

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON. WEDNESDAY, MARCH 25, 1920. ISSUED EVERY MORNING. (Monday excepted.) J. F. HALLOAN & COMPANY. Publishers and Proprietors. ASTORIAN BUILDING, 111 CAS STREET.

THE ASTORIAN GUARANTEES to its subscribers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia river.

CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER. The real estate transfers yesterday, as filed for record, were six in number, amounting to $1,405.

New planks have been put in at the foot of Cass street below Second, and it is now in good order again.

Postmaster Gray's commission has not yet arrived from Washington, D. C., and Mr. Bell still has charge of the office.

There will be a social dance at F. Hill's place on Skipanon this evening, to be attended by several Astoria young folks.

A. V. Allen has plans drawn and will shortly begin the erection of a handsome dwelling on his lots on Main street.

Reserved seats on sale at 9 this morning at the New York Novelty store for the Fisk Jubilee singers' performance.

J. D. Ray died of pleurisy at the hospital yesterday. Deceased was in the 53d year of his age. The funeral will be at Clatsop today.

The delightful weather of Monday was succeeded yesterday by a very light sprinkle of rain, just enough to do neither good nor harm.

Beaver lodge, No. 35, I. O. O. F., will celebrate in good style the 71st anniversary of the founding of the order, on the 29th of next month.

Yesterday in justice May's court, Ah Gee was bound over in the sum of $20 (on a charge of opium smoking) to await the action of the grand jury.

The Fisk Jubilee Singers are great. They will appear at Ross' opera house to-morrow night. Reserved seats now on sale at New York Novelty store.

The total amount of taxes as per the assessment roll for this county, is $86,127.35, of which the sheriff had already collected the sum of $53,118.12 up to the close of yesterday.

The city council was called to order last evening by auditor Jewett, and on motion of Mr. Welch the sheriff filed 7:30 o'clock this evening, as some of the members wished to hear Bill Nye.

The Mercury says that there are "bloodhounds" in Astoria. No, but there are two Kangaroo hounds that run wild over the marshes, and Rescue Engine Co. No. 2 thinks they are great dogs.

The eight Chinamen arrested Monday evening by deputy sheriffs Kinney and Oberg were arraigned before justice May yesterday, and they will appear for examination at two o'clock this afternoon.

The case of the Astoria & South Coast Railroad company vs. George Hill came up before Judge Shattuck in Portland yesterday, was argued, and taken under advisement. The judge will render a decision next Saturday.

In addition to the suit brought by C. H. Isom for a sum alleged to be due him from H. E. Jackson, R. N. Carman has brought suit for $150 for groceries and provisions furnished the levitating engineer who, it is thought, will not return to Astoria.

The Columbian continues to have a case of genuine justice in viewing THE MORNING ASTORIAN'S advertising columns, while it is itself compelled to run a lot of railway "ads" for which it doesn't get a cent in cash. Anything to fill up and save commission bills.

One lonely drunk was to appear in the police court yesterday afternoon, but he was still too much demoralized and will have to wait four hours more to repose in the city jail before he appears before the judicial tribunal in answer to the question of "How came you so?"

THE ASTORIAN, the Oregonian and other newspapers that take press dispatches had the president's proclamation yesterday morning. The Columbian, the Pioneer and other fourth-class sheets will republish it after the San Francisco papers have commented on it a while.

S. Walker and others circulated a subscription paper on Gray's River, and the good-hearted people of that section responded liberally with a subscription of $108 for the family of the late John Schroeder, who was accidentally drowned at Gray's River a few days ago.

Part of the cargo of the Clarence S. Bennett, consists of 600 kegs of nails which are consigned to this port. Her crew comprises twenty-eight persons, including the captain, officers and men, and they have all had good health on the entire voyage, having been out four months and eight days from New York.

The annual amount of talk is now going on preparatory to getting things in shape for the salmon season. Every year there are the same preliminary remarks before the work begins. A prominent canner last Monday offered $1 for salmon in April, though how canners can afford to pay even $1 in April is what puzzles canners and fishermen alike.

