SENATOR JONES ON SILVER.

The Behring Sea Negotiations Now Nearly Completed.

SEALS WILL BE PROTECTED.

Special by the California ASSOCIATED PRESS. WASHINGTON, May 12.—In the senate to-day, Plumb introduced a bill for the free coinage of standard silver dollars. The foot note attached to the bill says this will not interfere with the present privilege of obtaining silver certificates for silver dollars, deposited in the treasury, so that the convenient floating of silver can be continued as now, if the bill becomes a law.

At one o'clock, the silver bill came up as unfinished business. Jones of Nevada took the floor, and made a long address on the bill. He was given undivided attention, as it was expected that he is the best posted man on the silver question, in the senate.

Jones cited from a number of tables, showing the relative difference in value of a silver dollar in 1873 and 1888, from which it was proven most conclusively, that the price of silver, instead of a decrease in value since 1873, had actually increased, also that in 1873, 412½ grains of silver bought 134 bushels of corn, while the same amount now will buy 137 bushels, and that notwithstanding the fact that this silver was in bullion form uncoined, this is also said of wheat, cotton, mutton and in fact these comparisons might be applied to all commodities in use at the present day. It is not of so much importance to know how much gold can be bought with so much silver, but how much of the necessities of life, such as food and clothing, can be obtained, that is what the working people of this country want to know.

Jones said there was no value in money itself, no matter of what it was made, gold, silver or paper. It was only of value owing to the fact that human appreciation or estimation, had recognized it, and specified a nature as to render it of value, if adopted, or set up as a standard dollar of the country. The best money a country can adopt, is that of the least changing value, and that money is silver. The demand for money is unending, the object of every man woman and child in the country, and no one but a beggar asks for goods, before he has the money to pay for them. The limit to the demand for money, a substitute can be provided for everything else under the sun, but for money there is no substitute. It is that factor, without which nothing of importance can be done, therefore is it not of transcendent importance that in the selection of some substitute to represent the money of the country, care should be taken to have one of such a character as to be the least liable to change in value, and where any substance be found, so fully answering all the requirements needed, in this connection, as does silver.

Jones included in his speech quite a large number of tables, showing the wonderful wealth this country has in silver, as well as the few fluctuations in value, it has been subject to, in comparison with gold. He was listened to with marked attention, by a majority of senators on both sides of the chamber, and when at four o'clock he yielded the floor, after having spoken uninterruptedly three hours, with the understanding that he be allowed to finish to-morrow, he was the recipient of the heartiest congratulations, from Democrats and Republicans alike.

They Rather Favor Trants.

Special to THE ASTORIAN. WASHINGTON, May 12.—The house committee of the whole on the tariff bill to-day, rejected after a heated debate, the amendment offered by Anderson of Kansas, authorizing the president to suspend duty on any article, when he may be convinced that the production of said article, is controlled by trusts or a combination to control prices or productions.

THE SEAL FISHERIES.

International Regulations.

Special to THE ASTORIAN. NEW YORK, May 12.—The Herald's Ottawa dispatch says the Behring sea negotiation has reached a final stage except a mere detail. While it is not possible to formulate and publish the intended international convention for the regulation of the fur seal fishery waters adjacent thereto, during the present season, the American and British negotiators have agreed upon a mode by which regulations shall be so framed, that a full and satisfactory adjustment of the controversy is assured. The Russian government has from the beginning, virtually agreed to join in whatsoever arrangements should prove satisfactory to the American government. If hereafter the subjects of any other power than Great Britain, Russia or the United States should engage in the north Pacific seal fisheries, such powers will jointly be invited by the three powers named, to adhere to the convention. It is expected that the government of Japan will tender its adhesion to the convention, as soon as promulgated.

A COBRAID'S WOMAN.

An Energetic and Ambitious School Marm.

Men sometimes speak sneeringly of the weaker sex and claim that they are good for nothing but to be waited on, and can accomplish nothing of themselves. In strong contradiction of that statement may be cited the case of a plucky little woman on Bear creek who has recently been elected a claim in a rough section of country.

The snow was deep and it was difficult reaching the locality, but the teacher had started with a brave heart and was determined to get through. She wore heavy boots, and in a few weeks made the ride but an attractive home. Several times the roads were so bad through the winter, that provisions could be obtained only with great difficulty, and at long intervals, but her ambition sustained her in the work of making a home, and once she walked over four miles, and carried forty pounds of supplies on her shoulders.

Six months have elapsed and she will prove up and pay for the land she has pre-empted. Who shall say that Clatsop county will not win via such brave women as are to be found here, who will start alone in the winter and make a home in the wilderness.

Lost the Only Chance.

A couple stood at the gate in front of a house on Brush street the other night, when the front door was opened and a woman looked out and inquired: "Is that you?"

"Yes."

"Who's with you?"

"A fellow."

"But what's his name?"

"Oh! you go in."

"I shan't do it! It's my right to know who he is and what his intentions are!"

"Ma!" she chided.

"I don't care."

"Please go in."

"I won't till I find who he is. You have been having beaux for the last fifteen years, and none of them has ever said a word about marriage. Your pa says it's all my fault, but—"

Here the young man took a sudden skip, and as Sarah went up the steps she said:

"I hope you feel better now. He was just proposing when you banged the door open, and now he's gone!"

"Good-bye!" gasped the mother. "See if you can't overtake him and coax him back."

But he was gone.—Detroit Free Press.

A RAILROAD WAR.

Fearful Cutting in Passenger Rates.

