With the compliments of the author, C. La Du, of Mt. Coffin, Wash., comes to The Morning Astorian office a big box of big strawberries, and as luscious as they are large. One picked off at random, weighed 2½ oz., and was 5 inches round the waist. There were lots more just as big. Thompson & Ross are the agents.

The steamer Oregon is due from San Francisco this morning, with the following passengers: A. Schrantz, T. Nelson, H. Williams, Mrs. Amie Hoffman, Mrs. Lewis Arden, F. M. Cleany, W. B. Wheeler, Mrs. W. Gordon, John Best, H. G. Wright, G. May, W. Endry and wife, W. B. Wilson, I. Capen, B. B. Rich, A. Crane, Rev. H. Stone, J. R. Letch and wife, Mrs. Crite Lewis, Mrs. Brenner, W. F. There would be no objection on the part of anybody to answering the questions of the census enumerators if all could see the manner in which their answers will be recorded. The principal objection to giving information concerning diseases, indebtedness, and that sort of thing is the supposition that these facts will become a matter of record, which is not true. The comes people take no note of individuals. They simply record facts. The name of a person is of no value to them, but the fact that he has a chronic or an incurable disease, the result of climatic conditions or occuration, as a matter of general interest. The names are not recorded, but only the result of the inquiry. mes are not recornit of the inquiry.

Service

The Union Pacific managers at Portland seem to think that anything will do for Astoria, but the people in this section of God's moral vineyard view the affair through different kinds of spectacles. A slight accident happens to the Telephone, and the pokey old Bonita is put on in her place. That old slow craft paid for herself in the very first year of her service, and should be retired with all the honors of war. Astoria stands uperect in her native dignity and suggests to the U. P. dignitaries, that if the Telephone cannot be used on this line, that some other boat equally as good be provided, and that no such good be provided, and that no such old mud scow as the Bonita be employed on the regular run.

Thursday night in going up from here she lost time, arriving much later than she should, thus delaying her departure Friday morning from Portland. More time was lost coming down the river yesterday and last night she arived here at 8.15, over four hours late, and left several hours behind time. In about three days more, she would In about three days more, she would lose a whole trip. Emphatically THE ASTORIAN protests against a repetition of that kind of business, in the name of the 8,000 residents of this city, and trusts that the occasion for such com

Getting Things in Shape.

The census enumerators met yester-day and had a dress rehearsal of their respective parts, preparatory to appearing to-day. It was great: Mack Monteith was heavy walking gent; Selig was in the center. R. S. Wm. Kelly was leading lady. In one scene Monteith, as the census enumerator, asks Kelly, who personates the head of the house, in the absence of her worser half.

"How many children?" says Monteith.

"Three," says Kelly. "What are they?" says Monteith.
"Mostly boys and girls," retorts

"How old are they?"
"One is 11, one 7, and 5 years."
"Are they married or single?"

Selig swears he won't serve unless the president or the superintendent of the census, or some other one fur-nishes him an interpreter, and the state supervisor says if he doesn't serve he'll have him arrested and sent on to Washington in chains. The life of a census taker is full of trouble.

A Jury Trial of a Civil Suit.

A Scrap of Faper Saves flor Life
It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time;
she weighed les than seventy pounds.
On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a larger bottle; it helped her more,
bought another and grew better fast,
continued its use and is now strong,
healthy, rosy, plump, weighing teo

A Lady Census Taker.

Seattle claims the distinction of hav-ing a female enumerator, in the person of Mrs. Mary L. Culbertson, a bright young married woman. It is probable, of Mrs. Mary L. Culbertson, a bright young married woman. It is probable, says the Post-Intelligencer, that Mrs. Culbertson will be the only lady enumerator in the United States, out of the 43,000 employed. Her husband, E. M. Culbertson, was out of work when the enumerators were first appointed, and he secured the position as a temporary means. Before the time of taking the oath he secured a permanent position as elerk in one of permanent position as clerk in one of the railroad offices, and his wife filed an application for the enumeratorship. As she is well acquainted in the district, the appointment was given her.

A CASE IN POINT. In our foreighters' days, pimples were at-tributed to diseased blood. But modern medicine has demonstrated that rich food does not create eruptions by fouling the blood, but retards digestion, which makes the stemach torpid, and the circulation the stemach torpid, and the circulation singuish, and in turn causes an enfeebled action of the pores which congest or become pumply. The modern theory therefore is not to treat the blood, but the stomach and liver, and it is under this new idea, that Joy's Vegetable Streamstill. table Sarsaparilla was conceived. It is wip-ing the old "blood disease" idea out of exce. A case in point: "I have had for retence. A case in point: "I have had for years spells of indigestion and dyspepsia and tried nearly everything. Finally I took one of the leading sarsaparilla. It caused pimples to break out on my face, which I was told was caused by the potash. Hearing that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla did not contain mineral, I sent for it. The pimples disappeared and I have had no return of the sid spells. It is a cure for indigestion and typeppia and the attendant face eruptions."

Scaly Skin Diseases

Cured by Cuticura My disease (psoriasts) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes and the physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head and my harr all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head and shoulders being the worst. The white scabs fell constantly from my head, shoulders and arms; the skin would theken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed it scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT and one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I thought the disease would leave a very deep sear, but the CUTICURA REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel it my duly to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever and so is my eyesight, I know of others who have received great benefit from their use.