Yesterday three subjects of foreign lands filed their first papers in the county clerk's office, and will eventually exercise the right of franchise. John Larsen dissolves partnership with the emperor of Germany, Franz Herman Ely cuts loose from the emperor of Russia, and Antonio Contos has no further use for the king of Greece, but all will go into partnership with Uncle Sam.

A short time ago a certain stern parent intimated to the ruling powers who issue Cupid's permits that if his son wanted to marry, to refuse a license, as the young man has not attained his majority. Yesterday the same stern parent was cordially invited to attend this grand opening.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Further Developments in the Fredrickson Mystery. The tragic fate of Geo. Fredrickson and wife, who were both former residents of this city has aroused considerable interest here. Mention was made in these columns of their mysterious disappearance and the impression based on circumstantial evidence, that the hapless pair were drowned in Shoalwater bay, while on their way from South Bend to Bay Center in an open boat.

But circumstances have transpired that have so aroused suspicion that it is now believed in certain quarters that a foul murder has been committed.

A detective has been for several weeks working up the case, and he claims to have conclusive evidence that the two were murdered, their bodies buried and a huge log rolled upon their bloody graves.

Whatever the facts, certain it is that Geo. Rose, proprietor of Rose's hotel at South Bend, and Jack Edwards, the cook at the hotel, have been arrested by the sheriff of Pacific county, on a warrant charging them with having inflicted gunshot wounds on the person of Geo. Fredrickson. Their preliminary examination was at Bay Center yesterday, and the outcome is awaited with interest.

PERSONAL MENTION. F. H. Surprenant will return from San Francisco to-morrow's steamer.

D. H. Welch, J. Q. A. Bowley, A. T. Brakke and P. A. Cook have been appointed notaries public.

Dud Blount's unenvied rubicund visage is due to a disastrous experience last Saturday with a Russian bath.

Joe A. Montgomery and wife and Mrs. F. R. Willson, his wife's sister, are in the city from Willapa, on a visit to friends. John A. has been seriously ill this winter, but is all right again and reports good times in the Willapa country.

MARINE NEWS AND NOTES. The government steamer Cascaides came down the river last evening, towing three barges loaded with rock for the jetty.

The three-masted schooner Jessie Miner arrived yesterday from Humboldt bay with 240,000 feet of redwood lumber, bound for Portland.

The British bark Archer expects to go up to-day to Portland to receive her cargo, and will be pointed while there, then start for the United Kingdom.

August Ehler, C. J. Lee and H. Craft, the three men picked up at sea, as described in THE ASTORIAN of yesterday, will go up to Portland on the Archer.

The fine large American iron ship, Charles S. Bonner, which left New York on the 17th of last November, was towed over the bar and up to the city last evening.

The steamer Gen. Canby leaves for Ilwaco this morning at 6:45 and tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock, after which she will leave here at 8 o'clock, in accordance with her schedule time.

The steamer Manzanita yesterday took on one of the large whistling boys which is to be placed in position off Coos Bay, and will start out this morning with it, returning in a few days.

A CASE IN POINT. In our forefathers' days, pimples were attributed to diseased blood. But modern medicine has demonstrated that such food does not create pimples by fouling the blood, but retards digestion, which makes the stomach torpid, and the circulation sluggish, and in turn causes an accumulation of the pores which congest or become inflamed. The modern theory therefore is to treat the blood, but the stomach and liver, and it is under this new idea, that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla was conceived. It is wiping the old "blood disease" idea out of existence. A case in point: "I have had for years spells of indigestion and dyspepsia, tried nearly everything. Finally I took one of the leading sarsaparilla. It caused pimples to break out on my face, which I was told was caused by the potash. Hearing that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla did not contain potash, I sent for it. The pimples disappeared and I have had no return of the old ailment. It is a cure for indigestion and dyspepsia and the attendant face eruptions." Mrs. C. D. STUART, 1221 Mission street, S. F.

Badly Out in the Hand. Peter Clawson, bartender for Peter Brach's uptown saloon, was carrying out some bottles yesterday afternoon. One of them was broken, and Peter, in walking, slipped and fell, striking his head on the jagged bottle-edge and cutting it, the blood flowing from the gash. He lost considerable blood before the surgeon arrived, who stitched his hand up and left him as comfortable as possible.

