VOL. XXXIII, NO. 98. ASTORIA, OREGON, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1889. PRICE FIVE CENTS

The Teacher

Who advised her pupils to strengthen their minds by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, appreciated the truth that solidly health is essential to mental vigor. For persons of delicate and feeble constitution, whether young or old, this medicine is remarkably beneficial. Be sure you get Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring and fall I take a number of bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and am greatly benefited."—Mrs. James H. Eastman, Stoneham, Mass.

"I have taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla with great benefit to my general health."—Miss Thirza L. Grant, Palmyra, Md.

"My daughter, twelve years of age, has suffered for the past year from General Debility.

A few weeks since, we began to give her Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Her health has greatly improved."—Mrs. Harriet H. Battles, South Chelmsford, Mass.

"About a year ago I began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for debility and neuralgia resulting from malarial exposure in the army. I was in a very bad condition, but six bottles of the Sarsaparilla, with occasional doses of Ayer's Pills, have greatly improved my health. I am now able to work, and feel that I cannot say too much for your excellent remedies."—F. A. Pinkham, South Molunness, Me.

"My daughter, sixteen years old, is using Ayer's Sarsaparilla with good effect."—Mrs. K. J. Graham, United Brethren Church, Buckhannon, W. Va.

"I suffered from

Nervous Prostration,

with lame back and headache, and have been much benefited by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I am now 80 years of age, and am satisfied that my present health and prolonged life are due to the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Lucy Moffitt, Killbuck, Ohio.

Mrs. Ann H. Farnsworth, a lady 79 years old, of Woodstock, Vt., writes: "After several weeks' suffering from nervous prostration, I procured a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken half of it my usual health returned."

A PLANTERS EXPERIENCE.

"My plantation is in a malarial district where fever and ague prevails. I employ 150 hands; frequently half of them were sick. I was nearly discouraged when I began the use of

Tutt's Pills

The result was marvellous. My men became strong and hearty, and I have had no further trouble. With these pills, I would not fear to live in any swamp."—E. RIVALLI, Bayona, S. C.

THEY ATE HUMAN FLESH.

And Drank The Blood to Keep Alive.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 25.—Carl Graves, fireman, and Ludwig Loder, seaman, survivors of the crew of the steamship Erinmore, told last night a horrible story in detail of the way they sustained life by cannibalism for days. Loder says: "The only food we had for fifteen days in the boat was flying fish and a few raw small sea birds, to be divided among eleven men."

"On the sixteenth day, William Davis, a seaman, caught me by the throat and made a dash at my head with a knife. He cut me on the right cheek, the scar from which still remains, as you see. He was told to kill me by August Plagge, a fireman. When Davis began to cut me some of my companions caught him, but others shouted: 'Kill him! Kill him! We want something to eat; we are starving.' It seems that Plagge, Davis and the others in one end of the boat decided that I should die as I suppose, being pretty fat. I looked inviting."

"Plagge was placed on watch that night, but he was missing next morning. No one saw him go overboard."

"On the seventeenth day William Robinson lay down to sleep. When they tried to call him they found him dead. I was determined to eat his flesh, and William Wright the cook was ordered to carve the body. The first thing done was to smash in Robinson's skull, and from the fracture each one sucked the blood as long as it would last, which was but a little while. Then the cook stripped the flesh from the ribs, and placed it on top of the water-tight compartments, to dry in the sun. After taking out Robinson's liver, heart and other parts which would furnish blood to be sucked, they threw the mutilated body into the sea."

"Two days after Robinson's death, the third engineer, Thomas Hunt died; his body was also cut up for food."

"In about three days the limbs and feet of all began to swell, and several have since broken out in ugly sores. We think it is caused by poison from the human flesh and blood."

Both Graves and Loder say they have no recollection of the taste of the human flesh, so great was their mental anguish at the time. Their only recollection of taking the food is feeling their own blood quicken as it coursed through their veins.

Some Florida Wells.

Florida has some wonderful wells. Henry Turner lost a calf, and supposing it had fallen into a well, J. S. M. Hodge, of Jonesville consented to go down. Descending about 40 feet he discovered a cave. Listening he heard at a distance the tinkling of a bell that was tied to the calf's neck, calling to the top for assistance, he got his brother to go down with a lantern. They started to crawl through the crevice and proceeded about 100 yards when they came to a large cavern. Before them was a body of water into which the calf had fallen. They managed to throw a rope around it and pull it out. These natural wells are among the wonders unexplained. It is believed by many that in ages past the ground sunk in, leaving these round holes in the solid rock. Mr. Hodge uses the water from one of these wells for drinking. It is 60 feet deep, and the water is cold, clear and pure.

Herculean Strength

Continually on the strain, or overtaxed at intervals, is far less desirable than ordinary vigor perpetuated by rational diet and exercise, and abstention from excess. Professional pugilists and athletes rarely attain extreme old age. As ordinary vigor may be retained by a wise regard for sanitary living, and for the protection against disease which timely and judicious medication affords, so also it may be lost through prolonged sedentary labor, interrupted mental strain, and foolish eating and drinking, the chief and most immediate sequence of all four being dyspepsia. For this condition, then, or in any other ailment, not only indigestion, but loss of flesh, appetite and sleep are remedied by it. Incipient malaria and rheumatism are banished, and kidney, bowel and liver complaint removed by it.

Some stalks of corn raised on the farm of Mr. Jennings, near Halsey,

Why mother give their children such deadly poison is surprising when they can relieve the child of its peculiar troubles by using Ayer's Baby Soother. It contains no Opium or Morphine. Sold by J. W. Conn, Druggist.

MY BLIND SLOUGH ACQUAINTANCES.

The first of my acquaintances in the Blind Sough district was Jack Lambert, a merry old soul. He hunts and he traps and the bottle he taps, and it's no use to preach temperance till Jack's in the hole.

Then there is Impo, who I believe is quite honest. Though bad whiskey he sold for many a day.

But the proceeds in a farm he invested, and with a pretty wife and two youngsters I think there he will stay.

Then there is Nilson, 'poor Victor,' God pity his plight! He has hunted and searched for a wife, but in vain, and now he contents himself in a mansion that floats on two logs and don't keep out the rain.

There's Gus Hilstrom, the lord of this great Blind Sough nation, to whom the neighbors all go to get good advice. He is jovial and pleasant, but it won't do to bluff him. For Jimmy Connor says he will fight in a trice.

The next on the programme is old Billy Peterson, Poor gun-boot, a laughable object to view; He rustles and tussles, and makes plenty noise, but he is best contented when he has nothing to do.

Axel Hilstrom, the dandy, "in his own estimation," Who tries to catch all the girls, one by one, as they sprout; But the last break he made was the worst of his failures, As Oscar, his rival, again cut him out.

There are many more in this Blind Sough dominion, Too numerous to mention, I could name them by scores. There are Horgunda and Borglunds, Pensons and Andersons, And take them in general, they are jolly old tars.

GUARD AGAINST THE STRIKE.

And always have a bottle of Acker's English Remedy in the house. You cannot tell how soon Cramp may strike your little one, or a cold or cough may fasten itself upon you. One dose is a preventive and a few doses a positive cure. All Throat and Lung troubles yield to its treatment. A sample bottle is given you free and the Remedy guaranteed by J. W. Conn, Druggist.

WE CAN AND DO

Guarantee Acker's Blood Elixir for it has been fully demonstrated to the people of this country that it is superior to all other preparations for blood diseases. It is a positive cure for syphilitic poisoning, Ulcers, Eruptions and Pimples. It purifies the whole system and thoroughly builds up the constitution. J. W. Conn, Druggist.
