The tendency of the age seems to be towards the centralization of pie. This is bound to make the thin man thinner and the fat man fatter. From teenth pie for each child of school age. Gentlemen, this letter is already too long. I can add nothing more unless it be yours, truly, BULL NYP.

Ayer's Hair Vigor keeps the hair fresh and bright. It restores a natu-ral color to faded and gray hair, and Fire last Monday caused by lime slacking in the rain destroyed a warehouse on Commercial wharf, Port Townsend, entailing a loss of $15,000. The wind was blowing fur-iously, and had it not been raining in torrents a disaster to the whole city would have resulted. The prin cipal loss was on 585 chests of tea valued at nine thousand dollars, held in San Francisco. It was consigned to Seattle and Tacoma. The remainder of the loss was on household goods and building material con-

Breathing the Germa of Disease.

Breathing the Germs of Disease. To inhale the germs of diseases with their daily breath is the fate of denirens of malaria focurged localities everywhere. The endemic atmospheric poison may, however, be reft of its venom and rendered innoxious by a defensive use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This pre-eminently safe and effect-five remedy and asfeguard hot mly eradientes the disease when, developed, but enables the system to safely brave its assaults. Every physical function is confirmed in or restored to regularity, the circulation quickened if sluggish, and a bilious habit, which of itself begets a pronences to both intermittent and remittent types of malarial disease, where fully counteracted by this inminiable forti-fying and defensive agent, which has more-over, none of the diraguesable characteris-ties of a drastic eathartic or an alkaloid. MR. WILLIAM NYS: Knowing that you are a friend of the travelling man, we do not hesitate to ask your opinion we do not hesitate to ask your opinion or advice as to what course we should pursue in a matter of vital impor-tance to us. The proprietor of the Hallibert Honse, Red Cloud, Neb., the leading hostlery there, insists upon cutting one pie in sixteen pieces, which only gives one-six-teenth of a pie to the commercial man. We have remonstrated with

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Sept. 15, 1889.

Messrs. Reed, Hicks, Thompson and GENTLEMEN: Your favor, dated at Concordia, Kan., 22d ult., is now in front of me as I write. I hate to come in between the commercial man and the hotels in a case of this kind, especially in order to monkey with relations that are already strained, and yet something ought to be said at this time or we may easily foresee that the overworked Ameri can pie will at length be compelled by reason of brain fag to abandon the proud position which it now holds relative to our interstate commerce. I would like to treat this matter in a way to insure harmony between the travelling man and the hotel, if possible; and yet I must confess that I cannot refer to pie in a purely un-partisan spirit. Pie, I may truth-fully say, seems to lie nearer my heart at times than, anything else within the great realm of groceries. I know that commercial men are prone to ask too much of the hatels at times, and thus they inflame the proprietors. I have known of many such instances in which the tourist was clearly in the wrong; but the outrages were always perpetrated by traveling men whose early lives had been passed in obscurity. They were men who knew how to catch a train or to tell in a rich union-depot tone of voice how many goods they sold in that town, but they do not adorn so-ciety very much. These are the ex-ception, however. They are men who represent small houses, and sleep on four seats in the day-coach, with their feet on the velvet colar of the unassuming capitalist who sits in the adjoining pew. But I was a traveling man once for two weeks, and I have always sym-pathized with those who followed this business for a livelihood. For SOLD EVERYWHERE, some years I had yearned to be comnominal figure, but there is nothing so puffed up or so egotistical as a prosperous business house, and so they continued to struggle on without me. Finally, I went on the road in the interests of Warner's White Wine and Tar Syrup-a peparation that would take an old pair of secondhand lungs and brighten them up so that a man needn't be ashamed to dress up in them and wear them into the best society. People say that traveling men are too forward and too bold, and ought to do a little more of the blush un-seen business, but I found when I was on the road that I had to be bold, especially at the hotels, for the clerks were bold, the porters were also in several instances extremely so. If I did not demand the bridal chamber I generally got tes chest No. 6%, with no knob on the door, and when I would punch the button on the denunciator it would fall off with a low tremulous sound and roll under to do a little more of the blush-un- 109 railways. S. where the guests rinse them off thoroughly in a vain altempt to get a lather out of them. After they are dried the proprietor replaces them on the duors and the soiled set go into the soap dishes. This hotel is now called the duor knob chop house, and with the slippery elm towel and with the slippery elm towel adopted there a polish is given to the guest which he might otherwise the gnest which he might otherwise never secure. Gentlemen, in conclusion, I hardly know what to say, unless it be to add that whatever you may decide to do toward the purification of this great pie evil, provided you do not actually endanger human life, you may safely rely upon me and count me in. Pie enters into the life of every true American, and an unfair division of pie will certainly lead to open hostil-ity and possibly intestine war. Do not trust the man who robs you of your pie in order that he may thrust your pie in order that he may thrust it into his own corrupt system.
