THE BIG CRUISER.

Will be Builded by the Cramps. Special to THE ASIGRIAN.]

Washington, June 16. Secretary Tracy late this afternoon decided to settle the contest over the contract for the big armored 8,100-ton cruiser, and awarded it to the Cramps, of Philadel-phia, at their bid of $2,985,000, and on their own plans. The secretary bases his action on two grounds: First, he believed it would be bad policy to allow contracts for both these cruisers to go to the Pacific Coast, and thus allow work of that kind at the Cramps yards to die out, and secondly, he de-cided that the Union Iron Works at San Francisco should not be over-crowded, as he wished them to build me of the ships that will be author some of the snps that will be authorized by this congress.

Investigation of the Cramps' plans for this cruiser developed the fact that they were substantially the same as the department plans, except as to boiler space and more room for coal and that it would have four engine rooms and longitudinal bulkheads. The secretary consulted with chief constructor Wilson and chief engineer Melville and finally decided to accepthe Cramps' bid as above noted.

Redding June 16.—That one of the peaks of Mount Shasta had disappeared, was noticeable from Redding this morning. Its absence from view created considerable comment and some anxiety. The top appears to have been cut short off and to have fallen into the crater below, whose depths have never been penetrated by the eye of man. It is thought that the absence of this old land mark may indicate further demonstrations of a volcanic nature. Fire has been long known to exist in the crater and lava formations of valleys and ridges below give rise to the interesting question, May not the convulsions of ages past be repeated in the near future? That the top has gone is beyond question.

FOURTEEN YEARS OF MINERY.

In his narrative of the "Count of Monte Cristo" Alexander Dumas endeavors to establish the proposition that those who have suffered most are that those who have suffered most are capable of enjoying most. If that be true, Count Langowski, an employe at Hudson's clothing store, Detroit, has "Always." an enormous capacity for appreciating the good things of life, though present straitened circumstances do not permit an excessive indulgence in them. The fumes of the mercury rot the bones, loosen the teeth and leave the man a total wreek. When I had partly regained my health after this experience I, with others, was set to digging holes in the ground. The holes were not designed for any use whatever, but were dug just to keep us at work, and it was while thus engaged that I received my first whipping. I was too weak to smooth the sides of a hole as nicely as the officer wanted it, and simply told him so. For that I was taken to the whipping bench, laid on my face and fastened down by three thongs, one of which was pessed over the legs, so are the neck, one over the legs, so are the neck, one over the legs, ranged that a man cannot me least movement. I have seen men killed at the third stroke. After my first whipping I received another of 125 lashes for calling a soldier a dog who had bayonetted a prisoner in cold blood. I was nearly killed and it was nearly a year before I could resume work. The scenes of brutality to be witnessed on all sides were simply frightful.
