The steamer Alki arrived at Port Townsend from the wreck of the Ancon last Wednesday. She had on board 4,800 cases of salmon for D. Morgan of this city. Nine of the Ancon's boats were brought down and she was stripped of all her cordage. The Alki has also on board 10,000 cases salmon for San Francisco. She will discharge the 4,800 cases salmon here and then proceed with the other 10,000 cases to San Francisco.

La Grande must be a poker town judging from the following in a local paper. Stud poker is one of the pop-ular games of eastern Oregon, and it would be difficult to strike a town where such a game is not played. The gang has been hitting the thing pretty hard in La Grande the past week, but behind closed doors. One set of high rollers stuck to their chairs forty-eight hours, and several dollars changed hands. Betting must have been lively for as high as $350 was staked on jack high, and the call was made by the man who had king high. king high.

The Pendleton East Oregonian says: Agent Moorehouse had in his possession last evening a goodly "sack," containing about $4,000 with which to pay the quarterly salaries of the agency employes. Uncle Sam spends about $50,000 annually on the Umatilla Indians—gives them faud; buys their plows, seeders, threshers; hires an agent, carpenter, doctor, blacksmith, etc., for their benefit; supports a school for the adjustion of their a school for the education of their young, and does everything in his power to make them comfortable. And yet it is said that sometimes the heart of the red man yearneth for better things, and he says unto himself in choice Cayuse: "The paleface doth rise up in his might and oppress me, and I cannot redress my grievances, for the tomahawk is buried deep, and the white man is as numerous as the eaves on the trees.

R. Clinton, alias Perry, who has just been sentenced to the penitentiary for two years, first went to East Portland before he went the Portland, and was attached to the Vindicator in the capacity of advertising solicitor, and by his smooth address was very successful; but when to gamblers made their appearance in East Portland he at once became their tool in an attempt to keep out of the papers all reference to them. Before the gam-blers were driven out of a saloon on L street, Clinton offered a reporter a large sum of money "to leave them alone." When Brown started his gambling hall on L street, a few "shots" in the papers brought Clinton to the surface as an emisary from Brown. His marriage of Miss Zimmerman was the crowning act of infamy in East Portland. When the wedding day was set the first time, Clinton did not "show up" until four

The local insurance war continues. The Eastern Mutual or Armstrong agency is doing a good business, cutting Insurance Union rates 40 per cent. The union managers met yes-terday and by a vote of 39 to 11 de cided to admit the fighting companie under certain conditions, but the local agent of the Armstrong companies says it is now too late for such action. This war may result in breaking up if they are admitted. In the meantime the Mutual Com-bination is doing a large business on the basis of the 40 per cent. cut. Many merchants have cancelled their policies in other companies and have insured with the war-making firm. Yesterday the agency in this city was kept busy attending to applications from merchants who wanted their premises examined for insurance. S. F. Alta, 2.

"Since our advertisement appeared," says Mr. Van Slyke, "our clerical force has been driven night and day writing When people find that they polities. can get insurance at 40 per cent. be-low current rates in good solid companies, with a chance to participate in the profits, it is not surprising, that they want to avail themselves of the opportunity. Added to the reduction we offer another advantage which is appreciated in large business houses.

It is bound to Recent measurements of the fishing grounds off the coast of Washington by the United States steamer Albatross show that the Flattery bank covers an area of about 1,100 square miles, the lowest water, 27 fathoms, the lowest water are companies are not admitted his people will withdraw. not admitted his people will withdraw Another manager says if they are ad mitted his company will draw out at once. So you see it is only a question of time before the concern goes to pieces. It will be hard on the insurance brokers, but it can't be helped." S. F. Chronicle, 2.

The Pacific Insurance Union is threatened with enemies without, and dissensions within, that bid fair to break the compact before long. The worst feature of the whole matter, if the current street talk of insurance men can be relied on, is that the gen eral manager, deeming himself all sufficient to engineer the business, has not heeded the explicit instructions of the board of managers, and through his arbitrary action has brought the Union into its present trouble. The Armstrong combination has already declared war on the compact, and it Several members of the Minneapolis is stated the Commercial Union Assurin the constitution.
