CROFFUTT'S STORY.

A Malignant Fabrication That May Cost Him His Position.

OSBORNE URGED AS APPRAISER.

Special by California Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 22.—Senator Stewart indignantly denies the report telegraphed all over the country regarding a possible encounter between himself and senator Reagan of Texas.

It is understood that he traces the story's origin to Croffutt, chief of the geological survey bureau who stands next to Powell in authority. It is alleged that Croffutt maliciously circulated the story of a difficulty among the correspondents on Newspaper Row, and it is rumored that Stewart and his colleagues on the irrigation committee, Messrs. Mansly, Santers, and Casey, have laid the case before president Harrison and requested Croffutt's dismissal from the office, alleging incompetency among other things.

A Good Man for the Place.

Special to THE ASTORIAN.
WASHINGTON, June 22.—H. Z.
Osborne of Los Angeles, who was a prominent candidate for government printer, will arrive in Washington Tuesday. He is a candidate for position as a member of the board of appraisers, to be appointed under the provisions of a new administration bill, and will likely secure the place, if the Pacific coast is to be represented on the board, as he has a strong backing, both from California and the east.

SILVER STILL BRINGING.

Opinion of a New York Editor.
Special to THE ASTORIAN.
NEW YORK, June 22.—The Press, Washington special says the house committee will be likely to recommend the bill limiting purchases of silver to 4,500,000 ounces monthly, the whole to be the product of American mines.

Buying such an amount, would it be understood, insure acceptance by the treasury department, of nearly all the bullion produced in the country.

This provision, the limited commissioner says, ought to satisfy Colorado, Nevada, California and other Pacific slope advocates of free exchange. According to the terms of the proposed compromise, treasury notes will be made legal tender, redeemable in coin, but the secretary of the treasury will not be permitted to exercise discretion in redemption.

Such a bill it is confidently predicted will be passed by the house. In case the senate does not concur, a joint conference committee can be deputed upon to reach a settlement.

Cushman Conger will call the committee together to-morrow. Before the end of the month it is expected the house will pass the limited coinage bill.

THE FAMOUS RACER.

One of the Fastest Horses in the World.

Special to THE ASTORIAN.
NEW YORK, June 22.—Matt Byrnes, who looks after "Salvator," reports "Salvator" as daily becoming better.
The horse has not been pushed since the suburban victory, but has done all that has been asked to do. He cleans his manger out at every meal, and seems to be enjoying life. Byrnes does not believe any horse in the world can beat "Salvator" at the suburban distance just now.

A WONDERFUL SWIMMER.

Crosses East River Hound Head and Foot.

Special to THE ASTORIAN.
NEW YORK, June 22.—Gene Mer-cader, bound in 125 feet of hemp rope, with two straps over his arms and legs, swam across East River today, in forty-five minutes. In each hand he carried a two-pound iron dumb-bell, to show he did not use his hands to propel himself.

ANOTHER CYCLONE.

The Town of Pleasanton Destroyed.

Special to THE ASTORIAN.
OMAHA, Neb., June 22.—Pleasanton, a town of about 200 inhabitants, situated on the Union Pacific road, about 20 miles north of Kearney, was struck by a cyclone about 2 o'clock this afternoon, and nearly every house in the place destroyed. No one was killed so far as reported. The landlady of the hotel was badly hurt, and a druggist from Bertrand, named E.
E. Hovendabber, was struck on the head by a flying board and seriously wounded.

Did Not Legalize Gambling.

TRENTON, June 22.—A bill to legalize book making at race courses is dead. The governor had it filed in the state library along with other rejected bills.

Five Table Wine Delivered at 60 cents a gallon, to any part of the city. A fine line of pure California wines at low prices, at A.
W. Utzinger's Cosmopolitan saloon.

IT MAY COME TO ASTORIA.

The Great Northern Railroad Heading This Way.

NEW ROUTE TO THE PACIFIC.

