ASTORIA, OREGON, SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1889.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

DEMENT'S ASTORIA

This tract is beautifully located on the John Day Slope; joins Riverside on the East and Columbia Second Addition on the North.

It is by far the most beautiful and sightly piece of land yet offered for sale. The timber is light (small hemlock) and the land can be cleared of every stick and stump for less than thirty dollars ($30) a block. When so cleared it is comparatively level; only enough slope to secure good drainage.

We offer the first twenty (20) blocks at the low price of sixty-five dollars [$65] for inside, and eighty dollars [$80] for corner lots. DON'T WAIT! Don't join that army of people who in less than one year from to-day will congregate on the street corner and tell how they could have bought the City of Astoria for five hundred dollars [$500] and made a fortune, but did'nt. BUY NOW!

Ask For Ayer's

Sarsaparilla, and be sure you get it, when you want the best blood-purifier. With its forty years of unexampled success in the cure of Blood Diseases, you can make no mistake in preferring Ayer's

Sarsaparilla to any other. The fore-runner of modern blood medicines, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is still the most popular, being in greater demand than all others combined.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla is selling faster than ever before. I never hesitate to recommend it."—George W. Whitman, Druggist, Albany, Ind.

"I am safe in saying that my sales of Ayer's Sarsaparilla far exceed those of any other, and it gives thorough satisfaction."—L. H. Bush, Des Moines, Iowa.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's Pills are the best selling medicines in my store. I can recommend them conscientiously."—C. Rickhaus, Pharmacist, Eastland, Ill.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommend it when asked to name the best blood-purifier."—W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

"I have sold your medicines for the last seventeen years, and always keep them in stock, as they are staples. There is nothing so good for the youthful blood as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—R. L. Parker, Fox Lake, Wis.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla gives the best satisfaction of any medicine I have in stock. I recommend it, or, as the Doctors say, 'I prescribe it over the counter.' It never fails to meet the cases for which I recommend it, even where the doctors' prescriptions have been of no avail."—C. F. Calloun, Monmouth, Kansas.

FOR THE GIRLS.

Some Little Pointers About Dressing.

The idea of one-color dresses is gradually growing in favor. By this meant one color for every dress in the wardrobe. Dresses of every color of the rainbow are expensive in the long run; if you are at all fashionable or well bred, you are sure to wear each street dress. Besides, the same ornaments will not go well with every dress, and you are obliged to have different ribbons or fichus with your different house dresses. Now the sensible woman selects one color and wears it in everything. The craze for black led to this notion, and it is a most happy one. A woman looks more sweet, more womanly, more distinguished and more well bred when she wears but one color.

The girl with red hair, bright cheeks and life in every motion selects brown. She wears it in every shade from tan to chocolate. It gives her a dignified and subdued air nothing else would.

Her red haired sister with the all-glasser complexion and slow grace, selects black; in this she is ravishing.

The brown haired girl takes gray, and she makes you think of an angel.

The pure pale blonde takes green; in this she is a perfect poem, whether a goldenrod rising from draperies of dark foliage by day, or a pond lily wreathed in pale foam by night. She don't—Oh! could I write this in letters of fire—she don't wear blue, anything is better than blue on a blonde, only the most remote country girl wears it.

But the girl with dark chestnut hair, fair skin and violet eyes wears blue, and the black-haired brunette wears yellow or black and yellow.

Red is trying for anyone; for a tea-gown it becomes anyone, but an occasional dress of it for the evening is all one wants; it is not nice for the street, except the dark rich shades. Bright red and yellow are the universal colors; they become either blondes or brunettes in the evening. The prettiest sight I ever saw was a pure blonde in an evening dress of brightest scarlet tulle; the next night I saw her in yellow tulle and I was surprised at its becomingness.

Yellow is universally becoming to American women on account of their sallowness, which is also relieved by black.

The white dresses of to-day are light, airy, striped things, not nearly so trying as the dead, white, heavy fabrics of a few years ago.

If you want to dress in one color this winter—say gray, for instance—get a few yards each of heavy gray wool, light gray aural and dark gray silk. Have them all three made simply but well, and don't try any fancy trimmings. Get a stylish, plain gray cloak, a short gray wrap, as handsome as you can afford, and a big gray plush or felt hat trimmed in gray plumes. A small hat with a bow of gray ribbon, several pairs of gloves of the different gray shades, and pretty neck ornaments which will harmonize, will outfit you for the entire season. You will be different from other girls, and yet so sweet, wholesome, pretty and stylish every one will fall in love with you.

Another thing I must beg you to remember is, always use the same sort of perfume and wear the same kind of flowers. These little niceties will stamp you as a girl of good taste and refinement as well as increase your popularity among the opposite sex. X.

Anguish Unpardonable.

Is endured by the victims of inflammatory rheumatism, and any form of the disease may reach that agonizing phase or attack the heart and cause death. Unhappily they who feel its preliminary twinges seldom realize this. Like other possibly dangerous maladies, rheumatism is often disregarded at the outset. Well will it be for him who brief notice shall serve as a warning of future peril or pain to a reader troubled with incipient rheumatism. The proper remedy will be an instantaneous resort to the great preventive depurative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, whose name of professional commendation popular experience has confirmed. There is no finer or more potent antidote to the virus of rheumatism in the system. Botanic in its origin, it is free from the objections attaching to more potent poisons. It is taken in more than 100,000,000 doses annually. The Bitters conquers malaria, indigestion, liver and kidney troubles.

