

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:
WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 28, 1889.

A PROCESS has been invented by means of which photographs can be printed almost as fast as a newspaper and without dependence on sun and light. They are said to be of the first quality.

CHAUNCEY DEPEW thinks the Paris exposition has saved the French republic by producing a wonderful revival in the industries and allaying discontent by providing employment for the many idle.

GENERAL SECRETARY HAYES of the Knights of Labor, declares the order is not disintegrating. He says the membership is a quarter of a million and the yearly receipts of the order amount to $50,000.

The city of St. Petersburg, which does not count 1,000,000 inhabitants, consumes each day 10,000 bottles of wine, 1,500,000 quarts of beer and 1,600,000 glasses of an alcohol known under the name of vodka.

The four new states bring in an area about equal to that of all New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana combined. It is an area three times as great as the British Isles.

The London Economist, in discussing the prospect for money, looks for higher rates, and withdrawals of gold from England to Spain and South America. Instead of taking our gold, from this time on foreign countries will call on us for breadstuffs, petroleum and cotton.

ONE-TENTH of the entire number of pensioners on the roll get but $2 a month, or 6 1/2 cents a day or less; one-half of the entire number get but $6 a month—20 cents a day or less, and two-thirds of all get $8 a month—26 2/3 cents a day or less. Soldiers who lost limbs received but $8 a month for a long number of years, and yet to-day when they are growing old, and less capable of caring for themselves and families, they only get $30, $36 and $45 a month.

SAYS first assistant postmaster-general Clarkson: "I see that some of the New York papers state that there have been 10,000 changes made in the postoffices since the present administration came into power, while others say that there have been 14,000 such changes. Neither statement is correct. There have been just about 15,000 changes made in postoffices. That is not the exact figure, but so near it that the difference one way or the other is not material. Of these 15,000 changes one-third were brought about by resignation, and about 300 were made because of changes in the location of offices. When postmasters were keeping their offices in grog-shops or in other questionable places, we have made new postmasters and have seen that they established themselves where ladies may go without any apprehension. In regard to presidential offices our policy has been to allow the incumbents to serve four years, unless there was a cause for their removal. Nearly all the changes in that class of postoffices were made after charges against the postmasters were received and reported upon by inspectors, who were detailed to look into them. The same number of changes—15,000—were made under the previous administration in a corresponding length of time."

CAUSE OF THE CROWD.
"What are you growling at, sir?"
"At the amount you are eating, sir! Have you no regard for the feelings of a dyspeptic, sir?"
"No sir! Go and take a course of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla and you won't have the dyspepsia, sir!"
John Arrall of 23 Golden Gate avenue, writes: "You may also use my name as an additional authority that 'The California Remedy' Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla will cure dyspepsia and liver and kidney complaint. It has done it for me."
James Wells, Oakland, Cal., writes: "I suffered actually from dyspepsia for years, scarcely taking a meal without the distressing pains of indigestion. Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla relieved me of it entirely."

All the patent medicines advertised in this paper, together with the choicest perfumery, and toilet articles, etc., can be bought at the lowest prices, at J. W. Conn's drug store, opposite Occident hotel, Astoria.

A Very Important Matter.

The Manzanita came down yesterday afternoon and docked at the O. R. & N. coal bunkers. This afternoon she goes to sea with a lot of plunder, about 42 tons in all, of material and supplies for the light house now building at Destruction Island.

This business of lugging freight up and down the river, and the coast belongs to the engineer department and has no connection with the Manzanita's proper duties. The Manzanita is doing freight duty for the U. S. engineer department, as the Shubrick did before her, but there is an end to all things, and now that Commodore Griffin, the naval secretary of the light house board has been out here, there will be a change.

THE ASTORIAN has it from headquarters that Com. Griffin realizes the loss of time and neglect of her own special work entailed upon the Manzanita, every season by this freight business, and Major Handbury and he have agreed that the U. S. engineer department is to have a tender for itself so soon as practicable.

As in a good many other such improvements and additions THE ASTORIAN takes a little credit to itself in aiding in this.

Now if the gentlemen in authority will go a little further and furnish a tender for the Alaskan coast to give the Manzanita a little time to tend to absolutely pressing business in supplying buoys to the Oregon coast harbors, they will be moving still further in the right direction.

Overland From California.

When the mail boat got down from Portland yesterday afternoon the attention of the writer was attracted by the appearance of two covered wagons on the bow of the boat, and his interest aroused by learning that the occupants had come overland from California to Portland, and thence by steamer to Astoria. Fourteen more wagons are on the way from California and will also arrive. This is a new way or rather the revival of an old way to reach this northwest nook of our national domain, and if one is in no hurry, a very pleasant way.

The two wagons and their occupants rolled on last evening as far as Smith's Point, and the last seen of them had gone into camp for the night, on that picturesque spot where meet the waters of Young's river and the Columbia.

What a Porterhouse Steak is.

Very few people who sit down to a good breakfast of "porterhouse steak" could tell, were they asked, what part of a bullock this choice titbit is cut from. The "porterhouse" is that portion of the beef either side of the spine beginning where the ribs end and extending along to where the hip-bone begins. The tender-loin should form a part of the "porterhouse." This is a narrow strip of succulent and tender flesh extending along and protecting the inner sides of the spinal column. Its high price is due to its choice quality, and the fact that in the largest bullocks there are not above ten to twelve pounds of tenderloin. The term "porterhouse" is of English derivation, and it has no equivalent in either the German or French language, while, on the other hand, tender-loin is known among the Germans as "hummel" and "fillet," by which latter name it is known among the French. The term "porterhouse" probably originated from the inns and eating-houses of England, also known as porter and ale-houses. A customary order was: "Give me a porter and steak," and in time the name "porterhouse" was probably given to the choice pieces of steak as distinguished from the more ordinary kinds.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to warrant them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. J. W. Conn, Druggist.