Special by California Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 22.—The Great Northern railroad will soon be extended to the Pacific coast. The only thing that delays the beginning of the work is a definite selection of the route. The money necessary for the completion of the work has been raised in London, where in two days after the books were opened, $10,000, 000 was subscribed.

Work will certainly begin on the line to the coast before the first of July. Surveying parties have been in the field for a month, and have at least three passes through the mountains, and as many different routes. As soon as it is decided what is most feasible, the work of construction will begin, which will give the Great Northern the shortest route to the Pacific coast.

WHAT A MAN COSTS.

Diary of a Householder Who Spent $40,000 in Twenty-Six Years.

What does it cost to bring up a family?

A gentleman, whose experience will be recognized as having points in common with other householders, has preserved an account of the expense to which he has been put in rearing a family of four children. The following statement recently entered in his diary, is copied by the Indianapolis News:

"To-day I close my diary. Twenty-six years ago I undertook to keep an accurate statement of all my earnings and expenses, so that I might know actually how much it costs to live in the married state. Then all was anticipation. I and my young wife counted our resources and our expectations. I was receiving $15 a week, with a promise of more. I owned a house comfortable enough for a young couple to begin life in.
We were spared house rent, therefore, and our expenses have been small. I have been happily married, and I see that we have brought up four children in comparatively easy circumstances. My health has been good, and my earnings have been constantly increasing. I now receive $30 a week, and we still own the homestead, without any great additions to its wealth, except in an increased amount of furniture. I have little more money than I had when I first married. Perhaps, all told, I have spent about $40,000 in twenty-six years. I have never wanted for bread. Sometimes we have felt the need of more money. Three of the children are now making their own way. Next week the fourth graduates from school, having received the same schooling that the others have had, and will begin to look out for himself.

"I shall not necessarily be at any more expense on account of my children, and this diary properly ends now. Would I be willing to go through the same experience again of rearing a family? I asked my companion, who has borne the greater part, this same question, and I know my neighbors' come and children, but was compelled to say: 'Not for all that money could buy I would go through again what has been necessary to rear our family.'

"Expressed in dollars, the totals are these: In twenty-six years we have received from my wages and incidental moneys that came through my wife and the children $40,000—or say $40,000—besides the amount of increase in the permanent assets. Given these figures, having received the same wages, average per week, first five years, $7; next three, $9; remainder of the twenty-six years, $18 a week. For ten years it has taken on an average one pair of shoes per week for the family, including myself and wife. The newest anything I have ever known is the rapidity with which children wear out shoes. Only one thing approaches it—the high price of children's shoes. I never could understand how, with all the civilization of the age and the demand for cheaper requisites, children's shoes have not been reduced in price. The human shoe is a failure. No man not rich can afford to buy shoes for a family, and if I had to do it I would go to Timbuctoo, where neither horses, mules, camels nor men are shod."

A FISHERMAN'S FIANCEE.

Crazed by Grief, Drowns Herself
In a Portland Slough.

DAMAGED IN LAUNCHING.

Special by California Associated Press.
PORTLAND, June 22.—The body of Maggie Kern, aged seventeen, was found floating in a slough, in the southern portion of the city this morning. The girl had been missing since last Sunday night, her widowed mother saying nothing, thinking that the girl had eloped. The deceased was affianced to a fisherman, to whom she had written if he did not come to Portland to see her previous to last Sunday she would end her life. The inquest will be held to-morrow.

Damaged in Launching.

Special to THE ASTORIAN.
PORTLAND, June 22.—When the Union Pacific's new steamer Victoria, for the Sound trade, was launched here last week, she struck the bottom of the river, damaging the boat so much that it will be necessary for her completion five or six weeks.
The damage is considerable.

AN ABLE-BODIED YARN

A Thousand Nevada Wolves Cleaned Out by a Fiddler.

A Mill Creek miner thus winds up the story of a fight between a thousand wolves that besieged his cabin one night recently, in the mountains of that region, incited to frenzy by the notes of the aforesaid miner's fiddle, says the Virginia City Chronicle:

"I fiddled and they fit and eat each other till the band began to thin out.
Every time I gave an extra rap on the E string they howled louder and picked in afresh. They kept it up for three hours when there wasn't more than forty or fifty left, and they so blamed me that they could hardly walk."

