Considerable sickness is again reported in the city; bilious fever and pneumonia are the most prevalent complaints.

The last spike of the Ilwaco and Oysterville railroad will be driven at Naboota to-day; this finishes that road.

The steamer Cascades arrived down from Hinkle's quarry last night with three barges of stone for the jetty at the mouth of the river.

From the amount of frame buildings going up it looks as if we were getting ready for a big fire on some of our principal thoroughfares.

This morning at 11 o'clock B. S. Worsley will sell at his auction rooms a large assortment of furniture and carpets, and a general assortment of household goods.

The whistling buoy which went adrift from Gray's harbor a short time ago has drifted on the beach about four miles to the southward of the entrance to the harbor.

The steamer Idaho arrived from the Sound at noon yesterday. She brings about 14,000 oases salmon, part of which remains here on storage, and part goes to San Francisco.

It is calculated that of the railroad iron at Portland about eight carloads or two barges a week can be brought down. There has been considerable unavoidable delay over the arrival of this material.

Phasants and other game are coming in freely; eggs are held at war prices; vegetable of all kinds are cheap, good and plenty; apples are bringing just what you've a mind to pay for them; 60 cents or $1.25 a box.

Says a physician, "Good health demands that the month be kept closed while asleep." We have known instances where a man's health would have been materially improved if he had kept his month closed when awake.

District attorney McBride, who recently spent a pleasant eight weeks on Mt. St. Helens, says that the statement that smoke was seen issuing from the summit this summer, and that there is likely to be a volcanic eruption there, is a mistake. He says that on one side of the mountain is an extremely large deposit of pumice, scoriae and light volcanic dust, finer than flour, and extremely dry. When an occasional avalanche of boulders from above fall and detach a part of this mass it rises in clouds and floats for hours, presenting from below the appearance of smoke, thus giving rise to the supposition that the mountain is about to belch forth in volcanic eruption.

Anyone who was at the theater last evening couldn't be otherwise than pleased with the clever presentation by the Standard opera company of the charming opera "Iolanthe." The costumes were good, the singing, with one exception, was good, and the setting was better than the average. The male members of the troupe were particularly good. The fun was well brought out, the encores being numerous and deserved. The singing of Bettina Padelford and Miss Emma Berg, and Messrs. Brown, Stockmayer, Reynolds and Cornell was fully up to anything in that line heard in the theater for a long time. To-night the comic opera of "Virginia" will be presented.

A law passed by the state legislature makes it compulsory for parents and guardians to send their children who are between the ages of eight and fourteen to school at least for twelve weeks in each year, and not less than $25, or more than $50, for the second and each subsequent offense. In case the bodily or mental condition of the child or children is such as to prevent their attendance at school, the parents or guardians of such children are not liable to the provisions of this law.

The Telephone yesterday brought among her passengers Col. T. Edgerton Hoag, president of the Oregon Pacific railroad, his brother, Mr. Hoag, and three directors of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad company. Upon their arrival they immediately transferred to the government steamer Gen. H. Meserve, and in company with about a dozen Astorians went down to the jetty at the mouth of the river. The party of visitors had a good opportunity to see what a seaport is, and were favorably impressed with all that they saw. They viewed the jetty, examined the work in its entirety, and on their return expressed themselves as having added greatly to their stock of information. This is Col. Hoag's second visit to Astoria, but it is not likely to be his last by any means. The party returned to the city at 6:45, and the visitors left on the Telephone on their return eastward.

A lady who lives in the second ward visited Ross' opera house last evening and suffered through the first act of the play with exceedingly tight shoes. When the curtain fell she confided her sufferings to her husband, and he suggested that she slyly remove her shoes till the performance was over. This she did, and the consequent relief afforded her allowed her a proper enjoyment of the other acts. When the curtain went down for the last time she discovered to her horror that her feet had so swollen in the warm atmosphere of the house that she could not get the tight shoes even over her toes. As they had only to walk to the street cars in front of No. One's engine house, and as the lady had on black stockings, her husband told her to do the shoes up in her cloak and walk along as though nothing had happened. This she did, and they started to move out with the crowd. The lady walked along comfortably until near the door, when she suddenly began to jump and cavort around as though mad. One of her stockings had struck an exceedingly warm cigar stub, and the heat had curled her foot out of shape during her brief sojourn on it. When she struck the plank sidewalk outside a child replaced the feverish feeling, and when she reached home she never to wear tight shoes to the theater again.

Venire-Men And Talesmen. Luther Laffin Mills has explained to a Chicago reporter the proper appellation of the men summoned in the Cronin case. "If you want to be technically correct," said he, "call them 'venire-men.' When a regular panel is summoned the proper term is 'juror' or 'jurymen' and a dozen because such from the moment he is summoned. 'Talesmen' are such men as may be called by a bailiff under the direction of the court, without the issuance of any special venire, to fill an exhausted regular or jury panel. The place of regularly impaneled jurors. The men in this case may be called 'venire-men' or 'jurors,' but they are not 'talesmen.'"

The men who are being examined from day to day touching their competency to serve as jurors have been variously designated in the newspapers as "jurors," "jurymen," "venire-men" and "talesmen." Most of the headline writers have persisted in calling them "talesmen."

STARTLING EVIDENCE. Of the Cure of Skin Diseases when all other Methods Fail.

Psoriasis 5 years, covering face, head, and entire body with white scabs. Skin Red, Itchy, and bleeding. Hair all gone. Sp at hundreds of dollars. Pronounced incurable. Cured by CUTICURA REMEDIES.

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physician was afraid I would lose my sight. It covered the skin of my face, head, and shoulders being the worst. The white scabs fell constantly from my head, shoulders, and arms. My hair was falling out, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just a mass of sores. It covered the skin of my face, head, and shoulders being the worst.

I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken three more, I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and one box of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I thought the disease would never leave me, but the CUTICURA REMEDIES cured it without any scars. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight. I know of a number of different persons who have used the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and all have received great benefit from their use. MRS. ROSA KELLY, Rock Hill, Calhoun Co., Iowa.

CUTICURA REMEDIES. Cure every species of agonizing, humiliating, itching, bleeding, burning, scaly, blotchy, and pimply diseases of the skin, scalp and blood, with loss of hair, freckles, pimples, scrofula, except possibly ichthyosis.
