

The Daily Astorian. ASTORIA, OREGON: WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 8 1890. City and County Official Paper.

THE PROPOSED NAVY YARD.

The recommendation of a site on the Sound for a navy yard seems to be without result for a time. Whether this is due to the recent wonderful improvement of the Columbia bar, and to a desire to await further developments, is not positively known.

Another necessary feature is that such an entrance should be a short and quickly closed gateway. At the Columbia or at San Francisco a few minutes from the open ocean will place a vessel in safety.

The site of a navy yard should be accessible, by land and railways, from every direction except seaward both to prevent the enemy's vessels from surrounding the site and attacking it from many directions; and also in order that railways may enter from several directions.

Possibly some of the considerations which have brought about the present postponement of the question; if the Columbia entrance proves satisfactory, Oregon may still secure the navy yard.

Two or three newspapers are giving a great deal of attention to what they call the preparations for the nomination of Mr. Blaine as the Republican candidate for the presidency in 1892.

Georgia has a postoffice named "Talking Rock." Some one in the vicinity found a large stone upon which was painted the words, "Turn me over."

POSTMASTER GENERAL WANAMAKER is said to be the best-informed man in the cabinet in certain directions.

Load WOLSELEY is said to be much annoyed because the American newspapers do not regard him as a great warrior.

The town of Blakeman in Rawlins county, Kansas, is ambitious to become the county seat.

Last Monday Congress reconvened after the holiday recess. Among other bills introduced by congressman Hermann was one granting to the Astoria and South Coast railway the right to build a bridge across Young's bay.

THE Tacoma chamber of commerce advertisers for bids for a $250,000 building. A $50,000 building owned and occupied by our Astoria chamber of commerce, should be one of the completed enterprises of 1890.

This is St. Jackson's day. Seventy-five years ago to-day, Andrew Jackson beat the British under Pakenham at New Orleans, the rifles of Kentucky being too much for "Wellington's veterans."

SEATTLE is paying 60 per cent. more for fire insurance than San Francisco. It would be interesting to know how much more for fire insurance, Astoria is paying than Seattle.

The city council made a good start with business at their first session last Monday. A business council during the year can aid greatly in the development of the city.

Secretary Noble has made an interesting decision in a homestead case from the state of Washington. It is the somewhat celebrated case of Swanson against Anderson.
