

The Daily Astorian. ASTORIA, OREGON. TUESDAY, JUNE 19, 1900. ISSUED EVERY MORNING.

YESTERDAY'S ELECTION. A Big Vote and a Very Much Mixed Result.

There was fine weather and a big vote yesterday, there being 1856 votes cast in the five precincts. Two years ago there were 1258 votes cast in the city and 178 in upper Astoria, a total of 1436. This shows an increase in the vote of 410.

There was considerable hard work done by all the candidates and their friends. Tickets were scratched terribly, a straight ticket being the exception. There were a few disturbances incident to election day, but in general the election was quiet and orderly.

Well, guessers are in order now, as to majorities. The Union labor-prohib party wasn't in it. Everyone was voted: nobody got away. Now then for the Fourth of July celebration. Well, guessers are in order now, as to majorities.

Three holidays have come close together: Decoration day, Sunday, and election day. The I. R. & N. surveyors are busy locating the new extension of the N.W. railroad. It was a go-as-you-please yesterday. Some fell outside the breakfast; others by the way side.

There was no courts nor real estate transfers nor marriage licenses yesterday. Everything was worked yesterday for more than they were worth. There was no ballot box at Lewis and Clarke's yesterday, but one was improvised that answered all purposes.

Yesterday work was commenced on the repairs to Mrs. Grant's building, which was damaged by fire last week Monday. Tacoma is putting up $20,000 that save Tacoma has within 10,000 of Seattle's population. It's a bluff, but take down the pot.

Tickets at the New York Novelty store for the Carl King appearance to-morrow. A unique, startling and inexplicable performance. Upper Astoria residents should take immediate steps to secure a fire engine. They can't always depend on this city for fire protection.

To reach the notice of a few advertise somewhere else; to reach the attention of everyone in Astoria advertise in The Astorian—seven days in the week; all the news. This evening at the Occident hotel, at 6:30, Carl King will give to several invited guests, a private exhibition of several of his extraordinary manifestations of thought reading.

The telephone came flying down yesterday afternoon in great shape, and left up at seven last evening. This is her day off, every other day and night she does the double act. The banks were closed yesterday, the police court, on account of election day, it being a state holiday, and the saloons were also closed, that is the front doors were.

The census enumerators for this city have not yet received their necessary books. The idea was to bring yesterday, but as it stands the whole thing seems badly mixed up so far. When the sun went down last evening the subjects of the emperor of Germany were decreased just one, as Fred Barlow had withdrawn and taken out first papers for American citizenship.

As the sidewalk and planks in front of the city building will be torn up to-day, Rescue engine 2 will be taken to the corners of Second and Genevieve streets, so that in case of fire it will be ready for service. Old man McGill, at Williamsport, has a mean enemy. The miscreant went to his place at midnight Sunday and pulled up every vegetable in Me's garden. The depreddator has been traced, and an arrest is in order.

There was more "scratching" yesterday than ever before known at a Clatsop county election. The tickets as they came out of the boxes last night looked like unto the tickets as they came out of the boxes at last December's election. J. W. Munson, of Point Adams light house, is in the city. He says that a pair of pretty Chinese pheasants, in gorgeous plumage arrayed, came to the light house twice a week. He looks out for them, and protects them from marauders with murderous guns.

At the present rate of speed Third street eastward will not be finished this century. The torn up condition of the sidewalk in the vicinity of THE ASTORIAN office is an inconvenience that should be obviated forthwith. The work is slower than molasses in winter, the way it is being done, or not done. The court street school will close for summer vacation next Friday, June 30th. Exercises will be held in the primary department on Thursday, P. M. at 1:30, also an exhibition of the results of the Pollard system of instruction adopted by the board at the beginning of the school year. Certificates of promotion will be issued at that time to all pupils who have successfully passed the examinations. On Friday, after completing reports, the pupils, under the supervision of their respective teachers, will take a picnic on the hills, a fitting ending of a hard and successful year's work.

There were twenty-one votes cast at Westport precinct Miller 18, Hermann 67, Bruce 1; Penney 18, Thompson 8; Townsend 15, G. W. McBride 60.

