

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: TUESDAY, JUNE 10, 1930

ISSUED EVERY MORNING. J. F. HALLOMAN & COMPANY, Publishers and Proprietors.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Per Annum, $10.00; Per Month, $1.00; Single Copies, 5 Cents.

THE ASTORIAN GUARANTEES TO BE THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED ON THE COAST.

CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER: Cherries are beginning to be plentiful in market, though they still taste of silver.

Strawberries are now quite abundant here, and are sold at ten cents per box, or three boxes for two bits.

The Seaside home at Clatsop Beach will be opened about the 20th of this month, under the management of C. C. Cooper.

On Friday evening of next week, the Terpsichorean club will give their third and last social of the series at Liberty hall.

The recent cool weather has stopped the melting of snow in the mountains and the Willamette and Columbia rivers are falling.

Three weeks from Friday next is the natal day of the nation, and but little has been done here towards its proper commemoration.

Another excursion is coming here from Portland next Sunday, on the steamer J. T. Potter, and will also go to Fort Canby.

The printing committee appointed to advertise the Fourth of July celebration met last night, and will be heard from at an early date.

Real estate transactions took a lively jump yesterday, twenty-two deeds being filed for record, the considerations amounting to $9,043.

Yesterday Ole Albertson, a subject of the king of Norway, took out his first papers of American citizenship, dissolving all further connection with his sovereign.

Evidently thinking that after the rain of yesterday morning, the farmers would still cry for more, the weather clock last evening set down another installment of moisture.

The children of P. W. Weeks mourn the loss of a little pup with black muzzle, answering to the name of "Bruno".

In Justice May's court yesterday Ah Wong, Ah Sing and Ah Wing were arraigned for smoking opium, but their cases were continued until tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, each giving bail in the sum of $10.

In the police court yesterday before Judge Jewett, there was only one case, L. Berk having been charged with an indecent act. He failed to appear and the city is enriched by $5 which was the sum of his deposit, and was declared forfeited.

Yesterday a bond for a deed was filed, wherein Kaspar Andrege and wife agree to sell to Wingate & Stone, for the sum of $5,001.35, when the conditions are complied with, land in sections 32 and 33, township 6 north, range 10 west.

The Hillsboro Independent gives one of its men a rather left handed compliment when it says: Walter S. Bachman has left this office to assist in the census of the people. When he is about it we hope he will take advantage of the occasion to improve his own senses.

A civil suit has been brought in Justice May's court by the West Shore Mills company to collect $165 from the Columbia Foundry company, of which $135 is for lumber furnished, and $30 for water, the claim having been transferred by the Columbia Water company.

Another new lighthouse station is to be established in this district, at the mouth of the Steamer river where the government engineer, George W. Freeman, is now making the survey. It will be at Heceta Head. The sum of $80,000 was appropriated for that purpose by congress at its last session.

Several ladies in the city are delighted with the success of their canary birds in hatching, and are the fortunate possessors of numerous tiny specimens of canaries, which are interesting little things to look at. They have a hungry appearance, always opening their little bills for food.

A letter was yesterday received stating that the apparatus for the Athletic club passed Omaha three days ago. It consists of 14 boxes, 7 crates and 3 boxes. Agent Noyes, of the Union Pacific has telegraphed instructions to have it come through as quickly as possible and with no delays. It will probably arrive this week.

Yesterday Franco Branco was arrested for being drunk, and placed in the city jail, where he afterwards tried to light his pipe and set fire to the mattress in his cell. Fortunately it was discovered in time, or the city building would have been destroyed by fire, and the poor devil would probably have been burned to death.

Complaint from many sections in the state was made of the dry, warm weather of last week, and the need of rain and cooler weather to produce good crops. The rain of yesterday will doubtless be very acceptable to farmers, but just here comes the thought that generally speaking, they are a hard class for even the weather clerk to give them perfect satisfaction.

The Pacific Canning Co. is prepared to furnish pickers with salmon cans in quantities to suit. For rates and prices apply to J. F. Hallock, at 101 Commercial street, Astoria.

The Strawberry season is now at its prime. Thompson & Ross are receiving large quantities of this delicious fruit, and are ready to ship.

The Hoffman House Cigar: The La Palma cigar and other fine brands of cigars, the finest in the city, at Charley Green & Co., 111 Commercial street.

