WASHINGTON, March 24.—Section three of the act, entitled "An act to provide for the protection of the salmon fisheries of Alaska," approved March 2, 1889, provides that section 156 of the revised statutes of the United States is hereby declared to include and apply to all the dominion of the United States in the waters of Behring sea and it shall be the duty of the president at a timely season in each year, to issue a proclamation and cause the same to be published for one month, at least, in one newspaper, "if any such there be," published at a United States port of entry on the Pacific coast, warning all persons against entering such waters for the provisions of said section and he shall cause one or more vessels of the United States to diligently cruise said waters, to arrest all persons and seize the vessels found to be or have been engaged in any violation of the laws of the United States therein. Now, therefore, I, Benjamin Harrison, president of the United States, pursuant to the above recited statutes, do hereby warn all persons against entering Behring sea within the dominion of the United States for the purpose of violating the provisions of said section 956, of the revised statutes, and I hereby proclaim that all persons found to be, or to have been engaged in any violation of the laws of the United States in said waters will be arrested and punished as above prescribed, and that all vessels so employed, their tackle, apparel, furniture and cargoes, will be seized and forfeited. In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington this fifteenth day of March, 1890, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and fourteenth.

BENJAMIN HARRISON.

By the president.

JAMES G. BLAINE,
Secretary of State.

The following provisions of the laws of the United States are hereby published for the information of all concerned. Section 1,956 of the revised statutes, chapter 3, title 22, enacts that no person shall kill any otter, mink, martin, sable or fur seal, or other fur bearing animal within the limits of Alaska territory or in the waters thereof, and every person guilty thereof shall for each offense be fined, not less than $200, nor more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than six months or both, and all vessels, their tackle, apparel, furniture and cargo, found engaged in the violation of this section shall be forfeited; but the secretary of the treasury shall have the power to authorize the killing of any such mink, marten, sable or other fur-bearing animal, except fur seals, under such regulations as he may prescribe, and it shall be the duty of the secretary to prevent the killing and taking fur seals, and provide for the execution of the provisions of this section until otherwise provided by law, nor shall he grant any special privileges under this section.

Tariff Bill Being Carefully Considered.

Special to THE ASTORIAN.]

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The committee on ways and means as a whole will probably not get through with the tariff bill before the latter part of the week. The Republican members are still working on the bill and there are several items yet over which there is a good deal of pulling and hauling from the outside. They are giving proper consideration to the various petitions and protests that come to their attention, which, of course, involves much labor and takes up time. They do not propose to act hastily on any question and when any good reasons for the consideration of any matter, are given they have passed upon, the matter is carefully weighed. They hope to get the bill through the whole committee and into the house by about the first proximo. When the measure finally gets to the house it is not proposed to waste time in the debate but to go as soon as possible into consideration under the minute rule.

The Montana Contesting Senators.

Special to THE ASTORIAN.]

WASHINGTON, March 24.—In the senate to-day the committee on elections reported back the contested election case of senators from Montana, with a recommendation that Saunders and Powers be seated. A minority of the committee reported that Clark and Maginnis were entitled to seats. The report will be considered on Thursday.

A Presidential Pronunciamento.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—In the senate to-day numerous petitions were introduced, including many protesting against the ratification of the extradition treaty with Russia. Mitchell presented a petition from citizens of Oregon, protesting against the passage of a railroad funding bill, while Frye presented numerous petitions of about 1,000 citizens of Idaho and Montana favoring the passage of that same bill.

A Complicated Case in Court.

Special to THE ASTORIAN

NEW YORK, March 24.—The sentence of sheriff Flack and son and referee Meeks, who were found guilty of conspiracy last Saturday in an infamous divorce case, went over that the court might consider the case of contempt of court of a reporter who concealed himself in a jury room and published what was said there. Both matters will come up Friday. Sheriff Flack was this afternoon served with papers by a representative of Governor Hill, notifying him to show cause why he should not be removed from office.

No home should be without it to arrest disorders promptly, which, if not taken in season, often develop into serious diseases. Rev. JAMES M. ROLLINS, Pastor M. E. Church, S., Fairfield, Va., writes: "I have used Simmons Liver Regulator for many years, having made it my only family medicine My mother before me was very partial to it. It is a safe, good and reliable medicine for any disorder of the system and if used in time is a great preventive of sickness."

