

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: WEDNESDAY, JUNE 23, 1920. ISSUED EVERY MORNING.

J. F. HALLORAN & COMPANY, Publishers and Proprietors.

ASTORIAN BUILDING, 115 CASS STREET.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Single copy, 10 cents; per month, $2.75; per year, $27.00.

THE ASTORIAN guarantees to its subscribers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia River.

CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER: The McKlass minstrels will be at Liberty hall to-night.

Fresh salmon retails at twenty cents a pound—in San Francisco.

The Astoria Street Railway Co. is putting in a switch at the intersection of Second and Spruce streets.

Reserved seats at the New York Novelty Store for the Nellie McHenry performance to-morrow night.

If you are going to advertise, why not put your advertisement in a paper that has the circulation and that is of value to you—THE ASTORIAN?

A thing that isn't worth advertising isn't worth buying. People who don't advertise confess, by their negative action, the worthlessness of their wares.

A warrant was issued yesterday by Justice May for the arrest of Con Roordan, the pugilist, who is accused by G. W. Fisher of trying to leave the state and defrauding him of a bond bill.

The title to the thriving town of Des Moines, situated between Tacoma and Seattle, is in jeopardy. The site was located on a tax title and now a claimant has come forward with a warranty deed to the 154 acres on which it is situated.

Two preemption claimants proved up before the county clerk yesterday. One was Edward C. Lewis for the northwest 1/4 of section 13, township 6 north, range 10 west, and the other was Fred W. Johnson for the northwest 1/4 of the same section.

The Canadian Pacific Company's steamer Saraburg, which used to ply between here and Victoria, is reported to be a complete wreck off Queen Charlotte island, and supposed to have gone to the bottom.

An encounter with the Bothyn some months ago near Portland, and had a blind way of running. She was insured for $100,000.

A cedar tree on J. M. Hackett's place, near Kalama, is 18 feet through and 350 feet high. Whole townships of land in that section are covered with fir trees which are from 250 to 350 feet high.

One of the residents of that locality built a house 22x30, 1 1/2 stories high, and a barn 22x36 feet out of the lumber from one tree and piles of lumber and fence posts left.

A NEW ROAD BUILDING: Which Will Be a Great Convenience.

The residents of the southwest corner of the coast line of the county are at last to have a road. Several public spirited citizens, grown tired of waiting, have subscribed the money themselves, and have contracted with C. W. Carnahan to build about six miles of road from the Seaside down the Necanicum to Elk Creek.

The contract price is $3,000. H. E. L. Logan gave $1,500, the proprietors of Seal Rock Beach $900, and other parties $800.

This road will, indeed, "fill a long felt want." It will give an outlet to about fifty families in that vicinity, and also a straight road to Tillamook. When the road is completed people won't have to go via Portland to Tillamook, but can go via Seaside and Elk Creek. The road is to be finished and open for travel by the 1st of next month.

BIG PYTHIAN CONCLAVE.

Preparations Going Ahead Rapidly at Milwaukee.

THE MOST IMPORTANT SECRET SOCIETY GATHERING IN 1890.

Many Attractive Features—Parades, Prize Drills, Fire-works, Band Concerts, Etc.—July 7-12 the Date.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 20. No better choice could possibly have been made than Milwaukee for the place of holding the sixteenth session of the Supreme Lodge, Knights of Pythias of the World and the first encampment of the Uniform Rank of that order. The "Cream City," as it is called because of the fact that its houses are built of cream-colored brick, is the most beautiful in its location and artificial adornment of any city on the Great Lakes.

Its harbor has been likened by many travelers to the Bay of Naples. The high bank of the northern border of the bay is lined with handsome residences and parks, while the great factories at the extreme southern extremity, away from the residences, belch forth a visible Vesuvius of smoke. The streets are well kept, and within a half-hour's ride are numerous beauty-spots well worth a visit on a summer's day.

While the people of the United States and Canada are on the eve of a visit to Milwaukee during the week of the great Biennial Conclave, the citizens of this fair city are anxiously at work preparing for the quarter of a million strangers who will be their guests during the week of July 7-12 next.

