 Rescoe's engine was busy yesterday pumping up the boilers at Trullinger's mill.
 Seattle is going to have a paid fire department, consisting of nineteen men at a cost of $38,000 a year.
 An old experienced life insurance man says that the best time to strike a man for an insurance policy is just before he is going to get married.
 This is good weather for street work, and the contractors are making the most of it, though a scarcity of lumber occasions some delay in planking.
 The Garibaldi salmon cannery is reported doing well. For the week ending August 24th, 1,958 fish were caught and delivered at the cannery.
 And now it is said that the U. S. court in this state is to be divided into districts, and that C. A. Driehol is to be the new U. S. Judge. The next session of congress will decide that matter.
 On the line of J. C. Trullinger's logging railroad to the Walluski, stands a tree that was sawed off forty feet above the ground, and the stump furnishes ample room for the road bed of the railway.
 Among the M. E. appointments by the recent conference for the ensuing year is the reappointment of Rev. Geo. W. Grannis as pastor of the M. E. church of this city, a deserved recognition of personal fitness.
 Reports from all the crack hose teams of the northwest indicate that some lively training is going on at present. Whatever team wins, it will be no picnic, for they must win it from wideawake competitors.
 At a meeting of the Columbia river fishermen's protective union held last evening, it was decided that in case any Columbia river cannery did any fall fishing this year to ask three cents a pound for all fish caught by gill nets.
 In common with all the other visitors, distinguished and otherwise, who have visited the jetty this season, Col. Mendell was very much pleased with the progress of the work, and the manifest improvement plainly visible on every hand.
 W. H. Parker makes his headquarters at Sackett's mill to-morrow and works north and south through the country. He is also cutting a trail to the little Fishhawk. The railroad course from Sackett's mill runs through Harrison's place on Lewis and Clarke's.
 Owing to the putting in of a new boiler and glass improvements, the electric lights have not been lit for the past few nights. It is expected, however, that the street lights will shine out as usual, to-night, and in a few days more everything will be in improved shape around the works.
 Yesterday morning Mrs. Alick Mauser of this city met with a very bad accident at Clatsop while visiting at the residence of old gentleman Spelmier and wife, she was walking out of the back door of the house holding a baby in her arms when she fell breaking her left leg. The injured lady was brought to town and medical attendance procured when she was left comfortable as possible.
 Timber claims are still being taken and the list is not exhausted yet. Despite all temptations to belong to other nations, the yellow fir, the hemlock and the spruce of Clatsop county is in the greatest demand. The hemlock is mentioned in the list, for though it may be sneezed at now, the time will come when hemlock will be sought for. The floors in the court house, laid 30 years ago, are of hemlock, and are good yet.
 There was a genuine surprise party at the hospitable residence of Mrs. A. Van Dusen yesterday, the occasion being that lady's birthday, a large number of her friends making an unannounced descent. Though wholly unprepared she accorded them a gracious welcome, and a very pleasant afternoon and evening was spent by the guests who were unanimous in wishing her "many happy returns of the day."
 Now and then appears in some newspaper a little "dig" at the grammar or spelling of some contemporary, and usually the censured one gets back by showing as bad mistakes on the part of the censor. The fact is that it is a wonder more and greater mistakes are not made. The contents of a daily newspaper, morning or evening, are prepared very hurriedly, and the supposition is that everybody does the best he can. Some of the mistakes published are comical, but are usually the fault of the proof reader.