Oil seems to wear out by long continued use, and to lose to some extent its lubricating qualities. It has been suggested as a reason for this that the minute spherical globules of which the oil is conceived to be made up become flattened by the wear and pressure, and so do not slide and roll over each other as easily as before.

We'll Suppose a Case.

You are nervous and dyspeptic, your appetite flags, your slumber is broken or disturbed by uneasy dreams, or you court the sleepy god in vain. What shall you do? Try an alcoholic excitant to stimulate appetite, deaden the nerves at bed time with a narcotic? Neither of these. Try Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It will, believe us, be more than a trial. You will continue to use this justly renowned nerve invigorant and stomachic. It is in the exigency supposed just what is wanted. It is a heartful stimulus to appetite and digestion, does not excite, but quiets the brain and nerves, is an excellent diuretic and a speedy reformer of a disordered condition of the liver and bowels. It counteracts a tendency to rheumatism, nullifies the prostrating effects of overwork, mitigates the infirmities of age, and hastens convalescence. Persons exposed to rough weather should use it as a preventive, as should also tired students and business men.

FLOODS IN CINCINNATI.

More Developments In the Ludlow Street Jail Scandal.

PROHIBITION NOW IN IOWA.

Special by The California ASSOCIATED PRESS.

CINCINNATI, March 24.—All the railroads except the Chesapeake & Ohio and Kentucky Central have been compelled to abandon the Central Union depots at Covington and Newport, which are cut off from the city, so far as street-car traffic is concerned. Ferries are obliged to stop because they cannot find landing points. The casualty list began to be made up yesterday when two men and a boy were drowned back of Covington by the capsizing of a skiff. Newport suffers more than the other suburbs by floods. Quite a large district is already flooded and the residents are compelled to vacate their homes.

Half the railroads entering the city are now under water. One hundred business men on the river front suffer great damage. The reports from the river towns show great suffering and losses, and a steady rise for 250 miles above, and still raining.

The Prohibition Question in Iowa.

Special to THE ASTORIAN.]

DES MOINES, Ia., March 24.—The first step in the movement for presenting the prohibitory question was taken to-day. Representative Head introduced a joint resolution for the resubmission of the prohibitory amendment to the constitution. It is similar to the amendment which was adopted in 1882, but afterward declared invalid for some technical error in its passage the legislature. This proposed amendment introduced to-day provided for the manufacture as will as sale of liquor for certain proper purposes, such as medicinal and mechanical. The manufacture and sale as a beverage is prohibited. There is a strong sentiment in favor of re-submission. Many of the Republican leaders say it is the only thing they can do.

More Rascality in Ludlow Street Jail.

Special to THE ASTORIAN.]

NEW YORK, March 24.—Another sensation was occasioned to-day in the Ludlow jail investigation by the testimony of auctioneer Tapping, who conducts the sheriff's sales. Tapping testified that he divided fees with sheriff (now mayor) Grant, also with sheriff Flack. He was aware that the charges were not strictly legal. Grant's winnings from this source were one-half of 33⅓ per cent on sales amounting to $1,337,505. Sheriff Flack has received one half of 2½ per cent commission on sales reaching $550,989. Auctioneer Tapping also added that he was compelled by sheriff (now mayor) Grant to take in Wm. P. Kirke, who as school trustee has since been indicted as a silent partner, this appointment being dictated by Tammany Hall.

OTTAWA, March 24.—Tupper, minister of marine and fisheries, returned to-day from Washington. He said his misson had not been diplomatic; he visited Washington to give Sir Julius Pauncefate information which the Canadian department possessed with reference to the Behring sea matter. That question alone had been considered during the last fortnight and negotiations were not yet completed. The Atlantic fisheries question had not been taken up.

A SENSATIONAL TRAGEDY.

Railroad Communication Between Oregon and California.

MONTANA STOCKMEN TROUBLED.

Special by California ASSOCIATED PRESS.

REDLANDS, Cal., March 24.—A sensational tragedy occurred here early this morning. The facts thus far learned are that R. D. C. Gresham, connected with the Citragraph, a weekly paper, was shot and killed by P. C. McConkey, proprietor of the Windsor, in the room of the latter and that McConkey then committed suicide.

