

The Daily Astorian. ASTORIA, OREGON: THURSDAY, APRIL 3, 1930. ISSUED EVERY MORNING. (Monday excepted.) J. F. HALLORAN & COMPANY, Publishers and Proprietors.

THE ASTORIAN guarantees to its subscribers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia river. CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER. Only three days more of Lent. The Young building on Third street is now nearly enclosed.

The new-entrant roll of Westminister, British Columbia, foots up $1,589,299. Richard Edwards was arrested yesterday by the police, and booked for larceny.

Each of Spokane Falls four wards is to have a new school building to cost $200,000 each. The K. of P. of this city expect to present the play of Damon and Pythias about the 18th inst.

The bright, sunny weather of the past few days has started the grass and flowers growing rapidly. A few Chinook salmon were caught yesterday and quickly snapped up by restaurants and private families.

Ben Ward yesterday sold his half interest in the express and livery business to his partner, Henry Sherman, for $2,100. Wm. H. Clark is suing his wife, Ollie Clark for divorce, in San Francisco, for wilful desertion. She is now in Oregon.

Washington state has 917 miles of steamboat mail routes and the number of miles traveled annually by the mail boats is 200,000. Work on the motor line around Smith's point progresses. A wharf is building and the rails and water are expected next week.

Yesterday the real estate transfers were rather more numerous than of late, there being fourteen in number, amounting to $7,512. Clinton & Son's pile driver will commence driving piles this morning at Smith's point for a dock to be used by the new motor line.

There are seven abductors on Belingham bay, with a population of 3,000. In Seattle there are only five, with a population of about 20,000. A company has been organized at Port Townsend to cultivate an oyster farm of 110 acres. It will be stocked with the best varieties from the east.

Since the fare between this city and Ilwaco has been reduced to two bits, the steamer Gen. Canby now averages about sixty passengers each trip. Dealers in this city are selling goods at so low a margin of profit as to render it unnecessary to go or send to Portland for the usual requirements of life.

Billy Arlington, the old-time negro minstrel, is in the city for the purpose of making arrangements with some society for one of his unique performances. "Hay was selling in Grant's Pass last week for $30 per ton," says the Comer, "and if there is any in the city now, we do not presume the price has declined any."

A praise service will be held at the Congregational church on Sunday evening next, and some of the best local musical talent will participate. Everybody invited. A power of attorney was filed for record yesterday, in which V. Boelling authorized "Joe, Noland to sell any or all lands owned by him in township eight north, range ten west.

Louis C. Sauer, who is suffering from temporary mental aberration, and was brought here last Saturday from Tillamook Rock lighthouse, is at the hospital and doing very well. It is almost impossible to procure accommodations for the many people now at Bay Center, attracted by the Fredrickson murder case, as the hotels are crowded to their utmost capacity.

Salmon from the Clacamas are now being packed here. Few salmon have as yet been packed, and there is a general halt all along the line before the annual attack on the salmon-quitman. One hundred and seven years ago today was born Washington Irving, who wrote the book called "Astoria," familiar to many of our readers. Jno. Jacob Astor gave him $10,000 to write it.

A package of Whatcom county scrip, good for the face value of $2,000, was packed up in Vancouver Sunday by a little boy. The owner was soon found and his property restored to him. A corps of engineers began a preliminary survey for the Roseburg and Coos Bay railroad last week. Property is advancing in price around Coos Bay by reason of the railroad prospects.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Eliza Kinney took place from the Baptist church at Salem at one o'clock yesterday afternoon. The remains were interred in the Old Fellows' Rural cemetery. The Northern Pacific has granted North Yakima permission to use water from the railroad tank for fire purposes, and the firemen have been drilling themselves in getting water from this quarter.

The Puget sound steamboat companies have combined on an advance of about 30 per cent. in freight and passenger rates, beginning April 5. Tacoma and Seattle are made common points for all Sound ports. The Lake county Examiner is publishing a list of delinquent subscribers who show no disposition to pay. It is calculated to make a stir among that class of its patrons and may bring in some coin upon doubtful accounts.

