see if a friend of hers had arrived. "Dah ain't no pussah on dis yash boat," sung out a pompous darkey, and the young lady in blushing confusion, withdrew.

Yesterday afternoon a member of the demi monde was riding on horseback in a partly intoxicated condition and when on Third street near Cass was thrown to the ground, receiving a very heavy fall. She was picked up and found to have sustained very little injury.

The O. R. & N. Co., has chartered the steamship Alki, to be placed on the Puget sound route. She will leave here on her first trip between September 1st and 5th. This will give the O. R. & N. Co. three steamers on that route and enable them to take all the business offering.

Generally, if a man has any ambition to start a daily paper it is just before an election. With J. M. Murphy, who has published a paper at Olympia for 29 years, it is different. He has been running a daily right along, but stopped it yesterday, "because there is an election coming on."

The funeral of the late Ida Kimball will be from the residence of Mrs. T. S. Jewett at ten o'clock to-morrow morning. Religious services will be held, conducted by Rev. Mr. Short, after which the steamer Electric will leave Wilson & Fisher's dock. The funeral will be at the old Clatsop cemetery.

Mrs. George Benar, Miss Sallie Wi-berg and Mrs. Frank Morgan, of East Portland were lost on Mount Hood a few nights ago. Searching parties were organized and the lava beds above the timber line were scoured. The lost ones were found about midnight, huddled together upon a barren rock, 10,000 feet above the level of the sea, and nearly chilled to the bone from cold.

The following gentlemen passed through here yesterday on their way to attend the grand council of the Young Men's institute which meets in San Francisco on the 27th: J. F. Keeley and F. J. Richter of Cincinnati, Ohio, M. H. Conner of St. Paul, W. P. McCarty of Minnesota, D. J. Donohue and Wm. Guedelhoeper of Butte, Montana, D. J. Kelly of Portland and H. J. Allstock of East Portland.

One of the most profitable fish wheels on the Columbia is at the cascades in the Columbia about half way between the lower and upper cascades. There is a pit just at the side of the wheel to catch and hold the fish when they are dumped out of the wheel. The pit is about twelve feet square by twenty deep, and L. W. Curtis informs the Goldendale Sentinel, that he has seen that pit half full of writhing, squirming salmon. Several tons are frequently caught there in one day.

The solution used in the hand grenades offered so extensively for sale is easily and cheaply made by taking twenty pounds of common salt, ten pounds of sal-ammoniac (muriate of ammonia, to be had of any druggist), and dissolving in seven gallons of water. When it is dissolved, it can be bottled and kept in each room in the house. In case of fire, one or two bottles should be thrown with force into the burning blaze, hard enough to break them, and the fire will certainly be extinguished.

A Mr. Apple was recently made justice of the peace at Baker City. Finding both appellants and appellees very scarce, Judge Apple opened a butcher shop and the scales, but seldom used used in weighing equity, were often filled with choice bits sliced from the appellons carcasses obtained from one Mr. Caviness, of Hilgard. On a day when the cash drawer contained something over $1,000, Judge Apple concluded the time was ripe for him to drop on a little racket often practiced by bank cashiers, and so he is now in Canada, where, if he is not eaten up by remorse, he will likely remain until he has grown mellow with age.

The Union Pacific railroad company has formally accepted the proposition extended to it by the people of Port Townsend. Briefly stated, the terms of the proposition are to the effect that Port Townsend pays the company $100,000 in cash, makes over to it titles of the right of way, so far secured, besides good and sufficient titles of all the land which have been subscribed by the people. On the other hand, the railroad covenants to make Port Townsend the northern terminus of their line and within a stipulated time to build and have in operation 20 miles of the road from Port Townsend towards Portland.

Yesterday a party of adventurous boys walked out along the Ft. Stevens railroad track beyond the line of sandy beach, and past where the waves were roaring at the bottom of the piles. When well out to the end of the track they saw an engine approaching with a train of cars. To go back or jump off was impossible, so they nimbly swung themselves down on the stringers, letting the engine and train go thundering over their heads while below roared the foaming water. It was a case of being "between the devil and the deep sea," but the good angel that watches over boys saved them, and pale and trembling they made their way back in safety.