The first requisite, of course, is the money question, and this has been well attended to. Not less than $30,000 have been placed at the disposal of the committee in charge of the arrangements for the conclave. Mayor George W. Peck is president of this committee, which holds weekly meetings at the convenient headquarters at 406 East Water street. The headquarters are in charge of W. C. Williams, who has been selected manager of the conclave.

The most important of which are those on hotels and quarters, prize drill and parade, camps, fireworks, band music, subsistence, invitations and halls and decorations.

The committee on hotels and quarters is in charge of D. S. Rose, and by an excellent system he is rapidly assigning those who desire quarters to convenient places which have been secured. The subsistence committee, under charge of J. J. Heiser, has completed arrangements to feed thousands of people at the camp grounds, while many of those in camp will erect and manage their own mess tents.

Special advantages will be supplied newspaper representatives for securing the news, through a committee of the Milwaukee Press Club headed by its president, H. P. Myrick. The committee on invitations has extended to the governors of all the states and territories a cordial invitation to be present with their staffs, and not less than a dozen have already given a favorable response.

A large page "clearing house" will insure safe care for such property, although intending visitors are advised to bring as little baggage as possible. The camp committee, of which J. P. Hoskins is chairman, has its work well under way. Chairman Hamilton, of the fire works committee, expresses the opinion that his fireworks contract is the best ever made in the United States. Col. Watrous, who is to lead the parade of uniformed Knights, can be relied upon to make his part a big success. And so all through the list.

Wisconsin will at the Supreme Lodge undoubtedly be honored by the election of the present supreme vice-chancellor, George B. Shaw, of Eau Claire, to the highest office in order, that of supreme Chancellor; and the order will be honored as well by Mr. Shaw's election to that post.

If the manifold attractions of the Conclave are not sufficient to bring the reader to Milwaukee during the week of July 7-12, he should take advantage of the low railroad fares, which will then prevail, to visit the numerous lake resorts of Wisconsin, about which might be written a dozen interesting letters.

WALTER W. POLLOCK.

HE WAS ASHAMED To Ask Again, but His Frank Letter Got It for Him.

A few months ago one of the unfortunate inmates in the San Francisco Alms house was inspired by the sensational statements in the newspapers with the belief that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla would help him. But without money, how to get it was the question. Finally he wrote to the Edwin W. Joy Co., appealing to their generosity, and it was not unheeded, the coveted preparation being sent by the next parcel delivery. Its effect is best told in a subsequent letter, from which we quote the following:—"I suppose you know me by this writing, and my circumstances are condition. I am a poor fellow, but I am now so anxious to keep it up; but you see how it is."

ed by the enterprising business men of this city to pay expenses of entertaining the visiting Knights. A magnificent camp ground has been selected on the western edge of the city, in which 12,000 Uniform Knights will go into camp, fully 3,500 tents being furnished by the Milwaukee Committee free of charge.

The detailed programme of the week's performance has been published far and wide, and a most attractive programme it is. The parade of uniformed and arm-in-arm Knights, which will start promptly at 4 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, July 8, will be the finest semi-military display ever seen in the West. Not less than 12,000 uniformed Knights are expected to participate in the parade, but as reports come in from all directions there are strong indications that the number will be increased to 15,000 or more. Cash drill-prizes aggregating $4,000 have been offered to competing divisions, of which there will be not less than fifty. Especial efforts are being made to secure a large array of brass bands. Prizes amounting to $800 will be awarded to competing bands in a big concert to be held at Schlitz Park on Wednesday evening. On Friday evening the Exposition building will be the scene of another monster concert, in which all the bands will join. There will be nearly a thousand instruments, under the direction of Mr. T. P. Brooke of Minneapolis. The vocal chorus will be given with an accompaniment of twenty anvils, and the grand auditorium will be illuminated as the strokes of the hammers fall upon the anvils by the light of a hundred flame-bear torches.

