When Was Christ Born.

We have no proof that Dec. 25 is the date of the birth of Christ. At one time the beginning of the Chris-tian era was supposed to conform to the date above mentioned, and for that reason was called Christmas by all Christian nations. It is now gen-erally conceeded, by the best author-ities of the world, too, that Christ was not born Dec. 25, or any other time during the winter. The day now unanimously agreed upon is April 5, not April 5 of the "year of one," but April 5, B, C. 4. This error in our mode of reckoning time is supposed to have arisen from the fact that the dating of time as "A, D," was not intro. duced, into the church at least, until about the year 527 A. D.