Only two reports of a gun were heard, and nothing is known of what passed between them, as both were dead when found. From letters found on Gresham it is believed he was intimate with Mrs. McConkey. Both stood high in society, and the affair has created great excitement.

Particulars of the Redlands Tragedy.

Special to THE ASTORIAN.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., March 24.—The McConkey-Gresham tragedy at Redlands, has assumed a very sensational development, as usual, a woman being at the bottom of the affair, causing the murder of a prominent citizen and suicide of a despondent husband. McConkey, the murderer was badly depressed over money matters; his lease of the Windsor hotel had almost expired and he had no hope of renewing the same. Added to this his discovery of his wife's infidelity rendered him almost frantic. Last night he did not sleep, and coming down stairs this morning with a loaded Winchester rifle, he waited for Gresham. The latter arrived about 7 o'clock for breakfast and then started towards Mrs. McConkey's study. McConkey then stepped from behind his desk and raising the gun fired, killing Gresham. McConkey then placed the rifle against his left breast and leaning over pulled the trigger, the bullet passing through his heart and entering the ceiling above. Letters taken from the bodies of McConkey and Gresham explained the cause of the tragedy.

Sheepmen and Cattlemen at Variance.

Special to THE ASTORIAN.]

HELENA, Mont., March 24.—The Crow Indian chiefs recently held a meeting and decided to lease the grazing privileges of the reservation only to certain owners, selecting about a third of those heretofore granted privileges. The cattlemen remain, but the Indians declare that all sheep must be removed at once. This distinction and inexecrable attitude of the Indians is creating a bitter feeling between the sheepmen and cattlemen. The former will make an effort to have the matter reconsidered, and government assistance will be asked in winning the Indians to the basis where favors will be distributed without discriminating.

PHILOSOPHICAL FACTS.

Lightning can be seen by reflection at the distance of 200 miles.

During the conversion of ice into water 140° of heat are absorbed.

Air is about eight hundred and fifteen times lighter than water.

Water, when converted into steam, increases in bulk 1,800 times.

The greatest height at which visible clouds ever exists does not exceed ten miles.

The barometer falls one-tenth of an inch every seventy-eight feet of elevation.

The explosive force of closely confined gunpowder is six and a half tons to the square inch.

In summer time the season of ripening moves northward at the rate of about ten miles a day.

Strange as it may appear, a ball of a ton weight and another of the same material of an ounce weight, falling from any height, will reach the ground at the same time.

The violence of the expansion of water when freezing is sufficient to cleave a globe of copper of such thickness as to require a force of 27,000 pounds, to produce the same effect.

The pressure of the atmosphere upon every square foot of the earth amounts to 2,160 pounds. An ordinary sized man, supposing his surface to be fourteen square feet, sustains the enormous pressure of 30,240 pounds.

Sound travels at the rate of 1,142 feet per second—about thirteen miles in a minute. So that if we hear a clap of thunder half a minute after the flash, we may calculate that the discharge of electricity is six and a half miles off.

The human ear is so extremely sensitive that it can hear a sound that lasts only the twenty-four-thousandth part of a second. Deaf persons have sometimes conversed together through rods of wood held between their teeth, or held to their throat or breast.

In one second of time—in one beat of the pendulum of a clock—light travels 200,000 miles. Were a cannon-ball shot toward the sun, and were it to maintain full speed, it would be twenty years in reaching it; and yet light travels through this space in seven or eight minutes.

The seedless raisin is produced by simply arresting one of the processes of nature. When the grape is about one-half ripe the end of the vine is bent down and buried in the ground. This prevents the formation of seed and the full development of the fruit, but it ripens all the same and has a delicious flavor.

DOCK LABORERS STRIKE AGAIN.

Special by the California ASSOCIATED PRESS.

PARIS, March 24.—A deputation from the chamber of commerce waited upon the minister of foreign affairs today and formally protested against the provisions of the McKinley bill. If the measure passed, the American state deputation said the French manufacturers would find it impossible to export into the United States. M. Ribot, in replying, said he would consult the representatives of the European powers affected equally with France by the bill. He believed their common action would have more chance of success than if France stood alone to protest. A number of representatives of the chamber syndicate des negtiares commissionaires also protested.

Opposed to Socialist Workmen.
