The Favorite
Medicine for Throat and Lung Difficulties has long been, and still is, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It cures Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, and Asthma; soothes irritation of the Larynx and Fauces; strengthens the Vocal Organs; allays soreness of the Lungs; prevents Consumption, and, even in advanced stages of that disease, relieves Coughing and induces Sleep. There is no other preparation for diseases of the throat and lungs to be compared with this remedy.

Cough Medicine
to every one afflicted.—Robert Horton, Foreman Headlight, Morrilton, Ark.
"I have been afflicted with asthma for forty years. Last spring I was taken with a violent cough, which threatened to terminate my days. Every one pronounced me in consumption. I determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Its effects were magical. I was immediately relieved and continued to improve until entirely recovered."—Joel Bullard, Guilford, Conn.
"Six months ago I had a severe hemorrhage of the lungs, brought on by an incessant cough which deprived me of sleep and rest. I tried various remedies, but obtained no relief until I began to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. A few bottles of this medicine cured me."—Mrs. E. Colburn, 19 Second st., Lowell, Mass.

AN ENOCH ARDEN.
Result of a Two-Year's Stay in Alaska.
Captain Peter Bayne, who was shipwrecked on the schooner Ins of San Francisco near Point Barrow, Arctic ocean, in 1887, where he remained two years before he was relieved, has returned to Port Townsend and found his wife married to William J. Forbes, Forbes was employed by Bayne to attend the ranch near Whistman. He finally induced Mrs. Bayne to secure a divorce on the grounds of willful desertion and failure to provide, notwithstanding the fact that she had received provisions constantly from Bayne's employers, S. H. Frank & Co., on Battery street, San Francisco. Forbes corroborated her statements and the divorce was granted. They were married in Dungeness, Wash., last October. The woman had two children by Bayne, a girl and a boy, aged 9 and 7 years.
Mrs. Bayne is a daughter of Rev. B. F. Vandevanter, formerly of Tulare, Cal., later a Methodist minister of Seattle and now of Winnemucca, Nev. During the time Bayne was near Point Barrow he whaled from shore and captured twelve whales, a large number of walrus and seals and plenty of ivory, aggregating a value of $60,000, and therefore returned there comparatively wealthy. He sued once a warrant charging Forbes with adultery and conspiracy. Forbes escaped. The woman endeavored to shield Forbes by threatening to swear her second husband clear of any charges preferred by the first. Bayne found his wife secreted there and persuaded her to surrender the children. She has been married six weeks.
Bayne and his wife were highly respected in Whistman, where they had a comfortable home, and the Vandevanter family are well known all over the coast. The prominence of the parties creates a sensation on the Sound. Mrs. Bayne was near Point Barrow she was led by Forbes to believe that Bayne had deserted her or else she would have written to him. She is a beautiful woman, intelligent, and until her husband's departure was religiously devoted to her duties. Bayne took the children to Nevada and support his former wife the remainder of her life. Forbes had induced the woman to prove up on Bayne's property as an abandoned wife, and had secretly secured the title to the property when Bayne unexpectedly returned. The property is now valued at $10,000.

A Child Killed.
Another child killed by the use of opiates given in the form of Soothing Syrup. Why mothers give their children such deadly poison is surprising, when they can relieve the child of its peculiar troubles by using Dr. Ayer's Baby Soother. It contains no opium or morphia. Sold by J. W. Cox.

Suppression of the Menstrues may be relieved by a dose of Ayer's Pills, which produce the desired effect through sympathetic action.

DO NOT SUFFER ANY LONGER.
Knowing that a cough can be checked in a day, and the first stages of consumption broken in a week, we hereby guarantee Dr. Ayer's English Cough Remedy, and will refund the money to all who buy, take it as per directions, and do not find our statement correct.

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR
Its peculiar efficacy in due to its action on the process and skill in compounding the ingredients themselves. Take it in time. It checks diseases in the outset, or if they are advanced will prove a potent cure.
No Home should be Without It.
It takes the place of a doctor and costs very little. All who lead sedentary lives will find it the best preventive of and cure for Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Piles and Mental Depression. No loss of time, no interference with business while taking. For children it is most innocent and harmless. No danger from exposure after taking. Cures Colic, Diarrhoea, Bowel Complaints, Feverishness and Febrile Colds. Invalids and delicate persons will find it the mildest, most effective and most reliable remedy for all ailments of the bowels. A little taken in the morning sharpens the appetite, cleanses the stomach and sweetens the breath.
A PHYSICIAN'S OPINION.
"I have been a physician for twenty years and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons' Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action, and at the same time soothe and strengthen the digestive and assimilative powers of the system."
M. H. HAYES, M. D., Washington, Ark.

The First of The Season.
A beautiful Chinook salmon, the first of the season, was exhibited at F. C. Barnes's market yesterday. It weighed thirty pounds and was in splendid condition. It was brought in by the fisherman who caught it, who handled it as carefully as if it had been a baby, and who went off smiling when he received six big American dollars for it. It did not last long, for half of it was taken for the Arlington club at once. This winter, seems bound to beat the record of last winter, when the first Chinook salmon was received here a little after New Year's. The advent of the Chinook, following that of the smelt, strengthens the belief of wealth sharps in the idea that winter is over. There is no rush for ordering spring suits.—Oregonian, 20.

The Spokane Falls and Northern.
The story of the Spokane Falls and Northern reads like magic. About eleven months ago D. C. Corbin, brother of Austin Corbin, the New York financier, sold out to the Northern Pacific his branch road and line of boats by which the Comor d'Alene mines are reached. With the comfortable feeling of a man about to take a good rest, he started for the east, but stopped over a day or two in Spokane Falls. Some of the business men of the city talked with him about the feasibility of a railroad north to Colville. The conversation was general. No propositions were made on either side. Mr. Corbin went east and had his rest. About the middle of February he returned to Spokane, took a carriage and drove northward. The country even in midwinter, pleased him. When he got in from his tour he made a proposition to the Spokane business men.
"I told them," said Mr. Corbin, in narrating the story, "that if they would subscribe $100,000 I undertook to build a road to Colville. They got out, and by thunder, in four days they had raised the money. I immediately telegraphed some friends in New York I knew I could rely on. They sent me $100,000 in gold. Before I left here in March to go east, I had organized a company, put engineering parties in the field, and had let some contracts. The snow was still on the ground. I went east, made the financial arrangements and came back. The road is finished to Colville, 88 miles. It is finished in the most substantial manner, with a maximum grade of only one per cent nearly the entire distance. The equipment is complete, and of the very best quality throughout. How was it done? I said to myself: This road has got to be built and running to Colville by the 10th of October. I believe in pushing an enterprise of this kind. It works things up to a high pressure, and in the end, the cheapest. Within eight months from the inception of the scheme trains are running on regular schedule.—Northwestern Railroad.
