"You can't keep dressed turkeys and game, here, as we do, back home," said an eastern visitor yesterday. "Now where I live, we dress a dozen quail, or take a piece of deer meat, and stick it into a snow bank, and six weeks after, go and get it, and there it is frozen stiff, and as fresh as when it was killed." The writer looked out at the emerald covered hills of Washington, the beautiful river flowing by in the warm sunlight, and thought that in a country where such things were possible was a good country to get away from—in the winter, any how.

It is said that the following remedy for diphtheria, where it has been applied promptly, has never been known to fail in effecting a cure. It is a remedy that was discovered in Germany, and it is said to be the best known. The remedy is simply as follows: At the first indication of diphtheria in the throat of the child, make the room clean. Then take a tin cup and pour into it a quantity of tar and turpentine, equal parts. Then hold the cup over the fire so as to fill the room with the fumes. The little patient, on inhaling the fumes, will sleep, and when it awakes it will cough and spit up the membranous matter, and the diphtheria will pass off. The fumes of the tar and turpentine loosen the matter in the throat, and bring relief. The remedy is simple, and parents should not omit this and preserve it.

MORE ABOUT BENNETT.

The Man Who Sheared the Shearers.

A Bill Who Beat the Game in Great Shape.

Cashier Gordon received the following letter yesterday morning, regarding that "wily" character, from Ellenburg, going to California to be cured of the rheumatism, and who was heralded all over the coast as having "mysteriously disappeared," with surmises as to the probability of his throat having been slit while sojourning here.

As THE ASTORIAN showed at the time, was a clever swindler who beat the proprietor of a game here out of $350, and then skipped.

SPokane Falls, Wash., Nov. 25th, 1889. Cashier First National Bank, Astoria, Oregon.

DEAR SIR:—Your telegram of Saturday the 23rd, followed later by the marked articles of THE ASTORIAN, and other papers, have given us an inkling of the man, J. Bennett. Some time ago a man, whose description fits exactly the man of your town, came to us and represented that he was a wealthy stock man from Ellenburg, that he had fifteen thousand dollars coming by express, and he wished to make a deposit with us. We told him all right. And he gave his name J. C. Barris, and in a very shaky, tremulous hand so placed his signature on our books. He was in urgent need of five hundred dollars on account of some cattle dead, but we told him we would wait the arrival of the express. Later checks began to come in from Portland, Ellenburg, Seattle, Olympia, and in fact from all the Sound, and large interior cities. Some were signed expressly as shown by our signature book, some by a mark, and witnessed, and others in various styles. I am very well satisfied that the two men are identical and that he is a beat of the first class. There is a possibility that the First National bank of Olympia would be pleased to hear from him, as they had the pleasure of having possession of one of his protested checks. Trusting that some act of legislature may make the penalty severe enough to protect us from such rascals, and congratulating you on your success in recovering the maul, I am,

Very Truly Yours, E. J. DREXEL, Cash. Exchange National Bank.

Progress of Railroad Work. Work on the line of the Astoria and South Coast road is progressing in a satisfactory manner. About a hundred more men went to work last week, and there are now about a thousand men at work on the road. The driving of piles for the western part of the bridge across Young's bay is finished, and the bridge work on this side of the bay will begin about the 25th prox.

The preliminary survey of the route of the road from the city terminus is completed, and it is believed that the terminus will be in the neighborhood of the West Shore Mill, about on what is known as the Jus. Hume property, though that is not as definitely settled. Reports from all parts of the work under construction are of a most satisfactory nature, the only delay being in the non-arrival of material, of which there is considerable on the way, but none immediately available.

Fashions in Cloaks. The lenning of fashion toward rich fabrics and colors is exhibited most clearly in outside garments designed for winter wear. There are plain jackets, raglans, ulsters and peasant cloaks made simply of plain, striped, plaid or mixed wools, differing from one another in detail of cut or finish or fabric, or all these, but their province is limited to the simplest costume. Other wraps indicated to be worn with handsome dresses or up on occasions where good taste does not demand simplicity, are unusually elegant in appearance this season. Cloak, velvet and silk cord trimmings, are combined with extremely rich effect in long cloaks fitted to the figure at the back, more or less loose fitting from throat to ankle, made with long-pointed or square-wing sleeves.

The Albany and Astoria Railroad. W. B. Burr, the engineer in charge of the Albany and Astoria railroad, returned yesterday from a trip to Tillamook, and is very much pleased over the result of his reconnaissance. He says that he found two routes, either one of which would be perfectly satisfactory. The country traversed by the route he selected, exceeds in value for a railroad any similar area in Oregon, and that the country through which the road will run gives assurance of being capable of furnishing valuable traffic for the road. He returns to Albany entirely satisfied with the result of his trip.

Skating. Every afternoon at the rink. New and wonderful. Embroidery and Tuffing machine work and machine can be seen at Mrs. Rappleyer's millinery store. The Machine is so simple that a child can operate it. Wanted, a good local agent. Will only be here a few days.

J. H. SQUARES, Sole Agt. for the Pacific coast. Money Found. A purse with considerable money in it was found in the road about 12 miles from here.

C. R. F. P. U. Notice. The regular monthly meeting of the C. R. F. P. Union will be held in their reading room Tuesday, December 3rd, 1889, at 7:30 p. m. KENT LARSEN, President. GEO. JOHNSON, Secretary.

