

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: TUESDAY, MARCH 23, 1920. City and County Official Paper. A WORD OF WARNING.

While additions and suburbs and plate are all right, and no fault is to be found with anything that lays legitimate claim to location, yet a word of warning is requisite regarding the tendency to bank on Astoria's prestige by advertising "additions" bearing euphonious names, but with no actual claim to suburban locality.

With regard to the theory of property-holding which lies at the basis of all state socialism, it may be well to redirect attention to the fact that land was originally held in common by the first possessors of the earth, and only passed into private ownership when its longer tenure upon any other basis would have resulted in the ennoblement of the most shiftless in the community at the expense of the most industrious.

The Chinese government is contemplating a revolution in the coinage of that country, which is now of copper, ranging in value from about a mill to a coin worth about 20 cents in face value, without either gold or silver coins.

Tax fact begins to crop out here and there, through theory and speculation, that nobody knows yet what is the real war like value of some of the most costly and important improvements that have been made or proposed.

erect on two legs with the outward semblance of humanity and still be a donkey. Congressman Hermann recently, went before a congressional committee in an attempt to have adequate appropriation for increased life saving service on this coast.

DURSO 1889 the amount of opium smuggled into the United States along the shores of Puget sound has been variously estimated at from 500 to 1,000 pounds per week.

The president issued a proclamation yesterday warning all and sundry from poaching in Alaskan waters. A revenue cutter of steaming qualities, superior to any now possessed by the government, would be more effectual in this regard than a presidential proclamation.

The nickname of North Dakota is the "flickertail state." This completes the list of the four new commonwealths. South Dakota is the "swinge-cat state. Washington is the "chinook state," and Montana is the "stuffed-toe state."

General Debility "For four years my wife suffered with large tumor bunches on the glands under the arms, and general debility of the whole system. She became so poor in health that we were on the verge of despair regarding her recovery.

From 84 to 111 Pounds and is stronger and in better health than she has been for years. The bunches under her arms have diminished, and we believe Hood's Sarsaparilla will be too much for them in time."