PERSONAL MENTION. C. S. Gunderson goes to Coos bay on a business trip. P. J. Goodman and I. L. Osgood will both moved into their new quarters. Mr. and Mrs. John Easterbrook returned to South Bend, Wash. this morning. Miss Callie Munson, who has been confined to her bed for nearly three months with inflammatory rheumatism, is rapidly improving. She is not able to be up daily or eatables, and thus walk into an adjoining room. Death of M. P. Mallinix. Maston Parks Mallinix, son of Dr. L. P. Mallinix of this city, died at his father's residence at 11:15 yesterday morning. Deceased was a young man of promise whose untimely death carries sorrow to a home, and occasions regret to a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. He was born January 30th, 1872, at Worthington, Green Co., Indiana. He had been attending the Bishop Scott Academy at Portland till about two weeks ago, when he was stricken with typhoid fever, and came home only to breathe his last. The funeral will be from Grace Church to-morrow morning at ten o'clock.

A CASE IN POINT. In our forefathers' days, pimples were attributed to diseased blood. But modern medicine has demonstrated that rich food does not create eruptions by fouling the blood, but retards digestion, which makes the stomach torpid, and the circulation sluggish, and in turn causes an enfeebled action of the pores which congest or become simply. The modern theory therefore is not to treat the blood, but the stomach and liver, and to keep the bowels free. It is a case in point: "I have had for years spells of indigestion and dyspepsia and tried nearly everything. Finally I took one of the leading newspapers. It came pimple to break out on my face, which I was told was caused by the potato. Hearing that 'Jo's Vegetable Sarsaparilla' did not disappoint and I have had no return of the old skin. It is a cure for indigestion and dyspepsia and the attendant face eruptions." Mrs. C. D. STUART, 3231 Mission street, S. F.

BE MADE A MISTAKE. Just Punishment for Insulting a Woman. A few weeks ago a certain dentist of a certain city was doing some dental work for a lady whose husband is a merchant, not a hundred miles from the Columbia cannery. Not satisfied with tending to his legitimate business, the dentist allowed his amorous ideas to get the better of his judgment, and made indecent proposals to the lady, which she resented. Even this did not cool his ardor, for he attempted to take liberties which she was obliged to resist with force. She threatened to tell her husband, and the dentist laughed at the idea, and told her that it was all right and she shouldn't mind that, as American ladies did not object to having an extra lover, and as she was a Scandinavian she certainly ought not to object to his proposals. Prompt to her word the lady went home and related the circumstance to her husband, who presented a bill until the dentist presented the bill for his services which had been agreed at $4. Yesterday the tooth manipulator came at the store, and presented a bill for $5, which the husband paid, and then said "You infernal scoundrel, you insulted my wife, and I'm going to pay you for it now." Pulling off his coat he suited the action to the word, and pummeled the dentist in good shape, then turned him out of the store. It is safe to assert that the tooth puller has learned a lesson which will teach him to respect ladies hereafter.

BOUND FOR ANTWERP. A Valuable Cargo of Oregon Wheat. Yesterday the British bark 'Foufarshire', Capt. Cobden Evans, cleared for Antwerp, Belgium. She carries 2,050 tons of wheat in 33,373 sacks, equaling 15,141 bushels, and valued at $26,500. This is a large cargo, considering the fact that the ship is of 1,200 tons register. Only six days were occupied in loading, and the same crew goes out that came in with her few weeks ago. The bark is an iron vessel, staunch and strong of excellent construction, and is in fine condition. She is one of the first vessels ever bound to Antwerp with wheat from Oregon. From there she will proceed to Australia, and then probably return to this port. If the weather is any way favorable the run to Australia, which is around Cape Horn, then up the South American coast, thence across the Atlantic and to the English channel, will be made in about 120 days.

At the Marquam Grand last evening this gentleman gave his final entertainment to a delighted audience, who applauded to the echo his marvelous mind reading exhibition. His powers are certainly mystifying in the extreme, and he is undoubtedly a physiological wonder. Yesterday's Oregonian. This is what you ought to have, in fact, you must have it, to fully enjoy life. Thousands are searching for it daily, and making the mistake of buying it for nothing. It is not a matter of dollars and cents, but of health and happiness. We guarantee that Electric Bitters, if used according to directions and the use persisted in, will bring you Good Digestion and out the demon dyspepsia and instead Euspepsy.