"But I fiddled and they fit for a second time. When one threw up on the sponge, the others bolted him in a trinking. By and by there wasn't any more left. They will return to and they fit and feasted."

"When they got down to three each one laid hold of another's tail, and chewed for glory. The ring kept growing smaller, but I fiddled and they cleaned out the wolves. I had a bunch of hair left, and that I blew away down the hill. The snow was algebra with blood and trampled down ten feet. Heads and bones were strung all down the canyon, and there was the enough in sight to stuff a circusian's trunk for the dandiest dog fight I ever saw."

The Home Paper.

When you are married to the brightest and best girl in the country, what do you look for that notice of her in the papers? Do you want to be nearly every body else? To your home paper. When your home was invaded by the blue eyed girl or the bouncing baby boy, to whom did you make it your business to convey the news? To your home paper. When the time and the weight? To the editor of the home paper. In after years when some manly young fellow takes the blue eyed girl to a home of his own, or your once bouncing baby, now a man—is given a partnership in a store because he has just brought home somebody else's daughter and set up an establishment of his own, to whom do you personally exhibit presents and lead up with bride's cake and to whom do you look for that complete description of the interesting event down to the last pickle fork and individual salt which, once more means much to you and a very few others, and so little to anybody else?
To this same editor of that same home paper.

And when trouble comes in the home and you add to your possession that desolate bit of reality, the lot in the cemetery, and somehow the son doesn't seem to shine just as it used to, and there's the flutter of crape at the door and odor of the tube rose in the front parlor, and the chair that has for years been beside yours at the fireside and opposite you at the table is vacant—when all this happens, who makes it his business to write in tender strains of the one whose life has grown to be a part of yours, and whose sympathy and good deeds to others have long been known and recognized if never publicly announced?

The editor of the home paper; and he's only too willing to do the little that he can to help you over the hard spot in the road.

And all these years have you advertised in this home paper, and done what you could to help the editor fight your battles in municipal and county matters, and encourage him as he has worked to build the town and bring business to it?—Geo. W. Martin.

Nellie McHenry, who has captured all the cities by her clever acting will appear at Ross' opera house next Thursday, with her clever company in "Lady Peggy." The sale of reserved seats will begin to-morrow at the New York Novelty Store.

BISMARCK INTERVIEWED.

Severe Laws and No Concessions to Murderous Nihilists.

HE EULOGIZES CAPRIVI.

Special by California Associated Press.
BERLIN, June 22.—Prince Bismarck has been interviewed again, and when asked to give his impression on the subject of Nihilism in Russia, he said:

"No concessions can be made to Nihilists who will be murderers one and all. The only way to deal with them, is to strengthen and sharpen the law, to bring it to bear upon them with increased stringency. There can be no question of yielding to those wretches.
Nothing kindly or conciliatory can be offered to people who do not even know what they want, but are perfectly ready at all times to commit any sort of and number of heinous crimes."

"As for Egypt and Germany," said Bismarck, emphatically, "I regard it as an impossibility that these countries should be at war. It is singularly unlikely that they should ever quarrel seriously. Were that to happen it might lead to a continental conflict, even if Egypt should abstain from taking active part against the United States by sea or land. But this contingency is as widely improbable as that we should draw swords against Egypt. We are both fair dealing people, who know one another well, and we respect one another sincerely."

Bismarck spoke favorably of Caprivi as "a fine soldier, a man of remarkable intelligence, and varied information, and above all a thorough gentleman.
Caprivi's appointment as reichskanzler, was an absolute surprise. He accepted it from a lofty and loyal sense of duty, free from any charge of overweighting personal ambition. He has a clear head, a good heart, generous nature, great working powers, and is altogether a first class man."

Venice, Gondolas, Honey-moon!
Special to THE ASTORIAN.

