

The Daily Astorian. ASTORIA, OREGON: THURSDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1888. City and County Official Paper.

NINE hundred corporations have been stamped out in St. Louis by the anti-trust law.

Of the $36,000,000 it costs annually to run New York City, $15,000,000 goes for salaries to professional politicians.

The Pioneer should remember that the natural result of constantly telling falsehoods is that it will not be believed when it occasionally speaks the truth.

The Olympia Review still has at the head of its columns: "News of the Territory." Some of its contemporaries ought to advise it that that won't wash.

In London they are utilizing electricity in a novel way. During heavy fogs horses carry an electric light on their heads which can be illuminated as occasion requires, the storage battery being in the wagon.

During a somnambulistic fit a farm-hand near Easton, Pa., hitched up a team and plowed a field and then went back to bed again. Farmers of that vicinity are looking for more farm-hands affected in the same way.

ADDITIONAL horrors are reported from Johnson. A false outcry of "fire" in the theater there last Tuesday night, caused a stampede, in which fifteen men and women had their lives trampled out by the maddened crowd.

St. Paul is suing a man for breach of promise. The wedding day was set for the 1st of December, but the groom, after better backing out of the affair, and ending with the bride's sweet Tart, good-naturedly made her a son-in-law.

Some one between oceans says E. J. Lantz. Twenty small matter from New York have just arrived at Seattle in that time. Denver, Omaha, and Portland and Astoria are the influence of being nearer.

A husband in Chicago has been against two newspapers for publishing the fact that he applied for a marriage license and was married. He has engaged a lawyer who says that such things are not public and that the press has no business with them.

There will be introduced in Congress this week, providing for the immediate retirement of about a hundred officers of the army who are incapacitated by sickness or disability from performing active duty. Their salaries aggregate $300,000 annually, which, if they retired, will be materially reduced and at the same time cause promotion all along the line.

The consumption of horse flesh in Berlin is increasing. Last October the Berliners ate 875 horses, against 610 in October, 1888. For various reasons, however, the working people in the Prussian capital do not eat so much horse as the poorer classes of other German cities. Königsberg, for instance, with about the same population as Portland, consumed 340 horses last month.

DESPITE the cries of alarm uttered by the press and the published letters from emigrants to Buenos Ayres, depicting the terrors of life in South America, the number of immigrants from Andalusia and the Basque Provinces is still enormously increasing and there is a serious danger, that unless the stream is stopped before long Spain will be depopulated ere its infant king puts on the garb of the man.

Two very humorous boys are in jail at Burlington, Iowa. They had a tame crane and a funny idea. The idea was to catch another smaller boy and hold him while they made the crane peck at him. They did this, and the crane pecked out one of the small boy's eyes. The judge sent the boys to jail for fifteen and thirty days. When they got out the victim of their humor ought to organize a posse and capture them and tie them up and have a little fun with the crane himself. This would appeal strongly to their moral natures.

PETROLEUM V. NASBY did not receive a very magnificent sum for his letters from the "Confederate X Roads." The Indianapolis Journal, in which they appeared in 1864, has just confessed that Mr. Locke not only received no pay for them, but that he gave the Journal $2 each for printing them, that being about the cost of composition. The Journal did, however permit Nasby to use the type after the letters had been set up, and from this type was printed the yellow-colored pamphlets which Nasby sold. It was one of these pamphlets which Abraham Lincoln was reading while sitting in the war department waiting for news of his second election.

Epepsy. This is what you ought to have, in fact, you must have it, to fully enjoy life. Thousands are searching for it daily, and mourning because they find it not. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are spent annually by our people in the hope that they may attain this boon. And yet it may be had by all. We guarantee that Electric Bitters, if used according to directions and the use persisted in, will bring you Good Digestion and ease the demon dyspepsia and all diseases of the Liver, Stomach and bowels. Sold at $1.00 and $3.00 per bottle by J. W. Conn, Druggist.