Special to THE ASTORIAN. CHICAGO, May 12.—Never was there a more mixed state of railroad affairs than those existing in the western passenger business. To-morrow the Alton will begin selling tickets either way between Chicago and Kansas City for $3, and between Chicago and Denver for $10.50. The Atchison road will meet these rates on Wednesday. The Burlington and Northwest roads will not decide until to-morrow, what they will do. The Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City will stick to the present $8 rate, in order to preserve its local. To cap the climax, the Rock Island will raise its rate between Chicago and Kansas City, to $9.50, thus preserving its entire local passenger earnings, but abandoning the through business.

Not to Lag Behind in the procession, the Burlington also gave notice that beginning May 15, it will reduce rates both ways, between Chicago and St. Paul, to $8 first class and $5 second class. The St. Paul road also bobbed up with a notice that on May 16 it would make in connection with the Iowa Central, a rate of $10 for first class and $7 for second class from St. Paul to Kansas City, and $11 first class and $8 second class from Kansas city to St. Paul.

General passenger agent Brunsen, of the Chicago, St. Paul and Kansas City, said that his line was a short one between these points, and that he would meet the reductions.

GERMAN POLICY IN AFRICA.

Stanley Thinks the Germans Are Gaining the Ascendancy.

SLAVEN CHALLENGES CORBETT.

Special by California ASSOCIATED PRESS. LONDON, May 12.—Stanley in an interview said he was weary by England's apathy and pincery in regard to the operations of the Germans. If England continued inactive the Germans would secure paramount influence in Africa. The emperor is backing Wissman, and it is impossible for him to fail to advance German interests.

THE AFRICAN QUESTION.

Germany Endeavoring to Secure Advantage.

Special to THE ASTORIAN. BERLIN, May 12.—During the debate on the East African credit in the Reichstag Baron Von Marschall explained that the mission of Emin Pasha in Africa be confined to the establishing of friendly relations with the tribes in the interior within the German sphere of interest and estimating the cost of eventually forming fortified stations in the interior. In negotiations with England regarding the boundaries, the wish of Germany is to go hand in hand with England, and to cultivate the common interests of both countries. The object was not to acquire as much territory, but to keep together what naturally is connected by the course of water ways as a means of communication.

Emin Pasha Versus Stanley.

Special to THE ASTORIAN. CAIRO, May 12.—Dr. Zuecitti has received a letter from Emin Pasha, Eschamoy. Emin says: I found myself between the English and Germans. My decision to return to the heart of Africa in the interest of Germany was soon taken when I saw the English endeavoring to derive advantage from the prestige of my name. With reference to Stanley and Tippoo Tib, I have information which if published would create a great sensation. Stanley will be the first to stir up the people against me."

THE CUSTER MASSACRE.

More Bodies and Helms Discovered.

Special to THE ASTORIAN. HELENA, Mont., May 12.—While setting headstones over the graves of men who fell in the Custer massacre, June 25th, 1876, Captain Sweet's men found three unburied bodies. One still had on the pants of the United States uniform, showing he was a private of the 7th United States cavalry. The skulls of the other two men had been broken in above the ears, with a stone mallet. The boot of Otto Reed's boy, twelve years old, and a nephew of Custer, who was killed with him, was found in a ravine. Some buttons marked M. D. (medical department) were found, and a body near them, which was, no doubt, Dr. Wolf's remains. An officer's brass spur, of peculiar construction, and other relics were picked up.

A thorough search of the Custer battle field will be made, as it is believed there are still others unburied. The finding of these three bodies makes seven in all that have been discovered, four having been found last fall and buried by General Brislin's son and scout James A. Campbell, of Fort Custer, who were searching the Custer field for relics.

"SERVED HIM RIGHT."

The Popular Verdict Regarding a California Lynching.

Special to THE ASTORIAN. SANTA MARIA, Cal., May 12.—About 2 A. M. to-day a band of twenty masked men entered the "70" saloon, on Main street, where E. L. Creswell was confined since Constable Southard's murder, stood up the three guards with shot guns, placed blankets over their heads, and then proceeded to Creswell's room and tied and gagged him, they then passed a rope over the rafters, swung him up and left him hanging until day-light. The whole thing was done very quietly, and did not awaken parties sleeping in the next room, and there was only a small partition between. The universal verdict is "served him right."

A RELIGIOUS LOCK OUT.

Interesting Items From Polk County.

Special to THE ASTORIAN. INDEPENDENCE, Or., May 12.—The Evangelical church, of this city is deeply involved in the Bishop Bowman controversy which took place at Albany a short time ago, in the conference there. The pastor here last year, was returned by the Bishop Bowman faction, the congregation having sent a petition to that effect to the conference; the dissenting faction appointed Rev. Poling as pastor. On Sunday night Rev. Mr. Shupp with his family went to church and found it all in darkness and the door locked. On the next Sunday Rev. Poling is to preach and the understanding is that the doors will be opened. Every member of the church wanted Rev. Shupp returned, but now deny him the church. His family is prostrated with grief.

The Polk county court opened to-day with forty-nine cases on the docket. HIGH WATER AT PORTLAND.

Fears of a Repetition of February's Flood.

Special to THE ASTORIAN. PORTLAND, May 12.—Great fears are entertained here that the present flood in the Willamette may exceed that of last February. C. W. Sims, traveling auditor of the Northern Pacific, who has just returned from eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho says the amount of snow in these sections is appalling, and that so far but little impression has been made by the warm weather. He is of the opinion, judging from what he has seen and the conditions attending the previous spring freshets that the Coeur D'Alene, Spokane and Snake rivers will be fearfully swollen, and consequently the Columbia will have all she can do to carry off the melting snows. The latter river is steadily but slowly rising which fact accounts for the rise in the Willamette at this place by reason of back water.