Your local paper tells you when to go to church, to county, circuit and probate court, and when to send your children to school and nearly anywhere else you have to go. It tells you who is dead, married, sick, born and many other things you like to hear. It calls your attention to all public enterprises, advocates good schools, law, temperance and order in your town and county. It rejoices with you in prosperity and sympathizes with you in distress. It records the marriage of your daughter, the death of your son, the illness of your wife, free of charge. It booms your town and builds up your business, whether you patronize it or not. It sets forth the attractions and advantages of your city and invites immigration and is always first to welcome new comers. Time would fail to enumerate half it does for its own people, and yet we sometimes hear a man say his home paper is not half so good as some city paper that never did anything for him and has no interest in him or his business.

Gus. H. Bynon will soon begin the publication of a newspaper at Vernonia, on the Nehalem. The starting of a newspaper in such a place is a good illustration of how the law of supply and demand works, and how cause and effect are related. There is really not half the inducements to start a newspaper there that there would be at Saddle Mountain, or Mishawaka, but there are a good many timber land claims being filed on in that vicinity, and the paper published there may get them. At present these notices appear in the Mif, at St. Helens. Mr. Bynon is evidently going to get acquainted. He carries a gun—something no newspaper man does—and pulled it on a neighbor's dog that barked at his passing dog the other day; and shot and killed the dog. If that be any criterion of his disposition we may have some lively items from the Nehalem, because a man in or out of a newspaper office who is on the shoot can generally be accommodated.

A RAILROAD TO ASTORIA.

Chas. Francis Adams, W. H. Holcomb and C. J. Smith,

Say That It Will Soon Be Commenced.

Messrs. Adams, Holcomb and party arrived down on the Reel yesterday morning and immediately transferred to the Geo. H. Mendell going down to see the Ft. Stevens jetty. They returned to the Reel and left for Portland at 11.10. All the party expressed themselves as greatly pleased, Mr. Adams being particularly complimentary.

Among others beside Messrs. Adams and Holcomb were C. J. Smith, general manager O. R. & N. Co., C. A. Dolph, D. P. Thompson, Henry Failing, H. W. Corbett, and other prominent residents of Portland. They were accompanied on their return by Dr. Ang. C. Kinney, as far as Cathlamet.

Mr. Adams, Mr. Holcomb, and Mr. Smith concurred in the statement that they were taking all the preliminary steps necessary for the building of a railroad to Astoria as soon as possible.

Just when they proposed building the road, just where the route would be, and just who the three gentlemen meant when they said "we," cannot with precision be defined, but the substance of their statements was to that effect: viz: that the preliminary work of building a railroad to Astoria is now under way; that they recognized the necessities of the situation, and the advantages of this place, and that so soon as certain negotiations with eastern financiers were completed, which they say will be soon, the actual work of building the road will be begun.

While THE ASTORIAN is pleased to hear these gentlemen say so much, and glad to chronicle their utterances, it doesn't forget former visits and statements, and suggests that we continue to work out our own salvation, by bending our united and concentrated energies to the railroad we have ourselves started, and see that that goes ahead to speedy and prosperous completion.

The gentlemen were very much pleased at the progress of the jetty work; were profuse in their praise for the energetic work done there, agreed upon the beneficial result, and the advantages of Astoria as a wheat shipping point, and regretted that extreme haste rendered it impossible for them to remain longer.

D. P. Thompson, the next governor of Oregon, thought Astoria ought to be advertised more. When informed that THE ASTORIAN was now preparing an illustrated edition of 50,000 copies on fine book paper, he smiled and said "That's right, I'll take 500 copies. As owner of the Columbia water works it is his interest to have Astoria water consumers increase."

All the visitors expressed pleasure at their trip, and the beautiful weather they so much enjoyed.

OYSTER CULTURE.

Experiments Made by a State Biologist.

Professor Julius Nelson, the biologist of the New Jersey state experimental station, is an enthusiast on oyster culture. He is now conducting a series of investigations in reference to breeding oysters which is likely to prove of great value to oystermen. It is well known that only a very small proportion of the spawn of an oyster lives. Not only are the young oysters destroyed by their enemies, but storms or a sudden change of temperature destroy them by wholesale. Being unable to grow, the young oysters are smothered in the mud. The professor holds that the first need is cultivation. He has enclosed ponds at and near Keyport into which the sea water enters only at the highest tides. A sluice gate keeps off the water when the flow occurs. Into these ponds the mud and roe are placed and fertilized artificially. By this means it is possible to control conditions as perfectly as to temperature and the state of the water as to insure the fertilization of nearly every egg. It is in contemplation to try cross fertilization, and the professor is confident that the result will be satisfactory, and that in the near future people will speak of the "breed" of oysters as they now talk of the breed of hogs or cows.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. J. W. Conn, Druggist.
