The Teacher

Who advised her pupils to strengthen their minds by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, appreciated the truth that bodily health is essential to mental vigor. For persons of delicate and feeble constitution, whether young or old, this medicine is remarkably beneficial. Be sure you get Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring and fall I take a number of bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and am greatly benefited."—Mrs. James H. Eastman, Stoneham, Mass.

"I have taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla with great benefit to my general health."—Miss Thirza L. Crerar, Palmyra, Md.

"My daughter, twelve years of age, has suffered for the past year from General Debility.

A few weeks since, we began to give her Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Her health has greatly improved."—Mrs. Harriet H. Bartlett, South Chelmsford, Mass.

"About a year ago I began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for debility and neuralgia resulting from malarial exposure in the army. I was in a very bad condition, but six bottles of the Sarsaparilla, with occasional doses of Ayer's Pills, have greatly improved my health. I am now able to work, and feel that I cannot say too much for your excellent remedies."—F. A. Pinkham, South Moluncus, Me.

"My daughter, sixteen years old, is using Ayer's Sarsaparilla with good effect."—Rev. S. J. Graham, United Brethren Church, Buckhannon, W. Va.

"I suffered from

Nervous Prostration,

with lame back and headache, and have been much benefited by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I am now 80 years of age, and am satisfied that my present health and prolonged life are due to the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Lucy Moffitt, Killingly, Conn.

Mrs. Ann H. Farnsworth, a lady 79 years old, So. Woodstock, Vt., writes: "After several weeks' suffering from nervous prostration, I procured a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken half of it my usual health returned."

THE POLITE AND SONY LANDLORD.

How Guests Were Made Comfortable at The "Occidental Hotel."

Detroit Free Press.

Eighty-six miles beyond Denver, the year before the first railroad went through, four of us San Francisco passengers on the overland stage alighted in front of the "Occidental hotel" (built of logs). With pants resolutely tucked in his boots, and determinedly fastened to his waist with a belt in which was a vehement revolver; checked shirt and slouch hat, poetically on one ear, the affable host came out, kicking a hound off the steps, to receive us. His size commanded respect.

"Gentlemen," said he, as he shook hands with each one of us, "allow me to welcome you to this hospitable hostelry. The bridge is gone at the river below and you can't get over till it is fixed some time to-morrow. You will abide with me and I with you, and you bet we'll share and share alike in all we've got if we have to cut a punkin. We are far out, but you shan't find us way off. Step right up this port cochere (slab platform) and don't stop to use the scraper, follow me through this portal (slab door), to which the latch string is never out of fix, unless it happens to be drawn in; step right up to this ornate counter (board on two barrels) and place your royal names upon this accommodating register (a medical memorandum book) while I call our caterer's attention (Sal, get grub for four on dit!).

"Now, my lords, please step out into the lavatory (the whole wide world) and proceed to perform your ablutions in uncontaminated water dipped from the creek in vessels of the purest pinted ware (tin basins), and there are the frescoed napkins (pieces of former tablecloth) on that rack (wooden plug). Now, please walk in. There is the mirror (north east corner of a small looking-glass), and comb (too shy too show its teeth).

"Sit up here by the register, friends (stove clear out doors), for the evening zephyrs are chilly, and take the frost out of your feet. But first, gents, stroll into the barroom (dry goods box) and take a supper invigorator (mountain avalanche). What, water; Gum, it'll take all the taste out!

"The gong (spoon rapped on crock) sounds, your refection is ready; come over into the dining-room (south east corner of the room) and take chairs (sawed off logs) at the table de hote (two slabs on trestles). Excuse our menu, it is not printed yet, but you see before you the bill of fare (old bacon, corn bread, hominy, mackerel, and chicory coffee), the terrapin and oysters haven't got here to be in season yet. No toasts, gentlemen, are permitted at the table; you must adjourn to the bar for them and the speeches. Gents, don't be sparing of the napkins (our handkerchiefs), they seem to be plentiful."

Later on as we intimated a desire to retire early. Said the landlord: "Wait till I get the chandelier (tallow candle in a block of wood,) as the gas is all out. Now come up the elevator (ladder in corner;) don't stumble and fall up stairs. Select your own rooms, gentlemen, (beds all in one room divided by chalk marks,) and don't over balance yourselves and fall against the partitions or you'll disturb your neighbor. Repair to your own downy couches (straw ticks on planks;) just manipulate this electric annunciator on the floor (a hickory club) or telephone down the shaft (trap door) if you want anything, but don't make a misstep and tumble down with the message. Good night."

The next morning we found the landlord was a great reader of high-toned, low-priced novels, and had got on to the swing.

At eight o'clock we got off with our lives.

A Mark of Nativity.

A discussion arose on board an Atlantic liner a short time ago as to the citizenship of a gentleman at the other end of the saloon.

"He's an Englishman," said one: "I know by his head."

"He's a Scotchman," said another; "I know by his complexion."

He's a German," said another; "I know by his beard."

The young ladies thought he looked a little Spanish. Here the conversation rested, but soon one of them said:

"I have it," said she, "he's an American; he's got his legs on the table."—Galveston News.

CAN'T SLEEP NIGHTS,

DYSPEPSIA.

IS that misery experienced when we suddenly become aware that we possess a diabolical arrangement called a stomach. The stomach is the reservoir from which every fibre and tissue must be nourished, and any trouble with it is soon felt throughout the whole system. Among a dozen dyspeptics you will have the same predominant symptoms. Dyspepsia destroys active mental power and a bilious temperament are subject to sick Headache; those, fleshy and plethoric have Constipation, while the thin and nervous are endowed to gloomy forebodings. Some dyspeptics are wonderfully forgetful; others have great irritability of temper.

