Constipation

Demands prompt treatment. The results of neglect may be serious. Avoid all harsh and drastic purgatives, the tendency of which is to weaken the bowels. The best remedy is Ayer's Pills. Being purely vegetable, their action is prompt and their effect always beneficial. They are an admirable Liver and After-dinner pill, and everywhere endorsed by the profession.

"Ayer's Pills are highly and universally spoken of by the people about here. I make daily use of them in my practice."—Dr. L. E. Fowler, Bridgeport, Conn.

"I can recommend Ayer's Pills above all others, having long proved their value as a cathartic for myself and family."—J. T. Hess, Leithsville, Pa.

"For several years Ayer's Pills have been used in my family. We find them an for constipation and indigestion, and are never without them in the house."—Moses Grenier, Lowell, Mass.

"I have used Ayer's Pills, for liver troubles and indigestion, during many years, and have always found them prompt and efficient in their action."—L. N. Smith, Utica, N. Y.

"I suffered from constipation which assumed such an obstinate form that I feared it would cause a stoppage of the bowels. Two boxes of Ayer's Pills effected a complete cure."—D. Burke, Saco, Me.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past thirty years and consider them an invaluable family medicine. I know of no better remedy for liver troubles, and have always found them a prompt cure for dyspepsia."—James Quinn, 30 Middle St., Hartford, Conn.

"Having been troubled with costiveness, which seems inevitable with persons of sedentary habits, I have tried Ayer's Pills, hoping for relief. I am glad to say that they have served me better than any other medicine. I arrive at this conclusion only after a faithful trial of their merits."—Samuel T. Jones, Oak St., Boston, Mass.

A SYSTEMATIC FRAUD.

How Dakota Boomers Deceive Unsuspecting People.

Secretary Struble, of the board of immigration, has just received some photographs of Oregon's exhibits at Detroit, and also the one at William's Grove, Pa. The latter was spread out for the benefit of a granger's picnic, and a group of a hundred or more Pennsylvania farmers is to be seen standing about the tent. The faces of W. L. Sherman, P. C. Kauffman and E. N. Morgan, who went east with the car, are conspicuous in the foreground. The latter gentleman arranged the cereals and grasses.

The display at Detroit, as represented in the picture, was very beautiful. The boards upon which the various articles were fastened, were ranged about the booth in splendid taste, and showed off to great advantage. This is the same display that was taken to Buffalo, Mr. Morgan tells some interesting tales concerning the advertisements of the west. He says there are a lot of Dakota boomers in the east, who carry Oregon wheat, and represent it as having been grown in their district. He stated that while looking through one of their exhibits he found a sample of wheat he had put up in the stalk from wheat grown on Mr. W. S. Ladd's farm. He recognized it by a peculiar string which he tied to the sample in arranging it.

He called the boomer's attention to the fact with considerable pleasure. Mr. Morgan says visitors to the Oregon booth would say: "Why, we see just as fine wheat as yours at the Dakota booth," to which the reply was that it was all Oregon wheat. "There is only one place in the world," said Mr. Morgan, "where such grain as ours can be grown, and that place is Oregon. Minnesota, Dakota, Wisconsin and Montana are all using our products to feather their nests with, and they do it systematically, too."

Caution to Mothers.

Every mother is cautioned against giving her child lullamum or paregoric; it creates an unnatural craving for stimulants which kills the mind or the child. How To Best Manage a Husband.

1. Give him flattery in delicate doses. Let him know (I mean that he knows) that you consider him the handsomest man living. He won't believe you? Indeed he will; he may call you a goose and think you are the only one in the world who thinks him handsome, but you can convince him that in your eyes he is beautiful and once convinced of that he is your slave. Praise him whenever you can. Thank him for his little favors. Tell him a better husband never lived. Exhibit surprise at his thoughtfulness and astonishment at his generosity. By so doing you will gratify his vanity and at the same moment fire him with a desire to be worthy of the praise. It is to your interest to study the art of flattery, but give it to him in crisp homopathic doses. Don't gush.

2. Don't give him the satisfaction of seeing you angry. You have seen him out of temper and you know you have never quite got over the contempt you felt for the display, so don't give him an equal advantage over you. But don't boast of your good disposition, that will only make him mad; tell him sweetly sometimes you are glad you were born without temper and then drop the subject.

