THE CHINESE RIOT.

A Fatal Feud Between Two Rival Factions.

Special by THE ASTORIAN. LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 9.—The Chinaman announced to be fatally shot at the riot last night, died this morning. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict to-night of death from a gunshot wound fired by a person or persons unknown. Even more than the usual quiet prevailed in Chinatown to-night, the principal cause being the fact that the Chinese theatre was not running. Ah Mow, the proprietor, had signified his intention of keeping open as usual, but certain movements on the part of the enemy faction under Wong Ghee, caused him to alter his determination and the theatre remained closed. The first move on the part of the Wong Ghee faction, was signified by the hoisting of a large, triangular, crimson colored flag, of peculiar design on the east of the two-story joss house, early in the forenoon. It was not known what was the significance of this signal, but it was finally ascertained that it was to call a meeting of the Bing Gung Tong society, which was formed this week by Wong Ghee and his friends, with the avowed intention of wiping Ah Mow and his followers from the face of the earth. The society members probably about 230 Chinamen, many of them high-binders. Letters received by some of Ah Mow's friends, from San Diego, state that more than a week ago, a case, containing two dozen forty-five calibre revolvers, and a number of coats of mail manufactured after the oriental custom, of many layers of paper, had been shipped from San Diego, consigned to the Bing Gung Tong society, in Los Angeles. It was also rumored that a dozen or more high-binders, might be expected in a few days. Acting on this information, Ah Mow closed his place and sent spies into the camp of his enemy. The scouts reported that a meeting was in progress, that full 120 Chinese were present. Wong Ghee cannot be found to-night, but members of the opposition faction, claim he has left the city accompanied by his henchman, Wong Ding. Ah Mow has announced that he will run the theater to-morrow night. In the meantime the police detail is continued and the utmost vigilance is maintained. The Chinaman found with a pistol in his possession has his weapon confiscated and is arrested. Both factions are equally persistent in boasts that they will run the other gang out of the city.

Guilty of Murder.

Special by THE ASTORIAN. VANCOUVER BARRACKS, Wash., May 9.—Last evening the jury in the Edward Gallagher case, after being out four hours, came in with a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. Judge Caples, counsel for the defense, immediately entered a motion for a new trial. Edward Gallagher was convicted of the killing of Lewis Warr, who was found dead in the field near his residence, six miles west from Lower Cascade, in Skamania county, November 9, 1888.

Trouble Among the Farmers.

Special by THE ASTORIAN. SEATTLE, May 9.—Serious trouble is feared at the Junction of Stuck and White rivers, in this county. Seventy farmers of the Upper Payalup valley, armed with Winchester rifles, are engaged in damming Stuck river, so as to divert its waters into White river. A restraining order has been issued against them, and a deputy sheriff dispatched to the scene, with instructions to organize a posse to disperse them if this necessary action of the farmer is due to the water being so high in Stuck river that it threatens to overflow its banks and do incalculable damage to crops. On the other hand, if the waters of that stream are diverted to White river, similar damage will result to the crops of the farmers having land along that river.

A Shocking Case.

Special by THE ASTORIAN. TRAYER, May 9.—Mrs. Brasler, who strangled her eleven-year-old girl last Monday night, and then attempted after the escape of the other child, to kill herself with an ax, is still living and perfectly rational. She attempted suicide yesterday with a case knife. She is fearful she may recover, and regrets her failure to kill the other child.

More Trouble on the Sound.

Special by THE ASTORIAN. SEATTLE, May 9.—The men on the steamer "Olympian" were out again this afternoon. They claim that the agreement entered into has not been complied with, and all the waiters on the Sound steamers will walk out to-morrow, if the increase of their wages from $25 to $30 per month is not complied with. Over 100 men are affected.

Commencing the Survey.

Special by THE ASTORIAN. VANCOUVER, Wash., May 9.—Surveyors in the employ of the Union Pacific established their camp here this morning, about two miles from the city, and will immediately begin a survey of the trunk line connecting Vancouver with Puget sound.

Railroad Accident in California.

Special by THE ASTORIAN. LIVERMORE, Cal., May 9.—A work train hauling rock from the side east of here, was struck in the rear by a special passenger train, while passing through a tunnel this afternoon. A brakeman named Adolph Schmitt, was struck by the engine of the special and instantly killed. Four disabled cars are in the tunnel, and a wreck train has just been sent up to clear the debris. The track will be clear by morning.

BISMARCK AGAIN.

Humors of a Promised Sensation.

Special by THE ASTORIAN. LONDON, May 9.—The announcement is made that Bismarck is about to make public, the complete story of his dismissal from the chancellorship, together with the events which led up to it. This greatly enraged the emperor. The emperor sent a personal letter, reminding the prince that he is liable to severe punishment, under an amendment to the penal code of his own making, if he makes public the knowledge regarding state matters, gained by him during his official life.

The Times publishes a dispatch saying Bismarck had received Desput, the French journalist, with whom he had a long talk. The dispatch adds it is probable that Desput will write a sensational account of Bismarck's dismissal from the chancellorship.

Bad Place to Hold Office.

Special by THE ASTORIAN. LONDON, May 9.—King of Dahomey is very tired of the war against the French. He expected to overwhelm the small French garrison on the coast at one blow. When his troops returned discomfited, from the defense of Kokonou, he was so enraged that he beheaded the general-in-command, and forced his way with the slaughter of several more officers the next day. This had a contrary effect to what he expected, for many troops deserted, some seeking refuge within the French lines.

Unexpected Explosion.

Special by THE ASTORIAN. NANCY, France, May 9.—While an artillery battery were practicing this morning with blank cartridges, a dozen men were sent to pick up unfired cartridges, when a sudden explosion occurred seven soldiers were badly burned; three will probably lose their eyes, and their beards were burned off; others, their clothes are in shreds.
