

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1890.

ASTORIA'S railroad will be a broad gauge railroad. Astoria's city charter ought to be a broad gauge charter.

A SEATTLE paper publishes all mortgages recorded there. The editor says he fears no foe. It certainly looks that way.

The "Habeas Corpus" is the name of a new saloon near the Portland court house.

The president has issued a proclamation designating Thursday, the 28th inst., as Thanksgiving day. As a prosperous part of a prosperous nation, this section has much to be thankful for, and we will observe Thanksgiving day by patriotically eating a better dinner than usual.

The people of British Columbia desire that American steamers now running regularly to provincial ports should enjoy the same privileges as heretofore. They fear the Ottawa prohibition order will interfere with the handling of Canadian bonded freight and put an end to the rapidly increasing business between Victoria, Astoria and Portland.

The salmon pack this year discloses one important fact, viz: that the Alaskan coast will soon be "fished out," and that the Columbia river, with proper care will furnish millions of the unrivaled Chinook salmon, when the memory of the salmon of the "teeming waters of Alaska," will have gone glimmering through the dreams of things that were. This is just the opposite of what was thought would be the case, but facts demonstrate the certainty of the idea.

The San Diego Cal. county grand jury charge Douglass Gunn, the mayor of the city, with being drunk for several weeks, and call upon him to resign. They doubtless overstate the facts. Gunn is an example of how prosperity hurts a man. He ran the Union from '68 till '86 and many a time after paying the compositors on a Saturday night, didn't have $2.50 left. He was the only newspaper man in that county that had the nerve to take dispatches or get out anything like a newspaper. In '86 he sold the Union at the height of the boom, for $48,000, and since then has been troubled with a surplus in the treasury.

The legality of several timber claims is now in question before the Seattle land office in the case of the United States vs. Russel A. Alger, and others, involving the title to twelve quarter sections of alleged timber land in Whatcom county. The land was taken up in 1883 and transferred to Messrs. Alger and Hawley, who paid five dollars per acre and agreed to pay seven more when a patent was received from the United States. The entries have been held for cancellation on the report of a special agent who claims the land to be agricultural. Much of the land in western Washington taken under the timber land act is doubtless adapted to agriculture and if the cases of the government against Gov. Alger et al establishes the fact that such land is not subject to entry under the timber land innumerable contests will probably follow. The case has now been running eight weeks and is probably not over half through.

AN ASTONISHING CHANGE.

"My dear madam, I never saw you looking so well, and you were so poorly, too." "Yes, doctor, Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is the grandest thing in the world for run-down, nervous and debilitated women. That's the secret of my appearance."

The editor of the Waitsburg Times offers a carload of cats for sale, and the Walla Walla Herald the same quantity of dogs; the Walla Walla Statesman rejoins by desiring to dispose of the same amount of those garden ravishers, the city cow, and the Albany Democrat offers for sale several box car loads of mongrel tramps. To make its generosity equal to its neighbors, the Times-Mountaineer states that "inducements for emigration" to about one hundred of the worst class of hoodlums who ever disgraced a city.

Specials to The Astorian.

PORTLAND, Nov. 2.—A twenty-seven hours' go as you please walking match will be started to-night at the old pavilion. The start will be made at eight o'clock, and the time set for the finish is eleven o'clock next Sunday night. The affair will be conducted by Mr. Gerah who will start ten pedestrians among whom will be several women.

AN ESCAPE RECAPTURED. This morning at 3 o'clock deputy sheriff Fitzsimmons and John Curtin, the city marshal of Albina, captured Marion H. Stevens, one of the men who broke jail last Sunday, on the freight train at Kalama, and brought him to this city.

REMARKS FROM MR. TAYLOR. Mr. Taylor said to-day: "I do not know what those alleged errors are any more than readers of your paper do. This I can say: It is the first trouble ever reported concerning any of my work."

A SPLENDID SHOWING. WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Miles C. Moore, governor of Washington territory in his annual report says: The closing year in Washington of its territorial existence was one of unexampled prosperity. The population is now fully 275,000, and has increased more rapidly than in any former year. The property valuation shows a gain of nearly 50 per cent.

Railroad construction has been very active and business houses, banking institutions and manufacturing establishments are multiplex. The sales of the land by the Northern Pacific and entries at the United States land office have been unprecedentedly large. Of great disasters Washington has had an undue share. The business portions of four cities, Seattle, Vancouver, Ellensburg and Spokane Falls have been destroyed by fire involving a loss of not less than $16,000,000.

TO BE REMOVED. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—Geo. W. Childs yesterday said the body of General Grant would probably be removed from New York to West Point, or the Arlington cemetery near Washington. The movement has been on foot for some time. The Grand Army men favor Arlington and the regular army officers West Point. The decision rests with Mrs. Grant whom Mr. Childs expects to see in a short time.

