No person living will again date a document without using a "9." It now stands on the extreme right—1889. Next year it will take second place—1890, where it will remain ten years. It will then move into third place—1900, and there it will rest a century.

Yesterday the one horse truck team of J. B. Thompson took it into his head to have a little picaic of its own, and nave a little picane of its own, and started to run away from the store on Third, turning at full speed into Benton street where it almost capsized but still kept on going at a rattling rate when John Kinney jumped into the wagon and stopped it. Damages about $50.

Ross' Opera house was well filled last evening to witness the performance of Peck's Bad Boy by the Lawrence Conners musical comedy company. Dur-ing the whole of the performance the audience was kept in one continual roar of laughter and they are without doubt one of the best musical comedy compa-nies that have appeared in this city.

While the Tacoma firemen's tournament is in progress there will be a convention of a very different character in Vancouver, B. C., a meeting of the Young Men's Christian Associations, of the Pacific northwest. Astoria will be adequately represented by a delegation from this city. Next Saturday Carl A. Hanson, the president of the Astoria association will deliver an address before the convention on the theme, "What can the Young Men's Christian Association do for sailor's?"

Horace Thing received the following dispatch yesterday afternoon: "$7.30, good until 21st: regular fare $13.50: have arranged for special cars. Leave Astoria 8 A. M.; will detain Lurine at Kalama to SA. M.; will detain Luriane at Rahama in meet returning firemen if fifty desire it. Jas. T. Gray." That means that firemen and others going to the Tacoma tournament can leave here at 8 to morrow morning on the Lurline, connect at Kalama with the train to Tacoma, round trip, $7.30, and if fifty or more wish the Lurline will wait at Kalama, Thursday night for the returning train.

The body that was found on the beach at Kalama last Saturday has been identified by parties from Portland as C. Heotes, a Greek, who has been running a fruit stand in Portland, for the past few years. One of the nien who identified him cleans to be a parabox of the day him claims to be a nephew of the de-ceased, and says that the dead man was very wealthy, and had between $5.000 and $6.000 on his person when last seen about fifteen days ago. He says the last he saw of him was at the Northern Pa-cific derrot where he bought a ticket for ne saw of him was at the Northern Pa-cific depot, where he bought a ticket for Tacoma. The bruised place over his eye shows that there was foul play, and the general impression is that he was mur-dered for his money. They say that he had an overcost on and had the money in his cast nocket, but when the had was found he had no coat or vest, and only $2.60 in small change could be

Here is a case of Oriental justice that can hardly be outdone for sharp and sub-tle discriminations. Four men, partners in business, bought some cotton bales. That the rats might not destroy the cotton, they purchased a cat. They agreed that each of the four should own a particular leg of the cat; and each adorned with beads and other ornaments the leg thus apportioned to him. The cat, by an accident, injured one of its legs. The owner of that member wound about it a rag soaked in oil. The cat, going too near the fire, set the rag on fire, and, being in great pain, rushed in among the cotton bales where she was accustomed to him rats. The cotton thereby took in business, bought some cotton bales, cotton bales where she was accustomed to huntrats. The cotton thereby took fire and was burned up. It was a total loss. The three other partners brought an action to recover the value of the cotton against the fourth partner who owned the particular leg of the cat. The judge examined the case and decided thus: "The leg that had the oil rag on it was hurt; the cat could not use that leg—in fact it held up that leg and ran with the other three legs. The three unhurt legs, therefore, carried the fire to the cotton and are alone culpable. The injured leg is not to be blamed. The injured leg is not to be blamed. The three partners who owned the three legs with which the cat ran to the cotton will pay the whole value of the bales to the partner who was the proprietor of the injured leg."

The A. B. Field brings some fine honey from Tillamook, a land of milk and honey as well as big timber filings. This Tillamook honey is genuine, which is more than can be said for some honey. There was a time when honey was honey and honeycomb was honeycomb, but, like everything else, some bee raisers wanted to get rich more rapidly. It was found that paraffine closely resembled beeswax, and after many trials combs were preferred which were exercised die. were produced which were scarcely dis-tinguishable in shape from those built by the bees themselves. It was then found that when these artificial combs were placed in the hives the bees took to them as if they were of their own making, and filled them with honey. This plan once filled them with honey. This plan once in operation became a great saving to bee culturists, as the bees no longer had to make their own comb, but were able to put in all their work making honey. Of course now and then somebody objected to the quality of the wax, but the bee raisers never minded any little thing like that, and they thought they had struck the acme of success until they stricts the acme of success until they made their next and greater discovery. This was that glucose, or grape sugar closely resembled honey in appearance and was a very fair counterfeit as far as taste was concerned. Then there appeared in the market paraffine honeycomb filled with glucose honey and the occupation of the bee was gone. The first attempt was simply an adulteration of of the latter was gradually increased un-til there was little or no honey. Pure honey is accordingly scarce nowadays.

Sinslaw Fishing Trouble.