Whatever form Dyspepsia may take, one thing is certain,

The underlying cause is in the LIVER, and one thing more is equally certain, no one will remain a dyspeptic who will

SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

It will correct Acidity of the Stomach, Expel foul gases, Allay Irritation, Assist Digestion, and, at the same time

Start the Liver to working, when all other troubles soon disappear.

"My wife was a confirmed dyspeptic. Some three years ago by the advice of Dr. Steiner, of Augusta, she was induced to try Simmons Liver Regulator. I feel grateful for the relief it has given her, and may all who read this and are afflicted in any way with either chronic or otherwise, use Simmons Liver Regulator and I feel confident health will result. All who will be advised."—Wm. M. Kraus, Fort Valley, Ga.

Queer Things That Are Patented.

There is a claim in the patent office for a patent on the Lord's prayer, the specifications being that the repetition of the same "rapidly and in a loud voice will cure stammering."

Among the odd inventions are "chicken hopples" which walk the hen right out of the garden when she tries to scratch; "the bee moth excluder," which automatically shut up the beehives when the bees go to roost; "the tapeworm hook," which speaks for itself; the "educational balloon," a toy balloon, with map of the world on its surface; "side hill annihilators," stilts to fit on to the down-hill legs of a horse when plowing on hillsides (a most handy invention for Nevada ranches which stand on edge); and the "hen surpriser," a device which drops the newly laid egg through to the bottom of the nest, with intent to beguile the hen into at once laying another.

A DUTY TO YOURSELF.

It is surprising that people will use a common, ordinary pill when they can secure a valuable English one for the same money. Dr. Acker's English pills are a positive cure for sick-headache and all liver troubles. They are small, sweet, easily taken, and do not gripe. Sold by J. W. Conn.

A Cadmus, Michigan farmer, fed a flock of swine several gallons of cider which was not soft. The hogs went on a glorious old drunk for three days, and a few of them passed peacefully away never realizing what had touched them.

If faithfully used, Ayer's Sarsaparilla will remove scrofula in whatever form it exists.

Twenty Baltimore girls who have plenty of money and who are good German and French scholars, propose to travel through Europe, and will write a book of their adventures. There will be twenty chapters, one by each girl.

WILL YOU SUFFER with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint? Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you. J. C. Dement.

ETIQUETTE ABROAD.

Curious Customs in Vogue in Some of the Nations.

In Sweden if you address the poorest person on the street you must lift your hat. The same courtesy is insisted upon if you pass a lady upon the stairway. To enter a reading room or bank with one's hat on is regarded as a bad breach of manners. To place your hand on the arm of a lady is a grave and objectionable familiarity. Never touch the person, it is sacred, is one of their proverbs. In Holland a lady is expected to retire precipitately if she should enter a store or a restaurant where men are congregated. She waits until they have transacted their business and departed. Ladies seldom rise in Spain to receive a male visitor and they rarely accompany him to the door. For a Spaniard to give a lady (even his wife) his arm when out walking is looked upon as a decided violation of propriety.

In Persia, among the aristocracy, a visitor sends notice an hour or two before calling, and gives a day's notice if the visit is one of great importance. He is met by servants before he reaches the house, and other considerations are shown him according to relative rank. The left and not the right is considered the post of honor. No Turk will enter a sitting room with dirty shoes. The upper classes wear tight fitting shoes with goloshes over them. The latter which receive all the dirt and dust, are left outside the door. The Turk never washes in dirty water. Water is poured over his hands, so that when polluted it runs away.

In Syria the people never take off their caps or turbans when entering a house or visiting a friend, but they always leave their shoes at the door. There are no mats or scrapers outside and the floors inside are covered with expensive rugs, kept very clean in Moslem houses and used to kneel upon while asking prayers.

Expensive Advertising.

The merchants at Tenino do not advertise in their home papers, but are always reaching out to squander their wealth far from home. One of them recently bought an elephant with the idea of using him for advertising purposes. He arrived the other morning, with freight charges of $500 attached to him. The charges were so excessive that the firm refused to accept the animal, and he, becoming impatient, started out on a little pasear to advertise himself, just to get his hand in. He sauntered down the main street and stopped in at a livery stable and ate a bale of hay; then he wrecked the stable and crossed the street and knocked out a plate glass store front. This furnished him keen enjoyment, and he could see that his little efforts were attracting quite a good deal of attention. So he trotted down to the corner and smashed one side out of a drug store. By this time all the men in town were interested, and after one or two ineffectual efforts they got him roped and led him back to the station in ignominy and disgrace. The last returns from the town state that 16 men are now sitting on the animal waiting for advice from the owner, and the firm who bargained for him have taken to the tall woods, while the general verdict is that some quieter advertising medium would be better for anybody except, perhaps, an undertaker.

Joint stock companies have multiplied with marvelous rapidity in England of late years.

The Paris police force, which now numbers 6,100, is about to be increased to 7,300.

The only medicine which destroys the germs of Catarrh, Rheumatism, Female Complaints, Consumption (if not too far gone), Dyspepsia, Malarial and all Blood and Skin Diseases. It is a safe and positive cure for Loss of Manhood and Gonorrhea. Is pleasant to drink. Give it a trial Price, 75 cents and $1 25.