The largest stock of Strawberries in the town, 3 boxes for 25 cents at F. Ferrell's.

IN THE EARLY DAYS.

Reminiscences of One of the Old Pioneers of This Coast.

HOW MARE ISLAND WAS NAMED.

One of the oldest residents in Astoria is E. L. Blodgett, who though far advanced down the shady side of life, enjoys good health and the free and uninterrupted use of all his faculties, with memory unimpaired, and heart as young as in the days long since gone by.

The Argonauts and other early pioneers can boast of the "days of '49" but Mr. Blodgett can antedate that period by three years, for he came to this coast in 1846.

In that year he visited Santa Cruz, which was then known as Santa Cruz, San Francisco, then known as Yerba Buena, and was on his way to Sausalito and water for his party.

They camped on the island which is now occupied by the navy yard, but Mare Island was then uninhabited. The land appeared very fertile and all over it were the wild oats growing in profusion.

The party searched it all over but could find no living thing thereon except an old man, who was very fat, from living on the rich food and doing nothing. She was very shy, and apparently had been a long time away from human beings, probably having reached the island by swimming across from the mainland.

There was a consultation among the men, but none knew the name of the island or what to call it, when Mr. Blodgett said it evidently belonged to the old man, as he was the only one on the island, and they might as well call it Mare Island. The name was then adopted, and as such it has ever since been known.

In 1849 Mr. Blodgett came to Astoria, then but a trading post of the fur dealers and Indians, and remained here for 17 years, or until 1863, noting many changes in its growth and progress.

That year he returned to the coast, remaining for eight years on the Atlantic coast and returning here in 1871, and has remained here ever since.

A short time ago he went to Soquel, Santa Cruz county, California, and is here now for a few days, when he proposes to return to Soquel for an extended visit.

Forty-four years on the Pacific Coast is record which few living men can claim, and in conversation with such a man, the mind is carried back in imagination to the stirring scenes in which the old pioneers participated, and which are so familiar to us in the light of history, but to us they must seem far different than to the men who remember them in the strong light of personal recollections.

Less than half a century in the thickly settled eastern states witnesses but few changes, but on the weird Pacific coast that length of time indicates an eventful period fraught with changes almost as wonderful as the transformation scenes of fairy land, about which we heard so much in the sunny days of childhood when life was all a beautiful vision.

The giant forests have been prostrated, millions of treasure in the shape of the yellow, glistening sand and nuggets for which men risk life, have been dug from the rocky soil, cities and hamlets have crumbled into decay, the padres have long since passed to their reward, the Indians have disappeared, and over a million busy people now occupy the glorious land which in 1846 was a wild and almost unknown portion of Mexican territory.

These are some of the changes which Mr. Blodgett and his few surviving comrades have witnessed during these forty-four years.

The Astorian hopes that ere they be called away, the hardy pioneers may yet be spared for many years, to note still further the glorious march of improvement in this delightful portion of our loved America.

Major Walsh, a census enumerator of Douglas county, requests, through the columns of the Astorian, that the ladies in his district will be as lenient with him as possible while on his official duties, for the law requires him to ask pertinent questions, among which is their ages. He hopes the ladies he may interview will not make use of broomsticks and hot water.

Francis E. Willard, in her walk about Chicago, has discovered women who make shirts at 75 cents a dozen and furnish their own thread. She also finds children working twelve hours a day for a dollar a week.

Thanks For the Flag: At a meeting of the directors of School District No. 9, held June 6th, at the residence of Mr. J. E. DeBerry, the following resolution was adopted unanimously:

Resolved, That we, the directors of School District No. 9, do hereby tender our sincere thanks to Cushing Post, No. 14, G. A. R., for the beautiful flag presented by them to the District, and that a copy of this resolution be sent them and published in each of the daily papers.

E. YENBERG, Directors. W. H. BAKER, Jr.

For the very best Photos, go to Shuster. Perfection Fruit Jars, at Thompson & Ross.

Dr. F. Crang has returned to the city and resumed practice at the corner of Fourth and Cass streets, up stairs, formerly the Salvation Army barracks.

Lost: Sunday evening, near the Postoffice, a child's red, knit shoulder cape. Finder will please leave it at this office and be rewarded.