FISHING AND SEALING QUESTIONS. OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—It is rumored here that deputy minister of fisheries Tilton has been visiting Sir Julian Pauncefote, British minister at Washington, regarding the forthcoming conference between the latter and Mr. Blaine on the Canadian fishing and sealing troubles. Pauncefote seems anxious to act in harmony with the Canadian authorities, and it is believed in official circles that a new treaty will be negotiated within the next six months.

A TEMPERANCE TOWN. CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 2.—A company with General Clinton B. Fisk, late prohibition candidate for president, has purchased 100,000 acres of land on the Cincinnati Southern railroad on which a temperance town will be started, to be named Harrison.

SUCCESSFUL EXPERIENCE. Remarkable Results That Have Followed the Use of Electricity.

CLIPPED AND CONDENSED.

News Items From all Over the Northwest.

Seven inches of snow at Spokane Falls. A prospector struck a pocket near Robinsonville, Grant county, last week and took out $7,000 with a hand mortar.

Lots at Gray's harbor, which last June could have been bought for $75 to $100 are now held as high as $3,000.

A bonus of $9,000 was raised at Grant's Pass for the rebuilding of the Sugar Pine lumber mill, burned there recently. That is a good indication of enterprise.

The Budget boasts that "Lexington has a female engineer in the person of Miss Lavina Hope, aged 15, who manages her father's planing mill." A good place for a second engineer.

The Albany Herald claims to be in possession of information from a highly reliable source that the Chicago & Northwestern deal will not prevent the Oregon Pacific road from making its eastern connection.

At the Wallowa county term of court the grand jury returned "not a true bill" in the case of a man charged with horse stealing, but added that "they thought he ought to have an opportunity to prove his innocence."

The time was up in Washington last Saturday for fixing war claims of the states of Oregon, California and Nevada. Senator Mitchell visited Captain Mullen, agent for those claims, and had the time extended.

The Oregon Iron & Steel company are shipping twenty tons of cast iron pipe and twenty tons of pig iron per day to San Francisco, which shows that there is a good demand for iron in California and also that Oregon is ready to supply it.

It is not exactly the thing for a city to use money for grading streets that was contributed by neighboring towns for the relief of distressed citizens. The Ellensburg Register acknowledges that this is done at Ellensburg.

The impression exists among the Portland detectives that H. E. Gibbs, the colored murderer, is in southern Oregon, where he must sooner or later be apprehended. They believe that on the Sunday following the day of the murder he was in Bonneville.

The Eugene Register gets it from reliable authority that the militia company in Eugene will be disbanded about the first of next April, at which time most of the members will have served their three years. The boys have no good place to drill and have lost all interest in the business.

Over thirty booms have been sent out during the past week and about twenty-five men are employed all the time.—Aberdeen Herald. Albany has its hands full of one boom, and about the same number of men are employed in running it; but it is a good healthy one, and everybody is spiked for the business.—Albany Democrat.

Says an emissary of one of the Washington senatorial candidates to the Yakima Herald: "It will cost Watson C. Squire far upwards of $50,000 if he is elected senator. Some of this will go to the newspaper men. I know of one in Spokane Falls who received $900 in one draft, and another in Walla Walla who got $250."

That it pays to advertise is proven by the Pasco scheme. One thousand persons purchased there last month, and nearly every reader in the northwest is compelled to "keep an eye on Pasco." Sixteen men put $16,000 together and bought a tract of land, but they are selling at an advance on the strength of the advertising which the place is receiving.

There is a movement on foot, backed by some eastern capitalists to improve the Lewis river for logging purposes; the scheme is to place a large pocket boom below the mouth and a shear boom above, put in numerous pocket booms, along the upper side, improve the banks, dam the small mountain streams so as to collect water for discharge when the river is low. The company expects to invest about $100,000 or $150,000.

Friday morning, says the Portland Telegram, just as the Southern Pacific had landed a lot of passengers at the west pontoon of the F-street ferry, a chubby little newsboy ran up to a woolly looking individual, and confronted him with a query: "Oregonian, sir?"

"No, not by a jug full, you little devil, I'm just in from California," replied the thoroughly disgusted traveler, as he went off muttering, "Taken for a woolfoot 'b' gosh."

Mr. Harriot, of McMinnville, who is in the neighborhood of eighty years old, wants to get married. This information he gives to everybody, the girls especially. The other day, says the Telephone Register, he repaired to the house of a young lady whom he was smitten on, and invited her to take a buggy ride. She promised him that she would go and he made preparations. He met her on the street several times after that and she ignored him; this angered the old man, and one day last week he went to the house at which the girl was working and began to upbraid her. The lady weighs about ten stone and is "husky," and she made a rush upon Mr. Harriot and caught him, holding him until another girl bound him with ropes. After this the girls had a great time doing pretty nearly everything a couple of girls could think of. To use Mr. Harriot's own words he was "in great danger of losing his manhood." After the affair was over and the old man was turned loose he went to recorder Spencer to have the girls arrested for "personal indignities to his person," but no arrests were made. He is now busily engaged telling every one his adventure.