The interest in militia matters in this city is increasing, and there is good reason to believe that Co. H will be filled up, and that another company will be organized. This will enable the boys to become familiar with battalion drill. The First regiment, O. N. G., which is stationed at Portland with the exception of one company at Oregon City and one in Astoria, was inspected last week, and is said to be in excellent condition, well officered, equipped and drilled. The Oregon Press association will have its annual meeting in Portland on the 14th and 15th of next August, and will be attended by such representatives of the different newspapers as can easiest be spared from their respective offices. The Columbia furnace proposes to put in a smaller furnace, with which they will be prepared to do castings of good iron, while the larger furnace will still continue to be used for melting scrap tin and casting weights for window sashes.

All along the water front of the city there is great activity among the fishermen, the boats being examined and brought out for use, and boats are being painted, or taken from their places of winter storage and prepared for service. Oregon will soon be a great woolen manufacturing state. Ashland, Salem, Brownsville, Albany, Oregon City, each have a woolen factory now, and the scotch wools are being shipped to that place soon.

Mutton sheep are reported very scarce at North Yakima, and are quoted at $14.00 and $15.00. The Herald says: This price will drop about one half after shearing time, which is near at hand. Pelts are in demand at prices ranging as high as $2.15. Every paper in Oregon and a few in Washington and a few in California are advertising Astoria property. Advertisements of Astoria property now appear in the San Francisco papers. Then, too, THE ASTORIAN goes everywhere and aids in advertising the place extensively.

A large sized Newfoundland dog serves as a horse for a fisherman, for his harness is a little wagon, and a steady pace, as demurely as a horse, and in the wagon were two large sized salmon. The man had to hurry to keep up with his team. The advertisements in THE ASTORIAN form a complete index of the town. A live newspaper is a mirror of the community in which it is published. The interest of its enterprising merchants are found in its columns, and is an epitome of the business and social life of the place.

While in Astoria Bill Nye wrote a column letter about this city and his trip from San Francisco. He sent it to a New York newspaper for first publication; and in course of time will be read here with interest. A good many people would rather read his productions than hear and see him eloquent. The following resolution was adopted by the company, on motion of Lieut. Wherity: "Resolved that the thanks of Co. H, First Reg't, O. N. G. be and the same are hereby tendered to W. A. Sherman, for his untiring first lieutenant, for the able manner in which he has conducted the affairs of the company while in command, and also for the uniform courtesy extended by him to the members of the company."

We also invite the daily papers of this city to publish the above resolution, and direct the secretary to furnish Lieutenant Sherman with a copy of the same. Now that the company is fully organized it is believed that the boys will attend regularly to drill and make rapid progress. The membership is of fine material and they have a grand opportunity to soon become one of the best companies in the state. They will give a ball the latter part of this month, and every effort they make in regard to advancement and improvement should be heartily endorsed by all good citizens.

The Boy Couldn't Understand It. A Uniontown boy was seen by an Astorian reporter yesterday looking fixedly at a pig. The reporter had been looking at the section of plank road that the Clatsop Road and Construction company had started to build and he was a little puzzled to know where he began to end. He saw a puzzled look on the urchin's face as he gazed upon piggy and asked him what he was thinking of. "Well," said the boy, "you see that pig?" "Yes," said the reporter. "I gave him a bucket of swill just now," said the boy, "and the little cuss eat it all up. Then I picked him up and put him in the same bucket that he had just emptied, and he didn't beg to fill it. Can you tell me how that is?"

The reporter couldn't, and suggested that the matter could be left to the debating society, after they have decided on what is the tangible effect of a chimera revolving in a vacuum. Glad to Get Some News. The isolated residents of Port Orford hailed the arrival of the Manzanita last Tuesday as gladly as they would a sight of an angel of the Lord. They had had no mail since January 7th—nearly three months, and when the officers of the Manzanita brought the news of the world, they seized them as eagerly as the Israelites of old seized upon the manna in the wilderness. They expect some mail down there before long, but eagerly inquired when the Manzanita would come again, and wouldn't the officers please bring some papers, when she did come.