STIMMONS

Nothing like it. Its peculiar efficacy it due as much to the process and skill in compounding as to the ingredients themselves. Take it in time. It checks diseases in the outset, or if they be advanced will prove a potent cure.

No Home should be Without It.

It takes the place of a doctor and costly prescriptions. All who lead sedentary lives will find it the most preventive of and cure for indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Piles and Mental Depression. No loss of time, no interference with business while taking. For children it is most innocuous and harmless. No danger from exposure after taking. Cures Colic, Diarrhoea, Bowel Complaints, Feverishness and Febrile Colds. Invalids and delicate persons will find it the mildest, most agreeable and most effective.

A Little taken at night insures refreshing sleep and a natural evacuation of the bowels. A little taken in the morning sharpens the appetite, cleanses the stomach and secures the bowels.

A PHYSICIAN'S OPINION. "I have been practicing medicine for twenty years and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Stimmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the liver to action, and at the same time do instead of weakening the digestive and assimilative powers of the system."

Dr. M. H. HAYES, Washington, Ark. Marks of Genuine: Look for the red Trade-Mark on front of Wrapper, and the Seal and "Stimmons" on back of Wrapper, and on the side. Take no other.

Biggs—Yes. We are equal partners—he puts in the money and I put in the experience and brains.

Biggs—You put in the experience and brains?

Biggs—Yes.

Biggs—And you are equal partners?

Biggs—Yes.

Biggs—What an immense amount of experience you must have had, Biggs.

Biliousness. We have tested its virtues, personally, and know that for Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Throbbing Headache, it is the best medicine the world ever saw. We tried forty other remedies before we found Stimmons Liver Regulator, but none of them gave us more than temporary relief; the Regulator not only relieved but cured us.—H. H. JONES, Ed. Telegraph and Messenger, Macon, Ga.

Mr. Selby Carter, Nashville, Tenn.: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla cleared my system of scotula."

Not Ourselves, After All.

The formal announcement is made of the birth of a calf without a tail in West Virginia. Such freaks may be scarce in the south, but there are plenty of calves without tails in the east. They wear eye-glasses, don't chaffer-know, to steer by, in place of tails.—Chicago Times.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills contain neither calomel nor any other injurious substance. They stimulate the appetite and regulate the bowels.

The Rev. Dr. John R. Faxton, of New York, is one preacher who has the courage of his convictions. He said in his sermons: "The man who would dare to preach the doctrine of infant condemnation and the doctrine of reprobation as expressed in the confession is not a contemporary of the nineteenth century. He is a contemporary of the seventeenth or eighteenth. He is a survival—but not of the fittest."

Drowned on the Coos Bay Bar.

A sad accident occurred at the entrance to the bay last Thursday, by which B. Petersen and Samuel Jagny lost their lives. It seems that the two unfortunate men, in company with Lyman Nutter and Will Smith, had been prospecting the fishing ground off Cape Arago, and landed their boats at the Big creek fishing station Wednesday, where the party stopped over night. On Thursday forenoon Petersen and Jagny in one boat, and Nutter and Smith in the other, put to sea and made sail for the bar, intending to cross in on the first of the flood. When they arrived at the bar a strong ebb tide was running, and Nutter stood off shore, and was surprised to see Petersen's boat standing in for the bar, which was breaking heavily. The boat, which was a Columbia river fishing boat, rode the first breaker all right, but was caught by the next roller and capsized. Mr. Westdahl, of the coast survey, was on the bluff with his crew at the time, and saw the accident occur. One of the men climbed on to the bottom of the upturned boat, but was soon washed off and drowned. The other was seen holding on to the rudder iron for a few moments, but the heavy surf soon wore out his strength, and he disappeared from view beneath the angry breakers. The other boat tacked up and down by the bar, so as to render assistance if an opportunity presented itself. It would have been sheer madness to have attempted to cross in to where the accident happened and would undoubtedly have resulted in adding two more names to the death list.

J. J. Galvin, of the life-saving station, accompanied by Carl Good man, assistant lighthouse keeper, went to South slough, and got out their boat, and started immediately for the scene, but were too late to render help to the unfortunate men. They picked up the boat near the south spit, and also a sack of clothing and bedding.

Petersen was a Norwegian, about 35 years old, and came to the bay from Astoria about four or five months ago. Jagny was a Frenchman, and also came here from Astoria. They were good, square, honest fellows, who bore the respect of those who knew them. They were also competent boatmen and good sailors, and Lyman Nutter is of the opinion that their time piece must have been wrong, otherwise, he says, Petersen was too experienced a bar man to attempt crossing in against a strong ebb and a heavy surf.—Coos Bay News 29.

THE REV. GEO. H. THAYER, of Bourboon, Ind., says: "Both myself and wife owe our lives to Shiloh's Consumption Cure."

ARE YOU MADE miserable by indigestion, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Yellow Skin? Shiloh's Vitalizer is a positive cure.
