

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: THURSDAY, MARCH 27, 1920. City and County Official Paper.

It was well enough while the weather was bad and snow lay on the ground to amuse ourselves with propositions and suggestions, but the time for talk is passed. Business is business, the completion of the road to the seaside is a necessary factor in Astoria's prosperity, and the road should be in running order and equipped in time for this season's seaside travel.

THERE are 1,000 men in Clatsop county, unjustly taxed because of that odious law that allows "indebtedness" to be deducted. Each one of the 1,000 has a big North American vote. The interesting question arises will these thousand votes be cast to perpetuate the present swindle, or will they be swung solid for men to go to Salem, and there to aid in making an assessment law that will weigh equally on rich and poor alike.

The exemption of indebtedness as practiced, makes every poor man in the state annually pay taxes that the rich men evade and escape. The next legislature can equalize all that and do justice by the repeal of that infamous law. It is for the people to send men to Salem that are pledged to do that. This is the vital issue of the coming campaign, so far as the legislature is concerned, apart from any question of succession to the U. S. senate.

WHAT a mighty government machine the party in power would have in Senator Stanford's proposed scheme to issue government loans to owners of real estate at 1 or 2 per cent. interest! The borrower at 2 per cent. could lend money in turn at 6 per cent., and the borrowers at that figure could let out the money at any higher rate they could get from the needy debtors. But the center of this mighty system of borrowing and lending would be in the treasury at Washington.

THERE are men in Clatsop county who, by industry and frugality, and hard toil and self-denial, have accumulated $2,000 or $3,000 in property. On this they pay big taxes. Men who have twenty times as much escape. Why? By reason of the clause that exempts "indebtedness." You who pay onerous and unnecessary taxes have the power in your own hands to get justice. How? By sending men to Salem pledged to repeal the "indebtedness" exemption clause. Your vote is as big and counts as much as any other one vote. How are you going to use it?

OUR Democratic brethren are going to nominate N. L. Butler for congress. He is a pleasant gentleman. Purely as a business proposition, however, purely as a matter of self-interest the people of the state will keep Binger Hermann where he is. True politics, above and beyond all party consideration, demands that the man who has been tried, who has proved equal to the test and who is devoting his best energies to the advancement of the commonwealth, should be retained. For this reason, Binger Hermann should be renominated and re-elected.

A CASE IN POINT.

In our forefathers' days, pimples were attributed to diseased blood. But modern medicine has demonstrated that rich food does not create eruptions by fouling the blood, but by overloading the stomach, and the circulation sluggish, and in turn causes an embolism of the pores which congest or become pimply. The modern theory therefore is not to tempt the blood, but the stomach, and liver, and it is under this new idea, that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla was conceived. It is wiping the old "blood disease" idea out of existence. A case in point: "I have had for years spots of indigestion and dyspepsia and had nearly everything. Finally I took one of the leading sarsaparillas. It caused pimples to break out on my face, which I was told was caused by the potato. Hearing that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla did not contain mineral, I sent for it. The pimples disappeared and I have had no return of the old spots. It is a cure for indigestion and dyspepsia and the attendant face eruptions." Mrs. C. D. STUART, 1223 Mission Street, S. F.

Wonderful Results

Results often follow the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Severe cases of scrofula, upon which other preparations have been powerless, yield to the peculiar curative powers of this medicine. Distressing cases of dyspepsia, excruciating complaints of the kidneys and liver, agonizing itches and pains of salt rheum, disagreeable cases of catarrh, and aches and pains of rheumatism, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It purifies the blood, and at the same time tones the stomach, creates an appetite, and gives strength to every function of the body. Give it a trial.

General Debility "For four years my wife suffered with large tumor bunches on the glands under the arms, and general debility of the whole system. She became so poor in health that we were on the verge of despair regarding her recovery. Physicians did not seem to understand her case; at all events she never derived any benefit from their treatment. She finally concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The immediate effect was so marked and satisfactory that she continued to take it, and this is the result: She has gained in weight

From 84 to 111 Pounds and is stronger and in better health than she has been for years. The bunches under her arms have diminished, and we believe Hood's Sarsaparilla will be too much for them in time." J. J. NORCROSS, 226 Commercial Street, Boston, Mass.