The trouble between the cannerymen and ishermen at Florence is practically, settled. The prices now paid are less than what was first offered but the men concluded to go to work for whatever they can get. A gentleman who came in from there last week says the cannery is paying all the way from 25 cents to 55 cents, and some of the men are still fish-ing for themselves and salting what they catch. There is a good run of salton catch. There is a good run of salmon and the boats make a good catch every night.—Eugene Register, 11.

WHAT ASTORIA MUST MEET

At the Tacoma Tournament Next Week.

The New Westminster, B. C., Truth, of the 6th, has the following relative to their fire brigade that will participate in the coming tournament at Tacoma: Intense interest and almost unbounded en-thusiasm are the feelings of the fire brigade here ament the forthcoming tour-nament in Tacoma, on the 16th and three following days. They have been training steadily for some time now; at present they have two practices a day, ofte in the morning at 6 and the other in the evening at 7 o'clock. This is to be the order of things every day until the departure of the team for the scene of the contests. tense interest and almost unbounded en-

The men are doing their part well and The men are doing their part well and appear at the hall morning and evening with a zest which unmistakably indicates their intention to acquit themselves in a manner that will surprise their neighboring teams and reflect honor on their city. Mr. Woods is coaching the team, and feels quite confidant that, provided no unforeseen hitch occurs, they will return home with full wads—or a vivid recollection of a "big time" on the other side of the line. If they take the prizes is 152, McClure's; $100. side of the line. If they take the prizes they have reasons to anticipate, it will need a two-inch steel wire to hold them down. The representative team is composed of: George Scoullar, captain; Samuel Woods, foreman; George Pittendrigt, John Stirsky, John Oliver, Guy Hall, William Murray, David Gray, Thomas Hill, John Manson, William Albre, Senjamin Anderson, David

Thomas Hill, John Manson, William Albro, Benjamin Anderson, David Mitchell, Robert Ross.

There was a practice last night at 8 in the fire hall, when the men devoted thenselves solely to beeting the record on the dry test. The show of form was good, and the men themselves were quite satisfied with the time made. Scoullar uncompled in a little under three seconds, and one or two others came pretty near him. He is in splendid form and goes him. He is in splendid form and goes about his work in a manner that proved that he had trained to some purpose. In that he had trained to some purpose. In uncoupling and attaching nozzle, the best time was again made by the captain and his colleague, the process being finished in four and one-half seconds. If this can be done at the competition, the New Westminister boys will have reason to be pround of themselves and their coach. The teams of the neighboring cities are training for all they are worth, and the competition for the prizes will.

Giving Itself Unnecessary Worry.

The press of the Willamette valley are most uniform in advocating the raising f money to assist the Astoria railroad After it is completed they will take to writing editorials on the subject of ex-orbitant freights and fares; and the granger who most liberally subscribed will elect himself to the state senate or house elect himself to the state senate or house and speechify and introduce bills grind-ing the grasping monopoly to the dust, and forgetting all about the time when he and his neighbors wined and dined the president and officers of the com-pany and toasted "long thrive the rail-way." He will also complain that the corporation don't build depots and pay taxes, and burns his grain and don't pay the damage and tears his fence down and runs over and kills his stock. But then, just now, the honest granger hasn't then, just now, the honest granger hasn't got his glasses on, and the country edi-tor has not yet merged his weekly into a metropolitan daily, nor quit dreaming of things earthly.—Examiner, 11.

Mrs. Fred Loy, of 327 Ellis street, Mrs. G. Werner of 235, Berry street, and hundreds of others relate the same experience with the pure vegetable juices of this California compound.

Fire Engine Contest.

The arrangements have been agreed upon for the water throwing contest be-tween Capitals' fire engine, of this city, and the Tacoma engine. The agreement is that each engine is to attach to a hy-drant at 10 o'clock in the forenoon next Wednesday, the 18th, and at a signal by telegraph each is to commence throwing with an inch and a quarter nozzle and continue fifteen minutes; then report by tele graph the distance covered. After a res they are to commence throwing with an inch and an eighth nozzle, again reporting by telegraph the distance: this is to end the contest, which will be simply for trophies and honors.—Salem Statesman.

It ran into my eyes, and the physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just ope sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head, and shoulders being the worst. The white scabs foll constantly from my head, shoulders, and arms: the skin would thicken and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the Curicura Rements, and after using two bottles Curicura Rements, and after using two bottles Curicura and when I had used six bottles of Curicura and when I had used six bottles of Curicura and one cake of Curicura Soar, I was almost cared; and when I had used six bottles of Curicura and one cake of Curicura Soar, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I thought the disease would leave a very deep sear, but the Curicura Rements cured; it without any sears. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the Curicura Rements. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight. I know of a number of different persons who have used the Curicura Rements. Rements of the curicura benefit from their use. Mess. ROSA KELLY, Rockwell City, Calhoun Co., Iowa.