The fireworks display on Thursday evening will close the week's visit to Milwaukee by any part of the United States. It will be given at Cold Spring park, which will also be used for the military maneuvers. Comfortable seats will be provided for 3,000 or 4,000 persons in the amphitheater, and the other thousands will find good opportunity in the wide park grounds to see the brilliant display of elaborate set pieces, which will last for more than an hour. Now should be forgotten the mammoth reception to the Supreme Lodge delegates, which will be tendered at the Exposition building by the State of Wisconsin, represented by its chief executive, Gov. W. B. Hess, by the city of Milwaukee, represented by Mayor George W. Peck; and by the Knights of Pythias order in Wisconsin, represented by Grand Chancellor Hoskins.

Perhaps the most important matter to come before the Supreme Lodge will be the question of declaring illegal all associations doing a life insurance business in Illinois under a name of the order, with the exception of the Endowment Rank, which alone is recognized by the Supreme Lodge. In numerous states life insurance associations have been instituted under the name of the order, thereby trespassing upon the ground which belongs to it solely; but inasmuch as some of the state legislatures have been so careless as to increase the efficiency and success of the Endowment Rank by elevating the members of the board of Control to the position of Supreme Lodge officers.

The claim of the Uniform Rank to direct representation in the Supreme Lodge will come up for discussion. This question has been mooted only within the last two or three months by the members of that rank. Such a change would cause an entire reorganizing of the order regarding representation in the Supreme Lodge.

The supreme Temple of Pythias Sisters will hold its first meeting on Tuesday, July 13, and will remain in session during the week. The order was established only a little more than a year ago, and now has a membership of 4,000, with seven grand temples, and aims to be to the Pythias order what the Sisters of Rebecca are to the Old Fellows. They will do more than the work of the order during its meeting here. The degree staff of Temple No. 1, of Warsaw, Ind., will come in a special car and will complete the work on Wednesday evening.

A large joint executive committee of Milwaukee citizens and members of the local Knights of Pythias lodges has charge of the arrangements for the Conclave. Mayor George W. Peck is president of this committee, which holds weekly meetings at the convenient headquarters at 406 East Water street. The headquarters are in charge of W. C. Williams, who has been selected manager of the conclave.

An Elegant Badge.

The gold badge to be presented by J. Strauss to the winner of the foot race on the Fourth is a beautiful gift. It consists of two bars and a medalion or pendant, connected by delicate gold chains on each side. On the top bar are engraved the words "From J. Strauss," the second bar is blank on which will be engraved the name of the winner. The pendant is circular, about the size of a half dollar on which is the figure of a man running. Around the pendant is a gold ribbon, in beignagonal style, thus presenting seven smooth surfaces for inscriptions. On the top and the upper surface each side, are the words "Champion-yards Runner," the distance to be engraved afterwards. The two surfaces each side are blank and on the two either side the bottom point of the ribbon are engraved "July 4th, 1890." Whoever wins it will have a fine ornament to wear on his breast.

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose and covering my face. It ran into my eyes and the physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders and my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head and shoulders being the worst. The white scales fell constantly from my head, shoulders and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars I was pronounced incurable by a board of CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVANT I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles CUTICURA RESOLVANT and one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I thought the disease would leave a very deep scar, but the CUTICURA REMEDIES cure it without any scars. I was covered with a pea what I suffered before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel my duty to try and advise them. My hair is restored as good as ever and so is my eyesight. I know of others who have received great benefit from their use.

More Rolling Stock. Yesterday afternoon L. A. Loomis, president of the Ivesco R. & N. Co., arrived in this city, and goes up to Portland this morning by steamer. There he will arrange to have brought down from Kalama a new locomotive and a passenger coach, made for his railroad from Ivesco to Sealand.

The locomotive weighs nearly twenty tons and was made by H. K. Porter & Co., at Pittsburgh, Penn. The coach is a first class passenger, and is from the famous car works at Wilmington, Delaware.

Warm weather often causes extreme tired feeling and debility, and in the weakened condition of the system, diseases arising from impure blood are liable to appear. To gain strength, to overcome disease, and to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, take Hood's Sarsaparilla.