The effects of the recent terrific rains there are still visible. Great hills have slid into the water, and earth are washed away, and the whole face of the country changed. They Want Their Pay. Yesterday papers were filed with the county clerk for a civil suit in the circuit court brought by W. H. B. Bain against the Pacific Construction company, in which the sum of $3,681.82 is claimed as the amount due the plaintiff for work performed by himself and fourteen others in surveying and grading for the line of the railroad that company contemplates building. The names of the others, all of whom had assigned their claims to Bain are as follows: John P. Morse, E. E. Spidel, Arthur Roberts, N. McPhee, W. E. Morse, B. McPherson, G. E. Ginnis, D. McPherson, J. W. Walker, A. H. Richmond, S. C. Looser, P. E. Hickman, J. E. Alcaray, Willis Eberman and G. F. Eberman.

A Painful Experience. Nathaniel McCarty, of Mishawaka, had a painful experience this week. While falling a tree near his home, last Monday, a limb struck him on the arm, breaking it in two places. He mounted a mule and rode all last Monday night, Tuesday and Tuesday night, getting here yesterday morning where he received prompt surgical aid. Sir Knights Attention!! You will meet at your armory on Thursday evening April 3rd, 1930, at 7:30 o'clock, initiation. By Order. SIR K. CAPTAIN. Attest: A. A. CLEVELAND, Sir K. Recorder.

INSPECTION AND ELECTION. Important Meeting of Company H, First Regiment, O. N. G. Last evening, at their armory, Company H, First Regiment, O. N. G., had an important meeting. It was called for the purpose of electing officers. First Lieutenant Leonard C. Jones, inspector of rifle practice of the regimental staff, came down to preside at the election, and also to inspect the company. Through an inspection had been ordered, the order was not received here until yesterday, consequently the boys had no time to prepare, and were not aware of the fact until they reached the armory.

Second Lieut. Wherity was in command, and there was a company drill while the inspecting officer was examining the books and accounts. Lieutenant Jones then inspected the company, after which he drilled them in the manual of arms and company movements, and expressed himself as well pleased with their appearance and drill. Twenty enlisted men were present, and one commissioned officer, making twenty-one in all.

Lieutenant Jones was accompanied by Sergeant J. G. B. Phillips, of the regimental non-commissioned staff, who came with him from Portland, by order of the Colonel. An election of officers was then held, resulting as follows: Second Lieutenant H. J. Wherity was promoted to captain; first sergeant L. E. Gillet was elected first lieutenant; and second sergeant Ed. Hallock was elected second lieutenant. The election of non-commissioned officers to fill vacancies will be held at a subsequent meeting.

General Order No. 3, issued by Col. Beebe, Headquarters First Regiment, O. N. G., Portland, Oregon, dated March 27, 1930, contains the following paragraph: "The commandant takes this occasion to express his commendation of the painstaking and very capable manner First Lieut. W. A. Sherman discharged his official duties during the protracted interval when in command of Co. H, and his sincere regret that the regiment is to suffer the loss of the further services of this efficient officer."

The following resolution was adopted by the company, on motion of Lieut. Wherity: "Resolved that the thanks of Co. H, First Reg't, O. N. G. be and the same are hereby tendered to W. A. Sherman, for his untiring first lieutenant, for the able manner in which he has conducted the affairs of the company while in command, and also for the uniform courtesy extended by him to the members of the company."

We also invite the daily papers of this city to publish the above resolution, and direct the secretary to furnish Lieutenant Sherman with a copy of the same. ONE PRICE. Do not confound the terms "mossback" and "old settler." To be an "old settler" it is not necessary to be a "mossback." Conservatism is as often inbred as acquired. Some of the most enterprising citizens of Olympia for years have boasted of their rights to the title "old settler" and have proudly worn the pioneer's badge.—Olympia Partisan.

Correct, Sir Partisan. The Nehalem valley has long since learned the difference between the two. Some of the best men and mightiest hunters he or she are the old settlers; and some of the very worst specimens of "mossbacks" are younger men by many years, but who are too dattered cultus to do anything but laze around and kick at any proposed improvement. Much "bress de Lawd," there's about as much use of their trying to stop the progress of this valley and county as there would be for another jackass to try and demand a fast freight. And their loss would not be felt much more.—Nehalem Journal.

We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use.