The mud is a foot deep in Tacoma. The contract for Seattle's new court house has been let for $163,000. Pasco's artesian well is down over 600 feet, but the water has been struck yet.

Turkeys sold for 30 cents a pound in Portland for Thanksgiving—25 cents in Astoria. The Coast Seamen's Union at Seattle is ordering men not belonging to the union to subscribe for a new flag.

A block of granite was taken from a quarry near Helena, Montana, last week, that weighed 137 tons. When cut into slabs for buildings it will bring $1800. The Kalama Bulletin says its delinquent subscribers are wanted not to let their daughters wear that paper for a bustle when there is considerable due on it as they might take cold.

Chittim or sacred bark, which is obtained in large quantities in the vicinity of Crescent City, is used for medicinal purposes and is now worth 30 cents a pound. A few months ago it was worth 80 cents a pound. The following from the Ellensburg Register, is a tough deal: "A weary and disgusted immigrant from Nebraska, was found yesterday near Pasco sleeping under the soothing effects of triple extract of rye, and on his breast was a card which bore the legend: '1,300 miles from home, 60 miles from wood and one-half mile from h-l. I kept my eye on Pasco.'"

The completion of the locks at the Cascades and of a boat railway between the Dalles and Celilo, says the Times Mountain, is a matter of the greatest importance to the development of this country, and we hope the Oregon and Washington delegation will work in harmony on this important question; the station of obstructions to the navigation of the great river of the west.

The following is an extract from a real composition written by a small school-boy in Port Townsend. The subject given by the teacher was the extensive one of "Man." Here's what the small boy wrote: "Man is a wonderful animal. He has eyes, ears, mouth, nose, and hands, mostly for catching cold and having the earache. The nose is to get snifles with. A man's body is split half, way up, and he walks on the split end."

Some of the members of the Washington legislature, being in favor of a jail mill at the penitentiary, Col. Frank Parker has brought out the figures of the cost of such a mill obtained when he was on the commission to establish such a mill. He shows the cost to be $36,000, and that corresponding benefits would not compensate for the outlay. He is doing the state a service in opposing such a wild cat scheme, which would sink large amounts of money for the state.

The first shipment of furs this season from Westminster was made the morning, says the Victoria Times of the 25th, by W. H. Vianen, who shipped 280 fine skins, principally bear, mink, beaver and mountain. The Indians have brought a lot of furs to market during the last week, and from them it is learned that furs are likely to be plentiful and of good quality this winter. The Indians still adhere to their predictions of a few months ago, that the coming winter will be very severe, and if this is correct, the quality of furs is certain to be over the average.

The Verdict Unanimous. W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., writes: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, writes: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters. I have sold hundreds of others—have added their testimonials, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood, and a half dollar a bottle at J. W. Conn's Drug Store."

Coffee and cake, ten cents, at the Central Restaurant. For Red Salmon Caught. Hans J. Sandbye and five others recovered judgment yesterday in the justice court, against the Hume Packing company, on claims aggregating $283. In July last the plaintiffs shipped with the company as sailors for a fishing voyage to Karluk, Alaska.

On their arrival there C. T. Thomas, the company's superintendent, made a contract with them by which they were to receive $5 extra for each thousand lbs. of salmon caught. By extra exertions 108,000 such salmon were obtained, making an additional claim of $540,000 apiece, but the company refused to allow this extra pay, on the ground that the superintendent had exceeded his authority. Justice Stafford found, however, that it had paid orders according to this arrangement, and was thereby stopped from denying the superintendent's authority.—S. F. Call, 26.

An Awful Sore Limb. Skin Entirely gone. Fish a mass of disease. Leg diminished one third in size. Condition hopeless. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies in two months.

Cured by Cuticura. For three years I was almost crippled with an awful sore leg from my knee down to my ankle; the skin was entirely gone, my flesh was one mass of disease. Some physicians pronounced it incurable. It had diminished one third in size. I was in a hopeless condition. After trying all kinds of remedies and spending hundreds of dollars, from which I got no relief whatever, I was persuaded to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and the result was a complete cure. After three days I noticed a decided change for the better, and at the end of two months I was completely cured. My flesh was renewed, and the bone (which had been exposed for over a year) got sound. The flesh began to grow, and to-day, and for nearly two years past, my leg is as well as it ever was, sound in every respect, and not a sign of the disease to be seen.

S. G. ALBURN, Dubois, Dodge Co., Ga. Skin Disease 17 Years. I have been troubled with a skin and scalp disease for seventeen years. My head at times was one running sore, and my body covered with them. I have spent half a dollar in every medicine I could buy, and I have tried every remedy I could get, but I have not been cured. I feel it my duty to you and the public to state the above.

L. R. McDOWELL, Jamesburg, N. J. Another Marvellous Cure. The CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and CUTICURA SOAP have brought about a marvellous cure in the case of a skin disease on the face. After three years I noticed a decided change for the better, and at the end of two months I was completely cured. My flesh was renewed, and the bone (which had been exposed for over a year) got sound. The flesh began to grow, and to-day, and for nearly two years past, my leg is as well as it ever was, sound in every respect, and not a sign of the disease to be seen.