3. Don't make a draft horse of yourself. The less you do the more you will be appreciated. Take excellent care of yourself, to preserve your health and beauty; do not be extravagant and yet do not boast of your strength. A woman who has strength enough for pleasure but not enough for work is to be envied. If you do an endless round of domestic work for fifteen years and at the same time raise a family, you will be an old broken down woman. If you take care of yourself you will be young after thirty years of married life.

4. Always keep yourself neatly and prettily dressed, and as a setting for the picture have your surroundings as lovely as possible. Don't save things for the next generation, enjoy them yourself.

5. Be sure you get enough to eat; good food is a preserver of beauty and will also make your husband good natured.

6. Keep yourself well informed on all matters of interest particularly those which interest him, and always pretend an interest in his pleasures. Share them, too.

7. Don't sacrifice your own wishes. Have your own way when you know you are right and keep your own secrets, too, if necessary. He will respect you more than if you tell everything.

8. Never nag or scold, you gain nothing by that; you gain everything by tact and patience. Don't try to absolutely rule his life, (at least, don't let him know it), but influence him all you can. If he wishes to do anything which you oppose, don't discuss the matter, lead the mind away from it, and nine times out of ten he will forget he ever intended to do it, when open opposition would only make him obstinate as a mule. There are a thousand ways of getting a man to change his mind which are each better than asking him to.

9. Try to be as charming to other men as you can to him. The man who loves no other man admires his wife is apt to grow indifferent. For the same reason never let him suspect that you could not have married others, and perhaps done better than by taking him.

10. If you are jealous of any tangible wrong don't show it, but make a great fuss of being jealous over things in general. This is a fine distinction, but an important one. If he has really wronged you it will only make him worse to talk about it, when love and gentleness will almost invariably win him back. At the same time he will be pleased to think you are jealous of the hours he spends at his business or the pleasure you cannot share.

11. This is the most important of all. Whether you were maid or widow never let him know that you loved before you met him. If a widow tell him you respected and honored your first husband and married him to please your father, but of love you never knew. Do not represent your married life as having been especially happy, murmur something about "unsatisfied longings," you will find it pays. If a maid, tell him you tried to love the man to whom you were engaged, but could not, and broke the engagement because you were not really in love. Well, perhaps not, but there are times when a little untruth is better than life-long jealousy and unhappiness, and this is one of the times.

12. Make the best of everything.

FOR LADIES ONLY.

It takes the place of a doctor and costly prescriptions. All who are afflicted with indigestion, headache, biliousness, piles and mental depression. No loss of time, no interference with business while taking. For children it is most innocent and harmless. No danger from exposure after taking. Cures Colic, Diarrhoea, Bowel Complaints, Feverishness and Febrile Colds. Invalids and delicate persons will find it the mildest and sweetest of all medicines. A little taken at night insures refreshing sleep and a natural evacuation of the bowels. A little taken in the morning sharpens the appetite, cleanses the stomach, and sweetens the breath.

A PHYSICIAN'S OPINION.
"I have been practicing medicine for twenty years and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action, and at the same time invigorate and strengthen the digestive and assimilative powers of the system."
L. M. HAYSON, M.D., Washington, Ark.

Marks of Genuine: Look for the Trade-Mark on front of Wrapper, and the Seal and Signature of J. C. Ayer & Co., in red, on the side. Take no other.

Melancholy or Despondency.

Commonly called the "blues," generally proceeds from a sluggish Liver. It either causes Dyspepsia, or follows it, being both cause and effect. To cure it take Simmons Liver Regulator.

"I was so sick and low spirited I would have given anything to get well; and if anyone had ensured me the good health produced by using Simmons Liver Regulator, and charged me a thousand dollars, I would have gladly paid it—in fact, $10,000 would be worth less to me than what it has done for me."
—GEO. F. BARRETT, MACON, GA.

A Duty to Yourself.

It is surprising that people will use a common, ordinary pill when they can secure a valuable English one for the same money. Dr. Acker's English pills are a positive cure for sick-headache and all liver troubles. They are small, sweet, easily taken and do not gripe. J. W. Conn, Druggist.