Board and Room Wanted: For woman and child in private family. References given. Address "M," this office.

Rooms and Board: A few rooms at Mrs. E. C. Holden's, with home cooking of Third and Main. Also a few table boards can be accommodated.

Latest styles in Sateens, Braided Sets, Buckles and other trappings. Lessons given in embroidery. Mrs. KAPLEY & Co.

Boots and Shoes made to order, all repairing neatly done at Th. Josephson's.

Thompson & Ross are handling the product of some of the choicest dairies, and can supply you with a No. 1 article of Butter or Cheese.

The Choicest Stock of French Canned Fruit of all kinds at the Columbia Bakery.

There are Some Nice Rooms: Over the Mikado candy store, suitable for offices, for rent. Apply to Alex Campbell.

For a good Shave, go to F. Ferrell.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

One of the Objects of Children's Day in the M. E. Church.

WHAT IT TRIES TO ACCOMPLISH.

For the benefit of many who failed to understand the object of raising money at the M. E. Church on Sunday evening, it may be well to state a few facts of interest.

The board of education of the Methodist Episcopal church is under the direction of the general conference and is by that body commended to the support of the entire church.

The work already accomplished by the board is very encouraging. It has aided nearly 2,900 worthy young persons to secure an education, most of whom without this aid would have been unable to continue their studies.

Probably more than three-fourths of these persons were preparing for the ministry, and hundreds of them for foreign mission service.

During the last year the board aided 800 beneficiaries. Of these 704 were gentlemen, 105 ladies; 619 were preparing for the ministry, 69 for foreign mission work, 76 for teaching.

The board has aided young people sixteen years of age and over, disbursed $400, the last year about $24,000.

Gratifying as is its present work it cannot now nearly meet the demands for aid. If its funds were sufficient it might help thousands more to a preparation for christian work. If every Sunday school would average at least a dime for every scholar the board might aid five times as many as it now can.

It is for the above reasons that the aid of the children of the Sabbath schools is invoked, and to this object will be applied the thirty dollars collected here last Sunday.

PERSONAL MENTION: Mrs. G. W. Morton has removed to Vancouver, Wash.

Miss Annie Woodfield has returned from an extended trip to Victoria, B. C.

J. Strauss and daughter Hita went to Portland last evening for a short visit.

Dr. F. Crang has returned to the city and resumed the practice of his profession.

Mr. Campbell, assistant keeper at Destruction island, is in the city for a few days absence, and will return to his station on the Manzanita.

Charles T. Smith has just returned from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, where he has been on a visit to his relatives. He takes charge as engineer of the steamer Suomi this morning.

Mary Jane Holmes, the popular novelist, and her husband, Daniel Holmes, of New York, were in Seattle last Friday, on their way to Alaska. Mrs. Holmes is one of the best known writers of America, and her books are admired by millions of people.

The Traveled Ape: The delay in commencing the census on the part of L. E. Selig, the enumerator for precinct number one is about ended, as he yesterday received a telegram from John Kelly, Eugene, Oregon, as follows:

"I have just received authority to employ an interpreter for you. Send name and rate of compensation desired, and probable duration of his services. The interpreter may be used in the other Astoria districts when you can spare him. Answer at once."

Mr. Selig replied and forwarded the name of councilman Fred Wickman as interpreter and the work will commence at once. No better man could have been secured, and it is hoped that the work will be done promptly and well.

PRACTICAL TIPS: An Astorizing Offer—Some of the Replies.

The San Francisco papers of recent date contained the following offer:

"As an evidence of the ability of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla to prevent sick headaches, we will give to the first ten responsible persons who will apply at our office a bottle free if they will agree to send their names to us, and we will admit the fact over their signatures."

This offer so startlingly asserted the efficiency of the remedy that many accepted, and the letters of the parties, nearly all of whom responded, are probably the most convincing testimonials that any remedy ever received. The following is a sample of those received:

"I have been subject to bilious headaches and constipation for several years past; but, having been compelled to take every other night or day, I would have a headache and I would have a headache and I would have a headache."

"I have been subject to bilious headaches and constipation for several years past; but, having been compelled to take every other night or day, I would have a headache and I would have a headache and I would have a headache."

WHITMAN HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

Annual Meeting and Election of Officers.