THE SAN FRANCISCO CONFERENCE.
 Some Matters of Commercial Importance.
 Hon. J. H. D. Gray returned from San Francisco yesterday morning, where he had been attending the commercial conference held in that city during the past week.
 There was some little misunderstanding at first as to the status of outside chambers of commerce, but after some energetic remarks from Astoria and Tacoma, our San Francisco brethren realized that the Pacific coast of the United States was not bounded on the north by the California line, and after that things had a wider scope.
 Astoria had a good representation, and was given prominence in committee work, and in debates, etc., during the session.
 The convention was called to gain the sentiment of the coast upon six important subjects, and the decisions were made by delegations of five from each of the principal commercial organizations in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Sacramento, Eureka, Portland, Astoria, Tacoma and San Diego. Others were invited, but did not send delegates.
 The conference decided:
 First—That congress should encourage the building of a trans-pacific telegraphic cable to Australia by guaranteeing to private capital a small income on the estimated investment of $10,000,000.
 Second—That congress should expend money to fortify Pacific coast seaports.
 Third—That congress should subsidize the Pacific ocean steamers carrying United States mails, just as Great Britain subsidizes the Canadian Pacific line for carrying English mails.
 Fourth—That congress should aid, by national legislation, the energetic construction of the proposed Nicaragua canal.
 Fifth—That congress should encourage American commerce by paying a certain bounty per tonnage for all American ships.
 Sixth—That the interstate commerce commission should be asked to so interpret the interstate commerce law that domestic lines might be able to compete with the Canadian Pacific railroad in transcontinental traffic, and that, in the event of a failure, congress be asked to repeal the "long and short haul" clause of the law.
 The above is the action taken upon the six subjects for which the conference was called. In addition the conference decided to ask congress to inaugurate a more liberal policy for the improvement of the rivers and harbors of this coast; and, as previously mentioned, appointed a committee to formulate a plan for organizing a Pacific coast chamber of commerce, the aim of which is to be to crystallize the sentiment of the coast on great questions and make concentrated appeals to congress when necessary.
 L. W. Case, E. C. Holden, Samuel Elmore and M. C. Crosby are expected home to-day.

A SEATTLE SALMON CANNERY.
 Pointers For Columbia River Cannery.
 The following is rich. It was received yesterday afternoon:
 PORTLAND, Aug. 28, '89,
 EDITOR ASTORIAN:
 I send you part of a letter I received from a friend of mine who is travelling on the sound. It may be of some interest to some of the Columbia river cannery men to know how to do business in their line. Yours truly,
 * * * * *
 In Seattle is a salmon cannery owned now by O. N. Morse, who kept a hotel in the place before the fire. Robert Ostrand is the manager. Mr. Ostrand formerly lived on the Columbia river, where he is well remembered by some of the merchants and others both in Astoria and Portland. Lewis Solomon is the possessor; he was at one time foreman for F. M. Warren, at Cathlamet. This cannery is situated on what is called Railroad avenue. The building was formerly used as a furniture factory. Being immediately on the route of the S. L. & E. R. Co., it was cut in two and part of it moved farther into the bay to give room for a railroad track between the two buildings. Last year the property was leased by the Columbia Cannery Co., of Seattle, for a salmon cannery. They made a complete failure of the enterprise and the business was wound up this spring by the sheriff of King county disposing of the effects of the cannery to Mr. Morse.
 Our Astoria cannery men are so particular in having model canneries in such shape to insure getting less rates of fire insurance, are here taught a lesson of frugality and economy not found in any other salmon cannery in the world.
 Part of the upstairs is used for 25-cent lodging rooms and residence, while the lower part of the same building is a commission house, marble cutter, and to wind up with, a first class saloon, taking in an average, it is said, of sixty dollars a day.
 On the sixth floor is the fish dock. In the building in which the cans are cooked is a livery stable, within twenty-five feet of the furnace door.
 The proprietor informs me that his rates of insurance are less than the Columbia river cannery pay, (no doubt owing to the adjuncts of the place). I have, while here, endeavored to find the insurance companies that take such risks, that they may be of benefit to us on the Columbia river. If this story is a fact about insurance, Columbia river cannery men have been imposed on by insurance companies doing business in Oregon.

 The Same May Be Said of Astoria.
 Some people say that there must be a shrinkage in values in the northwest. There is logic in this idea to some extent, for the simple reason that in all new localities too much paper in the shape of notes, mortgages, etc., get in circulation, and there must be a general leveling up. Olympia is one of the few towns of the northwest that can pay every dollar that she owes on demand. Her property sells for what it is legitimately worth, and candid, conservative men, whose judgment have always been good, say her success is assured.—Olympian.

STARTLING EVIDENCE
Of the Cure of Skin Diseases when all other Methods Fail.
 Psoriasis 5 years, covering face, head, and entire body with white scabs. Skin red, itchy, and bleeding. Hair all gone. Spent hundreds of dollars. Pronounced incurable. Cured by CUTICURA Remedies.
 My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and all over my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was nearly bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head, and shoulders being the worst. The white scabs fell constantly from my head, shoulders, and arms; the skin would thicken and be red, very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles, I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I thought the disease would leave a very deep scar, but the CUTICURA REMEDIES cured it without any scars. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight. I know the number of different persons who have used the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and all have received great benefit from their use. Mrs. ROSA KELLY, Kockwell City, Calhoun Co., Iowa.