LONDON, June 22.—Mary Anderson Navarro and her husband, are enjoying themselves in Venice. The happy marriage is over, and they will return to the United States, probably in September.

An Official Document.

Gust Wilson, the Russian vice-consul, who left here last evening, on an official visit to the czar of all the Rus-sias, has not been to his native land for forty-six years. He is armed with an official document in the form of a passport issued by the Russian consul in San Francisco. It is a large four page sheet of heavy paper, printed in Russian and on the other in French, and commends the bearer as a loyal subject of the czar, who has faithfully represented Russia in the United States, and is entitled to the respect and protection of all officials of that government, and a safe return to America.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became a Girl, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Remember the Austin house at the Seaside is open the year round.

The Steamer Eclipse.

and Swensen's Landing, on Saturdays, leaving Knappa at 7:30 A. M., and leaving Wilson & Fisher's dock at 2 P. M. For freight or passage apply to the captain, on board.

Fresh Bread and Cakes every day at Columbia Bakery. All orders delivered to all parts of the city.

The latest style of Gents' Boots and Shoes at
P. J. GOODMAN'S.

All the patent medicines advertised in this paper, together with the choicest perfumery, and toilet articles etc., can be bought at the lowest prices at J. W.
Conn's drug store, opposite Occident Hotel, Astoria.

also flexible hand-turned French Kids, at P. J. Goodman's.

S'JACOBS OIL
Cures
Backache,
Backache,
Backache.

Martinez, Cal., October 2, 1888.
I could hardly walk or lie down from lame-back; suffered from rheumatism, and permanently cured me, other remedies having failed to do so.
W. H. HETTMAN.

Cleveland, Ind., Feb. 4, 1887.
From a bad cold pains settled in my back and I suffered greatly; continued to bed and could hardly move or turn. I tried S. Jacobs Oil, which cured me. I do not fear rheumatism more.

ACROSS THE COLUMBIA.

Visit to Knappton and Frankfort, Washington.

ASTORIA SEEN FROM THE RIVER.

Though yesterday was not as fine a day for an excursion as might have been, in consequence of the rain and the hazy atmosphere, yet a representative of THE ASTORIAN improved the opportunity of taking a view of Astoria from the river and visiting the Washington shore. Under the guidance of Capt. J. H. Lameley, the steamer Wenona was only twenty-five minutes in going across to Knappton, six miles over the broad Columbia river, where several passengers were landed.

At the wharf of the Columbia mills, owned by the Northwestern lumber company, were two vessels. One was the barkentine North Bend, which is nearly loaded with lumber, and the other was the handsome four-masted schooner Novelty, which had just arrived in ballast, from San Francisco.

Making but a short stop at Knapp-ton, the steamer went up the river about two miles to the new town of Frankfort. A substantial improvement is a long wharf which has just been erected and reaches to the channel, so that large vessels can make fast at the end and load or unload cargoes.

A tract of 203 acres was sold for $7,000 some time ago, but it has been laid out in blocks and lots, with broad streets, and lots are selling rapidly, some of them bringing several hundred dollars each. Three large two-story buildings are up, one not yet completed, though the lower floor was used on Saturday night for a ball.
The front or store windows had not arrived, but the end was temporarily boarded up, so the room could be used for a dance.

Difficultly experienced in procuring lumber, for though in the very midst of timber, and surrounded on three sides with heavy forests, there is so much lumber shipped away, that it is difficult to procure lumber for home use. The original owner of the tract, after selling 203 acres as above stated, reserved four acres for a homestead, and now refuses $7,000 for it.

Owners of Frankfort property feel confident that a railroad will soon reach them, attracted by the rich timber and by the fine advantages for connection with deep water commerce.

Just below Frankfort is a tract of twenty acres, a boat puts off to meet and is claimed for timber land entry, but is contested by another man, who states that it is mostly valuable for agricultural purposes, yet it is very rocky, quite steep, in some places almost a perpendicular cliff, and could never be plowed. It is located in section ten, township nine north, range nine west.