The many members of the Pioneer and Historical society of Oregon will be pleased to know that the society to whom they propose to transfer the monument for the late Dr. Whitman, is engaged in active work.

The following from the Walla Walla Journal of June 6th, tells its own story:

"Few men know that there is such a thing as a Whitman Historical society in this country, but there is and from all accounts it is in a good healthy condition. On Thursday afternoon they had a meeting at Chief Justice Anderson's mansion, at which the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. A. J. Anderson; first vice-president, Rev. Myron Kelly; second vice-president, Ed. G. Ross; secretary, Henry Kelling; treasurer, J. Anderson; historian, Prof. W. E. D. Lyman. The society aims to erect a suitable monument to the memory of the late Dr. Whitman, on Whitman's college ground in this city and we hope they will succeed. If we can't get a monument for $15,000 let's get one for $1,500. Look at the monument over the grave of the late Hon. Philip Blair. One like that will do honor to any man's memory, and it only cost $750."

MARINE NEWS AND NOTES: The British bark Kitty was yesterday afternoon released by deputy United States marshal Barry.

The three-masted schooner Norma, Capt. Small, has arrived from San Francisco.

The steamer M. J. McKinnon, Capt. C. H. Lewis, arrived from Roche harbor yesterday, having 1,000 barrels of lime and a small quantity of miscellaneous freight.

The British bark Kitty, Capt. W. E. Laird, cleared yesterday for Hongkong, China, near Hong Kong. Her cargo consists of 600,000 feet of lumber, valued at $24,000.

The steamer Lakme, Capt. S. F. Graves, came down the river and sailed for Fort Townsend yesterday, carrying 630 sheep and sundry articles of freight, mostly merchandise.

The barkentine Eureka, Capt. J. Peterson, has arrived from Redondo beach, Los Angeles county, Cal., where she took a load of lumber, returning in ballast.

The steamer Manasota went up to the buoy depot yesterday, and took on the second load of iron sections for the new light house at Destruction island. Today she takes on coal and will go up the coast as soon as the weather is favorable.

A View of the German Emperor: "What will the German emperor do next?" is now the general cry. He has done so many startling things already, and takes such evident delight in making men's tongues wag, that nobody would be much surprised if he were to proceed to conquer the world.

Men have already become convinced that he is sincerely a religious man, and that he has no ambition for bloodshed. A little time ago, he realized the senseless slaughter of a private soldier, carried a rifle, and ate of the soldier's ordinary fare, unlike Peter the Great, who did these things often enough in real earnest, mixing with the soldiers and lying down beside them—William II. took his little diversion all alone. No officer came to relieve him, and, in fact, only one or two faithful attendants were aware of what he was doing until he had done it. When the whole thing was over he was asked how he had enjoyed standing sentry at night, and he replied: "I was thinking all the time how many millions of poor wretches have gone through the drudgery of military life while loathing it, and have got killed in wars for the causes of which they did not care a button."

The Ellensburg Gazette is responsible for this paragraph: "Lost, strayed or stolen. The following property was reported as lost, strayed or stolen, and is being held by the Gazette, and is missing, and is whereabout unknown to the owner, to wit: Three hundred and thirty-eight daily newspapers; about 275 weekly newspapers; an immense quantity of circulars, and books and packages representing a cash value of about $50. The property was entrusted to the care of some of our citizens, and is being held by them, stolen, secreted or destroyed, to the great annoyance, injury and damage of the rightful owner. Any person who will deliver into our possession the above described property, with sufficient evidence to convict and properly punish the culprit who have wrongfully deprived us of the possession of the same, will be suitably rewarded. In the meantime, will our Uncle Samuel please rise and explain why such unlawful conduct on the part of his servants is permitted."

Is Consumption Incurable? Read the following: "Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: 'Was down with Abscess of Lungs, and friends and physicians gave me up as an incurable Consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and now my lungs are all right, and I am able to do the work of my life. It is the best medicine ever made.'"

Dr. J. E. DeBerry, D. C., of Astoria, Ohio, writes: 'I have been suffering from Consumption for many years, and have tried every remedy, but have failed to get any relief. I have now been taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and I feel like a new man. I have gained weight, and my lungs are all right. I am now able to do the work of my life.
