The Favorite

Medicine for Throat and Lung Difficulties has long been, and still is, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It cures Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, and Asthma; soothes irritation of the Larynx and Fauces; strengthens the Vocal Organs; allays soreness of the Lungs; prevents Consumption, and, even in advanced stages of that disease, relieves Coughing and induces Sleep. There is no other preparation for diseases of the throat and lungs to be compared with this remedy.

"My wife had a distressing cough, with pains in the side and breast. We tried various medicines, but none did her any good until I got a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has cured her. A neighbor, Mrs. Glenn, had the measles, and the cough was relieved by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I have no hesitation in recommending this to every one afflicted."—Robert Horton, Foreman Headlight, Morrilton, Ark.

Cough Medicine

"I have been afflicted with asthma for forty years. Last spring I was taken with a violent cough, which threatened to terminate my days. Every one pronounced me in consumption. I determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Its effects were magical. I was immediately relieved and continued to improve until entirely recovered."—Joel Bullard, Guilford, Conn.

"Six months ago I had a severe hemorrhage of the lungs, brought on by an incessant cough which deprived me of sleep and rest. I tried various remedies, but obtained no relief until I began to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. A few bottles of this medicine cured me."—Mrs. E. Coburn, 19 Second st., Lowell, Mass.

"For children afflicted with colds, coughs, sore throat, or croup, I do not know of any remedy which will give more speedy relief than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I have found it, also, invaluable in cases of Whooping Cough."—Ann Lovejoy, 1237 Washington street, Boston, Mass.

Repeal of The Pre-emption Law.

BISMARCK, N. D., Nov. 15.—The point was informally raised to-day by F. M. Dudley, of the legal department of the Northern Pacific railway, in the United States land office, that the pre-emption law had been repealed by the act of congress providing for the admission of the new states. It looks as if it were intended to repeal the eighth section of the act of 1841 as to the donation of 500,000 acres of public land to the new states for public improvements, but the text includes not only the repeal of the section but of the whole law. The land department has not had its attention called to it yet, but it is certain that the commissioner will be called upon for an opinion, and if this opinion is adverse the question will be carried into the courts. The repeal referred to has also decided a very large number of cases where the Northern Pacific company is party. If the law is repealed, all pre-emption filings where the final proof has not been made, are defeated. This necessarily involves the rights of every pre-emptor who has not proved up in the four states.

Have you taken a cold? You can cure it promptly with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The safest remedy for throat and lung troubles.

Death From a Whale Stroke.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—The steamer Bachelona has arrived from the Arctic. October 6, while the steamer was to the west of Point Barrow, she had several boats out. One of them was in charge of second mate Dugan. A whale was sighted and a chase was given. Dugan's boat being in the lead. A harpoon was thrown and the monster was hooked. The boat was close upon him, and as he lashed out his tail one of his flukes struck a whaler named Oliver Quintell, knocking him into the water and killing him instantly. The boat narrowly escaped being capized. Quintell was a young man and a native of Australia.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Its record of forty years is one of triumph over blood diseases.

Exchanges note the fact that hay is being shipped to The Dalles as far east as Nebraska, and it is selling for $19 per ton. It is said there will be a great scarcity of feed throughout western Oregon and Washington this winter, and unless the cold and storm are tempered to the trembling cattle much loss is bound to ensue. But not so here where the grass is green from November to November.

That blow "nobody any good" are plenty on the storm-vexed Atlantic, to say nothing of the occasionally typhoon-swept Pacific. The hapless voyager, when shaken up by the "briny," should take that pleasant and most salutary of doses, a wineglassful of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the finest stomachic and tonic that ever warmed, regulated and quieted the human interior. Railroad jolts and steamship shaken travelers will exercise a wise provision by supplying themselves with a sufficiency of this incomparable medicine for the journey. So will mariners, emigrants to the west, and others about to "seek fresh fields and pastures new." Malaria, the scourge of newly cleared and mining districts, is completely conquered and unless averted by the Bitters. Liver, bowel and kidney complaint and ineffectual rheumatism it annihilates.

Two milk cows harnessed to a buggy, formed a part of an immigrant outfit that passed through Baker City the other day. The old gentleman who handled the ribbons over this quaint looking team, now that he has made his trip "the plains across," can settle down and go to raising cattle.

A French Canadian Name.

The New York Post some time ago had a number of communications bearing upon the singular transformations which the names of French Canadians undergo in this country, and a number of rather extraordinary instances were given. To that list, says the Boston Courier, may be added one related by a priest in Connecticut, in whose parish are a number of French Canadians. One day a man came to him to arrange for his approaching marriage, and the priest, who did not recognize him, asked his name.

"My glory-by-night," replied the man, with every appearance of good faith. He did not speak English very fluently, and the priest supposed that he must have misunderstood.

"Your name, I said," he repeated. "What is your name?" "My glory-by-night," the man said again.

"You can't have such a name as that," the priest said; somebody has translated it wrongly for you. What is it in French?" "Magloire Benoit," the man answered.

It was easy to see how the extraordinary combination with which the man announced himself had come about. The good people of Connecticut had pronounced "Benoit" phonetically, and translation had done the rest.

Prophylactic in Sickness.
"Typhoid Fever has broken out again, but wherever Darby's Prophylactic Fluid has been freely used there has been no fever."—M. B. LANCASTER, P. M., Ed. Central Alabamian.

"The fluid is not merely a deodorizer, but a disinfectant—a destroyer of the disease germs in an atmosphere which cannot be breathed without danger."—NEW YORK EVENING POST.

Racing Around The World.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—While Nellie Bly announces her intention of making the tour of the world in seventy-five days, the proprietors of the Cosmopolitan magazine employed Miss Elizabeth Bisland, a newspaper woman, to go the opposite way around and beat Nellie's record. Miss Bisland is now on her way to San Francisco, and will there take the steamer for China.

Miss Bisland is a worker on the Cosmopolitan. She started for San Francisco on fifteen minutes' notice, and will sail from San Francisco on the Oceanic next Thursday. She expects to reach Yokohama December 11, and Hong Kong six days later by special steamer. From China she will go to London, and thence will return to New York, arriving here, according to her plan, January 25. If she succeeds in doing this in seventy-two days she will make the fastest trip on record, and have time to rest before she has to welcome home her dashing rival.

The Mormon Oath Investigation.

SALT LAKE, Nov. 15.—In the continuance of the investigation into the oaths administered in the Mormon ceremonies hostile to the United States to-day, Levi Axtell swore that the penalty for divulging the secrets was death. It was understood that the setting up of the kingdom of the God on the ruins of the United States meant that the Mormon church was to rule.

Catarth Cured.
A clergyman, after years of suffering from that loathsome disease, Catarth, and vainly trying every known remedy, at last found a recipe which completely cured and saved him from death. Any sufferer from this dreadful disease sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to Prof. J. A. Lawrence, 88 Warren St., New York City, will receive the recipe free of charge.
