It was unanimously resolved that the republican party was "infirm, decrepid and rascally" and totally incapacitated for the great work of "reforming the people" and "shaping the destinies of the nation." The negro colonization scheme was severely denounced and the "niggers" of Oklahama were included in one sweeping anathema by the boomer orators.

A new fountain pen especially adapted to the sharper has been invented. Having selected his victim and made all preliminary arrangements, Mr. Sharper writes out a very innocent looking agreement with an ink that fades readily. Then by a simple and imperceptible motion he turns on another kind of writing fluid and hands it to the victim and gets his signature in permanent ink. When the agreement fades out a promissory note is written in and the job is done. For a time this pen will have as much work to do in the city as in the country.—Statesman.