A PROSPEROUS SECTION. Growth and Development at South Bend.

The Willapa country, in Pacific county, Washington, is coming to the front in great shape. It is enjoying a boom that will not prove a boomerang and is on the top crest of the wave of prosperity. There are 100 buildings, including three hotels, now going up at South Bend, and people are getting just what they choose to ask for property.

In the last two months Jno. Wood has sold $200,000 worth of property. The South Bend Land Co., has withdrawn all its property from the market. Rumor has it that that corporation has been offered $1,500,000 by the N. P. R. Co. for its holdings. J. R. Parcell sold 100 acres near South Bend last Saturday for $10,000.

I. S. Barston sold another 100 close by, for $7,000. Two years ago $2,000 would have been considered a good price for either tract. Ecklund, Holcomb and Schewett are doing considerable there. It is reported that Ecklund has disposed of his holdings to Holcomb for an even $50,000.

The Dolphin arrived there last Sunday with 30 passengers. Every steamer brings large numbers of people. Every lot of surveyed land is occupied, and there are 200 families on land as yet unsurveyed.

Bristol & Leonard are finishing their new saw mill and sash and door factory. There are about 600 real estate men there "whooping things up" and it is a lively place.

The Small Town in the West. In the east, says the Northwest Magazine, life in a small town is usually rather stupid. Everything is finished and established. There is no change to look forward to. Social relations run in fixed grooves. Business is in the hands of a few old concerns. The energetic young men are forced to go away to find opportunities for advancement. Raymond described the condition of such a town when he wrote: "A sleepy place, where under the same old wheel the same old rut doth deepen year by year." In the west the small town presents a very different aspect. It is full of energetic, scheming, active people. They all believe it will some day be a big place. They come perhaps from twenty different states, but they readily assimilate without much thought about each other's family histories. There is a good deal of social interest developed in the process of getting acquainted with each other. At the beginning they are nearly all strangers and have to make each other on trust. All have the same motive, that is, of bettering their condition, and all have a common bond of union in their ardent desire that the place of their new abode shall flourish. Social castes are slow in forming and when they do form they are easily broken up. There is no conservatism. There is a constant change and the constant expectation of change. The place is growing and every new building that is put up interests the whole community. New people arrive from time to time and are taken into the business and social life of the town. Things are to be made from the ground up—streets are to be opened, bridges built, schools established, churches erected; in a word all the frame work of modern society must be set up, and in this way a wide opening is opened for public spirit, for generosity and for talent. Everybody is exceedingly busy and everybody is very hopeful. Thus the spirit of the place is buoyant and elastic. When people who have helped build up one of these new western towns go back to their old homes in the east for a visit they find things very dull. The atmosphere seems stagnant. Nothing moves. They have become accused of the natural condition of every-day life and they wonder how they could ever have lived in a place where nothing exciting happens but an occasional funeral.

The small town in the west means to be a big town and is disposed to anticipate events a good deal. It secures many comforts and conveniences which it would not think it could afford if it were not so sure of its future. It lights its streets with electricity, constructs waterworks, builds an opera house, establishes newspapers, starts a club and goes in for lectures, art classes and literary societies when it has a population which in the east would call for nothing beyond ordinary village institutions such as the three-board sidewalk, the town pump, the weekly prayer meeting and the church social. Of course all the small towns in the west cannot become cities; but the ambition and effort to make them grow makes people broader in their intellectual range and their daily lives more worth living than would be the case if they had no hope of a large measure of prosperity.

From present indications there will be an unusual rush for timber lands under the timber land law coming spring. Already there are many persons who have come from the eastern states to locate on claims.

Scaly Skin Diseases

Poriasis 5 years, covering face, head and entire body with white scales. Skin very itchy, spreading across my nose and spent hundreds of dollars. Pronounced incurable. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

Cured by Cuticura. My disease (poriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes and my physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and legs, and I was very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT and one box of CUTICURA SOAP, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I thought the disease would leave a very deep scar, but the CUTICURA REMEDIES cured it without any scars. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I felt it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight. I know of others who have received great benefit from their use.
